The Exxon Valdez Disaster Readings On A Modern Social Problem:

The Exxon Valdez Disaster J. Steven Picou, Duane A. Gill, Maurie J. Cohen, 2008-01-01 The Development Of This Volume Reflects The Collective Research Interests Of The Editors Over The Last Seven Years On The Exxon Disaster In Alaska Picou And Gill First Conducted Fieldwork In 1989 Five Months After The Exxon Valdez Oil Spill In 1991 Picou Gill And Cohen Spent Two And One Half Months In Southcentral Alaska Collecting Sociological And Economic Data On The Oil Spill Since That Time Picou And Gill Have Continued To Collect Data And Conduct Fieldwork In Alaska Over The Years We Have Shared Our Varied Experiences And Research Findings As Well As Our Understanding Of This Disaster In The Classroom And With Our Colleagues And Friends Their Response Has Been One Of Extreme Interest Fascination And Concern The Inspiration For This Book Emerged From The Fact That Relatively Little Information Had Been Systematically Assembled And Made Available On This Event As A Technological Disaster Our Primary Objective In Compiling This Volume Was To Provide A General Introduction To The Social Problem Of Technological Disasters In Terms Of A Case Study Of The Largest Oil Spill In North American History The 1989 Exxon Valdez Oil Spill Encyclopedia of Technological Hazards and Disasters in the Social Sciences Duane A. Gill, Liesel A. Ritchie, Nnenia M. Campbell, 2024-11-08 The Encyclopedia of Technological Hazards and Disasters in the Social Sciences brings together an array of global experts to investigate explore and analyse human caused disaster events Providing insights into both the origins and aftermaths of disaster events it offers advanced understanding of a broad range of disaster events facing society during the Anthropocene The Exxon Valdez Disaster J. Steven Picou, 1999 The development of this volume reflects the collective research interests of the editors over the last seven years on the Exxon disaster in Alaska Their primary objective in compiling this volume was to provide a general introduction to the social problem of technological disasters in terms of a case study of the largest oil spill in North American history the 1989 Exxon Valdez oil spill They have used a number of these articles as required readings in courses such as social problems environmental sociology sociology of disasters human ecology the community and environmental economics Those reprinted in this text proved to be both informative and interesting to a broad cross section of students from undergraduate to graduate This volume will be of interest to researchers and a broad spectrum of the general public Pref Risk in the Modern Age NA NA, 2019-06-12 Environmental decision making in recent decades has become increasingly dependent on scientific expertise Grounded in universal principles of knowledge these expert evaluations often depart from the assessments of ordinary members of the public Whether the issue is nuclear power genetic testing food safety or biodiversity conservation lay people are increasingly charging experts with being ignorant of local contextual considerations Scientists as well as many policy makers in turn contend that the public is hopelessly irrational in gauging environmental risks A growing group of social theorists has begun to take a keen interest in these disputes because risk captures central themes of late modernity Increasing individualization emerging new social movements and declining public trust in key institutions are

notions that loom large in these debates Highlighting both theoretical and empirical perspectives this volume brings together a distinguished group of environmental sociologists who critique and extend current thinking on what it means to live in a risk society

Volatile Places Valerie Gunter, Steve Kroll-Smith, 2006-11-22 Volatile Places A Sociology of Communities and Environmental Controversies is a thoughtful guide to the spirited public controversies that inevitably occur when environments and human communities collide The movie An Inconvenient Truth based on the environmental activism of Al Gore and the devastation of Hurricane Katrina are specifically highlighted Authors Valerie Gunter and Steve Kroll Smith begin with a simple observation and offer a provocative case study approach to the investigation of community and environmental controversies Key Features Compels students with personal narrative Co author Valerie Gunter who was teaching at the University of New Orleans when Hurricane Katrina struck gives her personal standpoint of this tragedy Creates a dramatic story around the controversy Each case study illustrates a local environmental conflict and is written to capture students attention Provides a unique way to view environmental conflicts The book illustrates the importance of each perspective and local knowledge when making decisions about the environment Makes connections with previous chapters The chapters are integrated to create a strong sense for the multifaceted approach to the study of community and environmental controversies Includes portfolios in each chapter as well as concept and theory boxes Students are inspired to engage in spirited thinking original research and action Intended Audience This text is designed for advanced undergraduate and graduate courses in Environmental Sociology It is also an ideal text for Social Problems courses focusing on environmental issues

Gold Metal Waters Brad T. Clark, Peter McCormick, 2021-09-01 Gold Metal Waters presents a uniquely inter and transdisciplinary examination into the August 2015 Gold King Mine spill in Silverton Colorado when more than three million gallons of subterranean mine water carrying 880 000 pounds of heavy metals spilled into a tributary of the Animas River The book illuminates the ongoing ecological economic political social and cultural significance of a regional event with far reaching implications showing how this natural and technical disaster has affected and continues to affect local and national communities including Native American reservations as well as agriculture and wildlife in the region This singular event is surveyed and interpreted from multiple diverse perspectives college professors students and scientists and activists from a range of academic and epistemological backgrounds with each chapter reflecting unique professional and personal experiences Contributors examine both the context for this event and responses to it embedding this discussion within the broader context of the tens of thousands of mines leaking pollutants into waterways and soils throughout Colorado and the failure to adequately mitigate the larger ongoing crisis The Gold King Mine spill was the catalyst that finally brought Superfund listing to the Silverton area it was a truly sensational event in many respects Gold Metal Waters will be of interest to students and scholars in all disciplines but especially in environmental history western history mining history politics and communication as well as general readers concerned with human relationships with the environment Contributors Alane

Browne,2015-09-01 The vivid story of one family's ordeal in Hurricane Katrina offers completely new and highly relevant insights into disaster response Susanna Hoffman disaster anthropologist and director Hoffman Consulting Standing in the Need presents an intimate account of an African American family's experience after Hurricane Katrina Before the storm struck this family of one hundred fifty members lived in the bayou communities of St Bernard Parish just outside New Orleans Rooted there like the wild red iris of the coastal wetlands the family had gathered for generations to cook and share homemade seafood meals savor conversation and refresh their interconnected lives In this lively narrative Katherine Browne weaves together voices and experiences from eight years of post Katrina research Her story documents the heartbreaking struggles to remake life after everyone in the family faced ruin Cast against a recovery landscape managed by outsiders the efforts of family members to help themselves could get no traction outsiders undermined any sense of their control over the process In the end the insights of the story offer hope Written for a broad audience and supported by an array of photographs and graphics Standing in the Need offers readers an inside view of life at its most vulnerable Standing in the Need delivers an epic story about disaster and the haunting problems imposed by our recovery culture The lesson in these pages is of urgent concern as the world moves into weather we have never seen before Mindy Fullilove MD Mailman School of Public Health Columbia University Browne suggests that recovery agencies could reduce suffering and speed healing by learning about the history culture and distinctive customs and needs of disaster impacted communities Contemporary Sociology

Reculturing Museums Doris B. Ash,2022-02-27 Reculturing Museums takes a unified sociocultural theoretical approach to analyze the many conflicts museums experience in the 21st century Embracing conflict Ash asks What can practitioners and researchers do to create the change they want to see when old systems remain stubbornly in place Using a unified sociocultural cultural historical activity theoretical approach to analyzing historically bound conflicts that plague museums each chapter is organized around a central contradiction including finances Who will pay for museums demographic shifts Who will come to museums the roles of narratives Whose story is it ownership of objects Who owns the artifact and learning and teaching What is learning and how can we teach equitably The reculturing stance taken by Ash promotes social justice and equity making change first within museums called inreach rather than outside the museum called outreach challenges existing norms is sensitive to neoliberal and deficit ideologies and pays attention to the structure agency dialectic Reculturing Museums will be essential reading for academics students museum practitioners educational researchers and others who care about museums and want to ensure that all people have equal access to the activities objects and ideas residing in them Where the Rivers Meet Carly A. Dokis,2015-07-01 Oil and gas companies now recognize that industrial projects in the Canadian North can only succeed if Aboriginal communities are involved in decision making processes Are Aboriginal concerns appropriately addressed through current consultation and participatory processes Where the Rivers Meet is an ethnographic account of Sahtu Dene involvement in the environmental assessment of the Mackenzie Gas Project a massive pipeline that if completed would have unprecedented effects on Aboriginal communities in the North Carly A Dokis reveals that while there has been some progress in establishing avenues for Dene participation in decision making the structure of participatory and consultation processes fails to meet the expectations of local people by requiring them to participate in ways that are incommensurable with their experiential knowledge and understandings of the environment Ultimately Dokis finds that the evaluation of such projects remains rooted in non local beliefs about the nature of the environment the commodification of land and the inevitability of a hydrocarbon based economy General

Technical Report PNW-GTR ,2002 Transforming Power Dietrich Keeschull,2017-09-08 In 1934 Lewis Mumford critiqued the industrial energy system as a key source of authoritarian economic and political tendencies in modern life Recent debate continues to engage issues of energy authoritarianism focusing on the contest between energy driven globalization the spread of energy deregulation and the simultaneous consolidation of the oil coal and gas industries and the so called sustainable energy strategy that celebrates the local and community scale characteristics of renewable energy Including theoretical inquiries and case studies by distinguished writers Transforming Power is divided into three parts Energy Environment and Society The Politics of Conventional Energy and The Politics of Sustainable Energy It interrogates current contemporary energy assumptions exploring the reflexive relationship between energy environment and society and examining energy as a social project Some of these have promised a prosperous future founded upon technological advances that further modernize the modern energy system such as inherently safe nuclear power environmentally friendly coal gasification and the advent of a wealthier cleaner world powered by fuel cells and the green technologies said by advocates to prefigure a revival of human scale development local self determination and a commitment to ecological balance br This volume offers a timely engagement of the social issues surrounding energy conflicts and contradictions It will be of interest to policymakers energy and environmental experts sociologists and historians of technology The Sociology of Katrina David L. Brunsma,David Overfelt,Steven J. Picou,2010-09-16 The second edition of The Sociology of Katrina brings together the nation s top sociological researchers in an effort to deepen our understanding of the modern catastrophe that is Hurricane Katrina Five years after the storm its profound impact continues to be felt This new edition explores emerging themes as well as ongoing issues that continue to besiege survivors The book has been updated and revised throughout from data about recovery efforts and environmental conditions to discussions of major social issues in education health care the economy and crime The authors thoroughly review the important topic of recovery both in New Orleans and in the wider area of the Mississippi Gulf Coast This new edition features a new chapter focused on the Katrina experience for people in the primary impact area or ground zero five years after the storm This chapter uncovers many challenges in overcoming the critical problems caused by the storm of the century From this important update of the acclaimed first edition it is apparent that the storm is not over as Katrina continues to generate political economic community and personal controversy

Ecological Modernisation Around the World Arthur P.J. Mol, David A. Sonnenfeld, 2014-04-08 The idea of ecological modernisation originated in Western Europe in the 1980s gaining attention around the world by the late 1990s At the core of this social scientific and policy oriented approach is the view that contemporary societies have the capability of dealing with their environmental crises Experiences in some countries demonstrate that modern institutions can incorporate environmental interests into their daily routines Elsewhere economic and political interests dominate development trajectories and environmental deterioration continues challenging the premises of ecological modernisation This volume brings together research on ecological modernisation practices around the world Studies on Western Central and Eastern Europe the USA and Southeast Asia examine the applicability of this approach to advanced industrial countries transitional economies and developing countries respectively Authors critically examine the premises of ecological modernisation theory assess its value for understanding past and present environmental transformations and outline paths for designing future sustainable development Taken together the studies in collected this volume offer significant refinements extensions and critiques of ecological modernisation theory and suggest important directions for future research on social and policy dimensions of environmental change

The Scramble for the Poles Klaus Dodds, Mark Nuttall, 2016-01-11 In August 2007 a Russian flag was planted under the North Pole during a scientific expedition triggering speculation about a new scramble for resources beneath the thawing ice But is there really a global grab for Polar territory and resources Or are these activities vastly exaggerated In this rich and wide ranging book Klaus Dodds and Mark Nuttall look behind the headlines and hyperbole to reveal a complex picture of the so called scramble for the poles Whilst anxieties over the potential for conflict and the destruction of what is often perceived as the world's last wildernesses have come to dominate Polar debates and are to some extent justified their study also highlights longer historical and geographical patterns and processes of human activity in these remote territories Over the past century Polar landscapes have been probed drilled fished tested on and dug up as their indigenous populations have struggled to protect their rights and interests No longer remote places or themselves poles apart from one another the contemporary geopolitics of the Polar regions has lessons for us all as we confront a warming world where access to resources is a concern for states big and small

American Disasters Steven Biel, 2001-11 Ranging widely essayists here examine the 1900 storm that ravaged Galveston Texas the Great Chicago Fire of 1871 the Titanic sinking the Northridge earthquake the crash of Air Florida Flight 90 the 1977 Chicago El train crash and many other devastating events These catastrophes elicited vastly different responses and thus raise a number of important questions How for example did African Americans feminists and labor activists respond to the Titanic disaster Why did the El train crash take on such symbolic meaning for the citizens of Chicago In what ways did the San Francisco earthquake reaffirm rather than challenge a predominant faith in progress The Sociology of Community Connections John G.

Bruhn,2011-07-18 Many of our current social problems have been attributed to the breakdown or loss of community as a place and to the fragmentation of connections due to an extreme value of individualism in the Western world particularly in the United States Not all scholars and researchers agree that individualism and technology are the primary culprits in the loss of community as it existed in the middle decade of the 20th century Nonetheless people exist in groups and connections are vital to their existence and in the daily performance of activities The second edition of the Sociology of Community Connections will identify and help students understand community connectedness in the present and future The United States and West Africa Alusine Jalloh, Toyin Falola, 2008 The first volume devoted to interrogating the complex relationship both historic and contemporary between the United States and West Africa Over the last several decades historians have conducted extensive research into contact between the United States and West Africa during the era of the transatlantic trade Yet we still understand relatively little about more recent relations between the two areas This multidisciplinary volume presents the most comprehensive analysis of the U S West African relationship to date filling a significant gap in the literature by examining the social cultural political and economic bonds that have in recent years drawn these two world regions into increasingly closer contact Beginning with examinations of factors that linked the nations during European colonial rule of Africa and spanning to discussions of U S foreign policy with regard to West Africa from the Cold War through the end of the twentieth century and beyond these essays constitute the first volume devoted to interrogating the complex relationship both historic and contemporary between the United States and West Africa Contributors Abdul Karim Bangura Karen B Bell Peter A Dumbuya Kwame Essien Andrew I E Ewoh Toyin Falola Osman Gbla John Wess Grant Stephen A Harmon Harold R Harris Olawale Ismail Alusine Jalloh Fred L Johnson III Stephen Kandeh Ibrahim Kargbo Bayo Lawal Ayodeji Olukoju Adebayo Oyebade Christopher Ruane Anita Spring Ibrahim Sundiata Hakeem Ibikunle Tijani Ken Vincent and Amanda Warnock Alusine Jalloh is associate professor of history and founding director of The Africa Program at the University of Texas at Arlington Toyin Falola is the Jacob and Frances Sanger Mossiker Chair in the Humanities and University Distinguished Teaching Professor at the University of Texas at Austin Energy Law, Climate Change and the Environment Martha M. Roggenkamp, Kars J. de Graaf, Ruven C. Fleming, 2021-05-21 This comprehensive volume of the Elgar Encyclopedia of Environmental Law provides an overview of the major elements of energy law from a global perspective Based on an in depth analysis of the energy chain it offers insight into the impacts of climate change and environmental issues on energy law and the energy sector This timely reference work highlights the need for modern energy law to consider environmental impacts and promote the use of clean energy sources whilst also safeguarding a reliable and affordable energy supply Handbook of Sociology and Human Rights David L.
