The Concept of Evil in Judaism, Christianity and Islam Catharina Rachik, Georges Tamer, 2024-11-04 The present volume of the series Key Concepts in Interreligious Discourses explores various conceptions of evil in Judaism Christianity and Islam including key terms from their respective sacred texts major theodicy discussions and contemporary developments Throughout history and even today religious scholars and believers have struggled with the question of the origin of evil and how a benevolent God can allow evil to exist in the world Why does a compassionate God not prevent deadly diseases or natural disasters What do religions define as evil and is God responsible for or even the creator of this evil The articles written by distinguished scholars in their respective fields offer a variety of answers to such existential questions The articles address topics such as the origin of evil the responses to evil in sacred texts and religious traditions and the role of human agency Each author offers a critical analysis of these topics as well as recommendations for future research The volume also highlights commonalities and differences among the three monotheistic religions

Abraham Bar Hiyya on Time, History, Exile and Redemption Hannu Töyrylä, 2014-07-03 An analysis of Megillat ha Megalleh by Abraham Bar Hiyya 12th c as a complete text in its historical and cultural context showing that the work written at a time when Jews increasingly came under Christian influence and dominance presents a coherent argument for the continuing validity of the Jewish hope for redemption In his argument Bar Hiyya presents a view of history the course of which was planted by God in creation which runs inevitably towards the future redemption of the Jews Bar Hiyya uses philosophical scientific biblical and astrological material to support his argument and several times makes use of originally Christian ideas which he inverts to suit his argument

The Perfectibility of Human Nature in Eastern and Western Thought Harold Coward, 2012-02-01 How perfectible is human nature as understood in Eastern and Western philosophy psychology and religion Harold Coward examines some of the very different answers to this question He poses that in Western thought including philosophy psychology Judaism Christianity and Islam human nature is often understood as finite flawed and not perfectible in religion requiring God's grace and the afterlife to reach the goal By contrast Eastern thought arising in India frequently sees human nature to be perfectible and presumes that we will be reborn until we realize the goal the various yoga psychologies philosophies and religions of Hinduism and Buddhism being the paths by which one may perfect oneself and realize release from rebirth Coward uses the striking differences in the assessment of how perfectible human nature is as the comparative focus for this book

Life and Work of W. Montgomery Watt Hillenbrand Carole Hillenbrand, 2018-12-19 This commemorative volume discusses aspects of the life and work of the internationally famous scholar Professor W Montgomery Watt 1909 2006 His writings on Islam and on Muslim Christian relations gained him great prestige and respect not only in the West but also and perhaps more significantly right across the Muslim world The book includes contributions by Professor

Carole Hillenbrand Professor Fred Donner Bishop Richard Holloway and the late Professor David Kerr as well as substantial excerpts from Professor Watt s unpublished writings copies of which he entrusted to Professor Hillenbrand

A Short History of Medieval Philosophy Julius Rudolf Weinberg,2018-06-05 In this brief book the author examines the central doctrine of important Christian Jewish and Muslim philosophers and shows the contributions of medieval thought to present day philosophy Intended not only for philosophers but for anyone seeking a concise and reliable survey

Writing Journeys across Cultural Borders Elena V. Shabliy,Kimarie Engerman,2021-10-13 Narratives of journeys voyages and pilgrimages often guide readers to questions about humanism and humanity from a holistic perspective The chapters in this volume explore narratives of both real and imagined journeys and examine their religious psychological psychoanalytical philosophical educational and historical implications What emerges is an understanding of narratives of journeys across cultural borders as powerful educational tools that can model and contribute to meaningful dialogue with other states cultures and civilizations
