The Falling Dawadawa Tree Christiana Oware Knudsen,1994 Chapter 9 The Guan Ancient West African Women - Toppled Cornerstones Christiana Oware Knudsen,2016-07-07 The period between the 9th and the 19th centuries was a dark period in the history of West African Women The effect of this dark period continues today in part in the form of persistent gender inequalities Prior to this period ancient West African women were empowered to the point that they effectively organised their own societies in ways that helped complement their interaction with men In those instances matriarchal inheritance systems ruled The phenomenon of females ruling societies was based on the basic acknowledgement that all men and women great or humble emerged into this world from the womb of a woman However these matrilineal cultures were gradually destroyed by the arrival of first Islam then the North Atlantic chattel slave trade colonisation and finally Christianity Slave trading was taking place across the world but chattel slavery was first introduced in West Africa by a number of Western European countries Ancient West African Women is a short crisp book which systematically explains how women in ancient West African tribes migrated from the Nile Valley in Egypt westwards to an area south of the Sahara which we now know as West Africa The book also polemically explores the lasting impact of chattel slave trading colonization Christianization and Islamization on the standing of West African women Book reviews online PublishedBestsellers website

Transcultural Bodies Ylva Hernlund,Bettina Shell-Duncan,2007-06-07 Female circumcision or more precisely female genital cutting FGC remains an important cultural practice in many African countries often serving as a coming of age ritual It is also a practice that has generated international dispute and continues to be at the center of debates over women s rights the limits of cultural pluralism the balance of power between local cultures international human rights and feminist activism In our increasingly globalized world these practices have also begun immigrating to other nations where transnational complexities vex debates about how to resolve the issue Bringing together thirteen essays Transcultural Bodies provides an ethnographically rich exploration of FGC among African diasporas in the United Kingdom Europe and Australia Contributors analyze changes in ideologies of gender and sexuality in immigrant communities the frequent marginalization of African women s voices in debates over FGC and controversies over legislation restricting the practice in immigrant populations

Changing Natural Resource Regimes in Northern Ghana Wolfram Laube,2007 Colonial and national interventions have considerably changed the natural resource regimes regarding water and land in Northern Ghana However this change has not led to the establishment of new institutions but different actors farmers bureaucrats earthpriests chiefs and politicians are continuously engaged in negotiation process over natural resources While the institutional and distributional outcomes of these negotiation processes remain inconclusive they have led to a precarious local power balance in which different actors rely on different institutions and changing political alliances to pursue their interests Historical

Understanding Circumcision George C. Denniston, Frederick Mansfield Hodges, Marilyn Fayre Milos, 2001-10-31 Proceedings of the Sixth International Symposium on Genital Integrity Safeguarding Fundamental Human Rights in the 21st Century held December 7 9 2000 in Sydney Australia Thicker Than Water Melissa Meyer, 2014-02-04 Blood is more than a fluid solution of cells platelets and plasma It is a symbol for the most basic of human concerns life death and family find expression in rituals surrounding everything from menstruation to human sacrifice Comprehensive in its scope and provocative in its argument this book examines beliefs and rituals concerning blood in a range of regional and religious contexts throughout human history Meyer reveals the origins of a wide range of blood rituals from the earliest surviving human symbolism of fertility and the hunt to the Jewish bris and the clitoridectomies given to young girls in parts of Africa The book also explores how cultural practices influence gene selection and makes a connection with the natural sciences by exploring how color perception influences the human proclivity to create blood symbols and rituals

Borderlands and Frontiers in Africa Steven van Wolputte, 2013 This volume addresses the marked influence that African borders and boundaries whether real or imaginary have on the lives of those inhabiting the borderland How do political and symbolic borders take concrete shape and how do they bear on daily life Conversely how does life in the borderland shape the borders that characterize it The book recognizes borderlands as shifting places times or domains where competing discourses and regimes of power overlap Characterized by overt contradiction and paradox they are often imagined at the outside Yet they pertain to and define the center The collected case studies challenge the assumption that states and anonymized institutions are the principal actors in border making Instead they argue for an actor oriented perspective while drawing attention to the physicality of the borderscape Series African Studies Afrikanische Studien Vol 40 Newer Islamic Movements in Western Europe Lars Pederson, 2019-01-04 Published in 1999 this book analyses the development of the recent cultural trend represented by the newer Islamic movements among Muslim immigrants in Western Europe Included is a comprehensive description of the institutionalisation and organisation of Islam in Western Europe and an investigation of the organisation activities visions and strategies of the European and Islamic movements Particular attention is paid to the most important Islamist trend among the Turkish minorities Milli Gorus The empirical data is original and has been primarily collected through interviews with leaders of Islamic organisations in Denmark Berlin and Paris The Islamistic stress on the validity of Islam as constituting the basis of particular social and cultural interest is analysed in the perspective of the concepts of life world and system world presented by Jurgen Habermas The investigation demonstrates the existence of locally organised communities whose social and cultural interests are in need of representation It is shown that Islamism constitutes a clear and concrete point of departure from a positive identification in the Muslim immigrant societies This critical relevance of Islamism is discussed in the light of the social and economic marginalisation characterising the situation of the immigrated Muslim minorities in Western Europe The main conclusion is that Islamism is a collective political representation of an alternative position to the dominant cultural and social marginalisation
