The Half Has Not Been Told Patricia Betts Tyus, 2011-12-29. Often there are many things that go untold about raising a special needs child. Feelings are not expressed or explained. Stories are kept to a silent hush. The family members live day in and out with stories that never makes the news, never makes the newspapers, or a topic of general conversation. The stories as many as there are have not been told. Some of the stories are of embarrassment, some of laughter, some of tears, and some of struggles. Many of them are of joys, strengths, and victories. Many of them should be told. In The Half Has Not Been Told Memoirs of my Destiny Patricia Betts Tyus captures stories of things that have occurred over the years in the life of her daughter Destini, diagnosed as special needs at the age of two years old. She shares the emotions that a mother experiences when she finds out that the child she sees as perfect is being labeled with titles that would alter the perception of anyone that hears them. The author shares stories of the hard and continuous work that goes into overcoming challenges and all the joy of reward that is on the other side of getting through the challenge. The author shares emotional and enlightening moments to help redefine the stereotypical thoughts that people have of special needs children. She challenges those who work with special needs individuals to think outside of the box to design ways of doing things so that special needs individuals can have great success stories. The author shares the half of the stories that have never been told.
