we must know who our Ancestors were and what they achieved We would then realize who we are and what we are capable of achieving This is the meaning of the African adage and Sankofa symbol of looking back in order to go forward The importance of knowing our ancestors has been summed up in an old Native American saying that It is the spirit of our ancestors that should guide our path There is a sense however that Africans have forgotten our ancestors Because of this there is no spirit to guide us and so Africans are lost and confused The roots of African spirituality and culture have been made redundant Yet as Dr Clarke points out the umbilicord that tied Africans to our spiritual and cultural roots have only been stretched It has never been broken It is for Africans to come to this realization and to rediscover the spirit of our ancestors This volume lists some of our Notable Ancestors in the hope that knowledge about them and their achievements will aid some of us in understanding where we have been who we presently are and consequently who we must become Ultimately it is hoped that we may use this knowledge to reconnect with the spirit of our Ancestors and let them be our guide This volume is based on the truth about Africans and therefore correcting what is told about us This corrective knowledge of us is important because as Imhotep said Know the truth and the truth shall set you free This means being free to interpret our own story and to define who we are This is crucial because although history is a witness to the truths history has been stolen by others who have hidden the truths about us History has never been true or kind to Africans and therefore it cannot tell us about us Yet as Peter Tosh intimated we cannot come to a consciousness of ourselves of who we are if we do not know the truths about us History has been described as the Queen of the academic subjects So important is History that it is said that whoever controls history controls the future In one sense education in general and history in particular is about teaching us who we are History teaches who we are so as to help us to know where we belong in our community or society Africans cannot know where we belong in society however because our story has been told by others those who own history Africans are therefore unaware of who we are because what is known about us is not the truth about us The story of Africans the oldest people on earth like the history of the world is taught by others Yet these others came into the world thousands of years after Africans had already established great civ

Whitfield James Monroe Whitfield, 2011 In this comprehensive volume of the collected writings of James Monroe Whitfield 1822-71 Robert S Levine and Ivy G Wilson restore this African American poet abolitionist and intellectual to his rightful place in the arts and politics of the nineteenth

African American Religious Thought Cornel West, Eddie S. Glaude, 2003-01-01 Believing that African American religious studies has reached a crossroads Cornel West and Eddie Glaude seek in this landmark anthology to steer the discipline into the future Arguing that the complexity of beliefs choices and actions of African Americans need not be reduced to expressions of black religion West and Glaude call for more careful reflection on the complex relationships of African American religious studies to conceptions of class gender sexual orientation race empire and other values that continue to challenge our democratic ideals

The Eastons: Five Generations of Human Rights Activism, 1748-1935 George R. Price, 2020-06-01 This is a non fiction biographical book about some of my direct ancestors and their relatives who stood up for justice and equality and against racism and oppression between the years of 1748 and 1935 The topics include Indigenous land rights struggles the original spirit and egalitarian goals of the American Revolution before that movement was co opted and sabotaged by the plantation aristocrats and capitalists the anti slavery movement race theory and racial identities and the ever present American anti racism and equality movements Most of the action in these stories took place in southeastern Massachusetts our Wampanoag homelands but also in other New England locations and in Texas New Orleans and California Many of these complex identity people of color were abolitionists before the Civil War

Festivals of Freedom Mitch Kachun, Mitchell Alan Kachun, 2006-03-01 With the abolition of the transatlantic slave trade in 1808 many African Americans began calling for a day of public thanksgiving to commemorate this important step toward freedom During the ensuing century black leaders built on this foundation and constructed a distinctive and vibrant tradition through their celebrations of the end of slavery in New York State the British West Indies and eventually the United States as a whole In this revealing study Mitch Kachun explores the multiple functions and contested meanings surrounding African American emancipation celebrations from the abolition of the slave trade to the fiftieth anniversary of U S emancipation Excluded from July Fourth and other American nationalist rituals for most of this period black activists used these festivals of freedom to encourage community building and race uplift Kachun demonstrates that even as these annual rituals helped define African Americans as a people by fostering a sense of shared history heritage and identity they were also sites of ambiguity and conflict Freedom celebrations served as occasions for debate over black representations in the public sphere struggles for group leadership and contests over collective memory and its meaning Based on extensive research in African American newspapers and oration texts this book retraces a vital if often overlooked tradition in African American political culture and addresses important issues about black participation in the public sphere By illuminating the origins of black Americans public commemorations it also helps explain why there have been increasing calls in recent years to make the Juneteenth observance of emancipation an American not just an African American day of commemoration

Black Reason, White Feeling Hannah Spahn, 2024-05-14 The vital influence of Black American intellectuals on the legacy of Thomas Jefferson's ideas The lofty Enlightenment principles articulated by Thomas Jefferson in the Declaration of Independence so central to conceptions of the American founding did not emerge fully formed as a coherent set of ideas in the eighteenth century As Hannah Spahn argues in this important book no group had a more profound influence on their development and reception than Black intellectuals The rationalism and universalism most associated with Jefferson today she shows actually sprang from critical engagements with his thought by writers such as David Walker Lemuel Haynes

Frederick Douglass and W E B Du Bois Black Reason White Feeling illuminates the philosophical innovations that these and other Black intellectuals made to build on Jefferson's thought shaping both Jefferson's historical image and the exalted legacy of his ideas in American culture It is not just the first book length history of Jefferson's philosophy in Black thought it is also the first history of the American Enlightenment that centers the originality and decisive impact of the Black tradition Too Much Schooling, Too Little Education Mwalimu J. Shujaa, 1994 Too Much Schooling with its educational focus fits into the Afrocentric school of thought with its aim to develop subject centered analysis and solutions for African children This book is an attempt to illustrate and demonstrate some of the ways we can use our cultural base to educate children Molefi K Asante Author of Africa World Press titles Afrocentricity Kemet Afrocentricity and Knowledge The Book of African Names Thunder and Silence African Culture It is our responsibility as African American parents educators and citizens to develop educational settings formal and informal where cultural understandings political historical literary technological financial health law etc are not transmitted accidentally but by design Too Much Schooling Too Little Education is an over needed addition to the ongoing search for meaningful African centered education Dr Shujaa has edited a collection that is not only a first in this field he has also assembled in one volume some of the best thinkers and practitioners working today This book is more than impressive it is required reading Haki R Madhubuti Publisher of Third World Press taken from back cover A Social History of the American Negro Benjamin Griffith Brawley, 2023-08-12 In A Social History of the American Negro Benjamin Griffith Brawley provides a comprehensive exploration of the African American experience from the perspective of socio historical development This pivotal work employs a blend of narrative history and sociological analysis unpacking themes of racial identity cultural evolution and the socio economic challenges faced by African Americans through the centuries Brawley's prose is both accessible and scholarly reflecting the literary context of the early 20th century when a focus on African American narratives began to gain prominence amidst the Harlem Renaissance and the broader struggle for civil rights Brawley an eminent scholar born in 1882 dedicated his career to elucidating the contributions of African Americans to American culture and history His background as an educator and a literary figure informed his commitment to social justice and historical accuracy Influenced by contemporaries such as W E B Du Bois and his own experiences within the African American community Brawley's work seeks to highlight the resilience and achievements of a marginalized group urging readers to recognize the interconnectedness of race and history in America A must read for historians sociologists and anyone interested in the complexities of race relations in America A Social History of the American Negro remains an essential text Brawley's insights resonate today illuminating the ongoing dialogue about race identity and society Readers will find not only a rich historical account but also a call to acknowledge and understand the African American journey for a more just future Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Feminist as Thinker Ellen Carol DuBois, Richard Cándida Smith, 2007-04 More than one hundred years after her death Elizabeth Cady Stanton still stands along with her close friend Susan B Anthony as the major icon of the struggle for women's suffrage. In spite of this celebrity, Stanton's intellectual contributions have been largely overshadowed by the focus on her political activities and she is yet to be recognized as one of the major thinkers of the nineteenth century. Here at long last is a single volume exploring and presenting Stanton's thoughtful original lifelong inquiries into the nature, origins, range, and solutions of women's subordination. Elizabeth Cady Stanton: Feminist as Thinker reintroduces, contextualizes, and critiques Stanton's numerous contributions to modern thought. It juxtaposes a selection of Stanton's own writings, many of them previously unavailable, with eight original essays by prominent historians and social theorists interrogating Stanton's views on such pressing social issues as religion, marriage, race, the self, and community and her place among leading nineteenth-century feminist thinkers. Taken together, these essays and documents reveal the different facets, enduring insights, and fascinating contradictions of the work of one of the great thinkers of the feminist tradition.

Gordon, Vivian Gornick, Kathi Kern, Michele Mitchell, and Christine Stansell. Ghana News, 1979. Writers of the American Renaissance. Denise Knight, 2003-12-30. The American literary canon has undergone revision and expansion in recent years, and our notions of the 19th-century renaissance have been reevaluated. Mainstream anthologies have been revised to reflect the expanding literary canon, yet resources for readers have remained widely scattered. This book expands earlier definitions of the 19th-century American Renaissance as represented by canonical writers such as Emerson and Poe, covering writers who published popular fiction and dominated the literary marketplace of the day. Included is generous coverage of women writers and writers of color. The volume provides alphabetically arranged entries for more than 70 writers of the period, including Louisa May Alcott, Emily Dickinson, Frederick Douglass, Margaret Fuller, Nathaniel Hawthorne, Herman Melville, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Henry David Thoreau, Walt Whitman, and many more. Each entry was written by an expert contributor and includes a brief biography, a discussion of major works and themes, a survey of the writer's critical reception, and primary and secondary bibliographies.
