The Development of the Concept of SMELL in American English Daniela Pettersson-Traba, 2022-10-24 The last decades have witnessed a renewed interest in near synonymy In particular recent distributional corpus based approaches used for semantic analysis have successfully uncovered subtle distinctions in meaning between near synonyms However most studies have dealt with the semantic structure of sets of near synonyms from a synchronic perspective while their diachronic evolution generally has been neglected Against this backdrop the aim of this book is to examine five adjectival near synonyms in the history of American English from the understudied semantic domain of SMELL fragrant perfumed scented sweet scented and sweet smelling Their distribution is analyzed across a wide range of contexts including semantic morphosyntactic and stylistic ones since distributional patterns of this type serve as a proxy for semantic dissimilarity The data is submitted to various univariate and multivariate statistical techniques making it possible to uncover fine grained dissimilarities among the near synonyms as well as possible changes in their prototypical structures The book sheds valuable light on the diachronic development of lexical near synonyms a dimension that has up to now been relatively disregarded

Evolution, Cognition, and the History of Religion: A New Synthesis Anders Klostergaard Petersen, Gilhus Ingvild Sælid, Luther H. Martin, Jeppe Sinding

Jensen, Jesper Sørensen, 2018-10-08 Evolution Cognition and the History of Religion A New Synthesis comprises 41 chapters that push for a new way of conducting the study of religion thereby transforming the discipline into a genuine science of religion. The recent resurgence of evolutionary approaches on culture and the increasing acknowledgement in the natural and social sciences of culture's and religion's evolutionary importance calls for a novel epistemological and theoretical framework for studying these two areas. The chapters explore how a new scholarly synthesis founded on the triadic space constituted by evolution, cognition, cultural and ecological environment may develop. Different perspectives and themes relating to this overarching topic are taken up with a main focus on either evolution, cognition and or the history of religion.

Experiencing Irony in the First Gospel Karl McDaniel, 2013-08-29 The Gospel of Matthew is both deliberately deceptive and emotionally compelling. Karl McDaniel explores ways in which the narrative of the Gospel of Matthew elicits and develops the emotions of suspense, surprise and curiosity within its readers. While Matthew 1:21 invites readers to expect Jewish salvation, progressive failure of the plot's main characters to meet Jesus' salvation requirements creates increasing suspense for the reader. How will Jesus save his people? The commission to the Gentiles at the Gospel's conclusion provokes reader surprise and the resulting curiosity calls readers back to the narrative's beginning. Upon rereading with a retrospective view, readers discover that the Gentile mission was actually foreshadowed throughout the narrative even from its beginning and they are invited to partake in Jesus' final commission. Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1975. Caesar and the Lamb, Second Edition George Kalantzis, 2025-05-30 Through the available patristic writings Caesar and the Lamb focuses on the attitudes of the earliest Christians on war and military service. Kalantzis provides the reader with many new translations of pre-Constantinian texts and tells the story of the struggle of the earliest church to bear witness to the nations that enveloped them as they transformed the dominant narratives of citizenship, loyalty, freedom, power and control. Kalantzis examines writings on war and military service in the first three centuries of the Christian church in an organized manner but the ways the communities of Christ at the margins of power and society thought of themselves and the state are not presented here through the lens of antiquarian curiosity. At the heart of Caesar and the Lamb is a desire to understand the world in which Christianity arose and to ask questions of the past that may help us understand the early character of the Christian faith with the hope that such an enterprise will also help us evaluate its expression in our own time. Softstone: Approaches to the study of chlorite and calcite vessels in the Middle East and Central Asia from prehistory to the present Carl S. Phillips, St John Simpson, 2018-08-13 Stone containers have been made and used in the Middle East for over eleven millennia where they pre-date the invention of pottery. This is the first attempt to bring together different approaches to the study of softstone vessels particularly those carved from varieties of chlorite and covering all periods from prehistory to the present.
