The Excesses Of God Robinson Jeffers As A Religious Figure:

The Excesses of God William Everson, 1986 The Excesses of God William Everson, 1988 An event of rare literary distinction this book records the conjunction between two distinguished American poets illuminating not only their work and their connection but also the deep strain of pantheistic mysticism in the American tradition In 1934 William Everson came across a volume of Jeffers's poetry In Everson's word the power of Jeffers broke my own acquired agnosticism and compelled me to think of myself as a manifestly religious man It is a power I still attest to in writing this study a power which I continue to think of as an undiluted religious force It was after reading Jeffers that Everson's vocation as a poet emerged and though they never met or corresponded Everson has remained loyal and dedicated to Jeffers throughout his life Everson who published extensively under his religious name Brother Antoninus during his nearly twenty years as a Dominican lay brother has become one of the most knowledgeable scholars and critics of Jeffers as well as his one avowed poetic disciple This book is written as a series of overlapping and ever widening meditations on Jeffers's sense of God nature the self and language

Thick and Dazzling Darkness Peter O'Leary, 2017-11-21 How do poets use language to render the transcendent often dizzyingly inexpressible nature of the divine In an age of secularism does spirituality have a place in modern American poetry In Thick and Dazzling Darkness Peter O'Leary reads a diverse set of writers to argue for the existence and importance of religious poetry in twentieth and twenty first century American literature He traces a poetic genealogy that begins with Whitman and Dickinson and continues in the work of contemporary writers to illuminate an often obscured but still central spiritual impulse that has shaped the production and imagination of American poetry O'Leary presents close and comprehensive readings of the modernist late modernist and postmodern poets Robinson Jeffers Frank Samperi and Robert Duncan as well as the contemporary poets Joseph Donahue Geoffrey Hill Fanny Howe Nathaniel Mackey Pam Rehm and Lissa Wolsak Examining how these poets drew on a variety of traditions including Catholicism Gnosticism the Kabbalah and mysticism the book considers how modern and contemporary poets have articulated the spiritual in their work O'Leary also argues that an anxiety of misunderstanding exists in the study and writing of poetry between secular and religious impulses and that the religious nature of poets works is too often marginalized or misunderstood Examining the works of a specific poet in each chapter O'Leary reveals their complexity and offers a defense of the value and meaning of religious poetry against the grain of a secular society Robinson Jeffers James Karman, 2015-08-05 A deeply informative biography situates the poet in his time and place tracing the effect of both contemporary history and wild nature on his work Edwin Cranston Harvard University The precipitous cliffs rolling headlands and rocky inlets of the California coast come alive in the poetry of John Robinson Jeffers an icon of the environmental movement In this concise and accessible biography Jeffers scholar James Karman reveals deep insights into this passionate and complex figure and establishes Jeffers as a leading American poet of prophetic vision In a move that would define his life's work Jeffers family relocated to California from Pennsylvania in 1903

when he was sixteen At the height of his popularity in the 1920s and 1930s Jeffers became one of the few poets ever featured on the cover of Time magazine and posthumously put on a U S postage stamp Writing by kerosene lamp in a granite tower that he had built himself his vivid and descriptive poetry of the coast evoked the difficulty and beauty of the wild and inspired photographers such as Edward Weston and Ansel Adams He was known for long narrative blank verse that shook up the national literary scene but in the 1940s his interest in the Greek classics led to several adaptations which were staged on Broadway to great success Inspiring later artists from Charles Bukowski to Czeslaw Milosz and even the Beach Boys Robinson Jeffers contribution to American letters is skillfully brought back out of the shadows of history in this compelling biography of a complex man of poetic genius who wrote so powerfully of the astonishing beauty of nature

Inventing the Language to Tell It George Hart,2013-09-02 From 1920 until his death in 1962 consciousness and its effect on the natural world was Robinson Jeffers s obsession Understanding and explaining the biological basis of mind is one of the towering challenges of modern science to this day and Jeffers s poetic experiment is an important contribution to American literary history no other twentieth century poet attempted such a thorough engagement with a crucial scientific problem Jeffers invented a sacramental poetics that accommodates a modern scientific account of consciousness thereby integrating an essentially religious sensibility with science in order to discover the sacramentality of natural process and reveal a divine cosmos There is no other study of Jeffers or sacramental nature poetry like this one It proposes that Jeffers s sacramentalism emerged out of his scientifically informed understanding of material nature Drawing on ecocriticism religious studies and neuroscience Inventing the Language to Tell It shows how Jeffers produced the most compelling sacramental nature poetry of the twentieth century

Robinson Jeffers and the American Sublime Robert Zaller,2012-01-25 Robinson Jeffers and the American Sublime is the most comprehensive and most substantial critical work ever devoted to the major American poet Robinson Jeffers 1887 1962 Jeffers the best known poet of California and the American West particularly valorized the Big Sur region making it his own as Frost did New England and Faulkner Mississippi and connecting it to the wider tradition of the American sublime in Emerson Thoreau and John Muir The book also links Jeffers to a Puritan sublime in early American verse and explores his response to the Darwinian and Freudian revolutions and his engagement with modern astronomy This discussion leads to a broad consideration of Jeffers focus on the figure of Christ as emblematic of the human aspiration toward God a God whom Jeffers defines not in Christian terms but in those of an older materialist pantheism and of modern science The later sections of the book develop a conspectus of the democratic sublime that addresses American exceptionalism through the prism of Jeffers Jeffersonian ethos A final chapter places Jeffers poetic thought in the larger cosmological perspective he sought in his late works

Centennial Essays for Robinson Jeffers Robert Zaller,1991 This work is the first volume of critical essays devoted to the poetry of Robinson Jeffers Although Jeffers was likened to some of the greatest figures in the literary world his work was controversial His preoccupation with violence and sexuality was humanity's place within it Thomas Dunlap is among the leading environmental historians and historians of science in the United States Originally trained as a chemist he has a rigorous understanding of science and appreciates its vital importance to environmental thought But he is also a devout Catholic who believes that the insights of religious revelation need not necessarily be at odds with the insights of scientific investigation This book grew from his own religious journey and his attempts to understand human ethical obligations and spiritual debts to the natural world CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title 2005

William Everson Steven Herrmann, 2015-12-10 In 1991 author and Jungian psychotherapist Steven Herrmann was called by the poet shaman William Everson to collaborate on writing a book It is from that event that the subtitle of this book emerged The Shaman's Call Its aim is to instill in readers that if one follows one's calling from the shamanic archetype with the right attitude it could culminate in true cosmic awareness And it would interconnect the psyche with nature or what C G Jung called the Self Such awareness is made clear through the transfiguring power of American poet shamans who transmit what they are called by nature to convey that an experience of the Self is a life altering experience The calling can be transmitted by way of an animal power to a person through dreams transformative relationships in depth psychotherapy religious experiences art scientific endeavor or through the hearing reading or writing of shamanic poetry During the conversations with Everson emerged a vision of the way shamanism has been portrayed in American poetry from Herman Melville's Moby Dick to Walt Whitman's Leaves of Grass to Emily Dickinson's The Complete Poetry to what Everson achieved in his seminal poems October Tragedy The Encounter and Black Hills and in his literature course at the University of California Santa Cruz The conversations form a link between the 80 year old poet shaman and the 35 year old Jungian author Steven Herrmann who was just beginning to find his own wings as a poet The Expanded edition commemorates William Everson's birth on September 10 1912 Herrmann co organized three Centennial events to celebrate Everson's work in the fall of 2012 Part II contains Seven Meditations William Everson's Basic Teachings on Vocation a final conversation with Everson on vocatypes and Herrmann's Centennial essays and poems

Ecopoetics and the Global Landscape Isabel Sobral Campos, 2018-12-27 Ecopoetics and the Global Landscape Critical Essays surveys ecopoetry from a global perspective across different historical epochs Its comparative approach foregrounds the importance of ecopoetics within the context of distinct national literatures and cultures to reveal the ubiquitous intersection of poetry with ecocriticism The collection analyzes environmental problems resulting from the legacies of colonialism and focuses on issues of environmental justice and indigenous issues as well as on the intersection of genocide studies and environmentalism It also examines ecologically informed modes of relating to the world In particular it engages with interactions between the human and nonhuman as well as mind and matter Finally it broadens the scope of place to include both the absent land of exiled peoples and the urban built environment

How Not to Be Human Matthew Calarco, 2024-07-09 Current debates in the environmental humanities animal studies and related fields increasingly revolve around this question What to do with the human Is the human a category worth preserving Should it be replaced with the post human Should marginalized and minoritarian groups advocate for a universal humanism What is the relationship between humanism and anthropocentrism Is a genuinely non anthropocentric mode of thinking and living possible for human beings This book argues that the writings of twentieth century poet Robinson Jeffers offer twenty first century readers a number of crucial insights concerning such questions and timely advice about how not to be human For Jeffers our tendency to turn inward on ourselves and to indulge in human narcissism is at the heart of the social economic and existential ills that plague modern societies As a remedy Jeffers recommends turning ourselves outward beyond the self and beyond the human and learning to affirm and even love the inhuman cosmos in all of its terrible beauty In the process Jeffers helps us find our way back to ourselves but this time no longer as human in the traditional sense but as plain members of the inhuman world
