Successful Writing for Qualitative Researchers Peter Woods, Pat Sikes, 2022-03-31 The fully updated third edition of Successful Writing for Qualitative Researchers includes new material on the nature of qualitative research and the significance of contemporary circumstances in which academic writers have to work as well as ethical considerations and authorial responsibilities. It provides a wealth of information and practical tips required to successfully translate qualitative research into writing. Using a wide range of examples the authors provide tried and tested methods that explore the mindsets, strategies and techniques involved in successful qualitative writing and the opportunities and rewards that are available. Considering the continuing pressure on researchers to produce high quality writing in difficult circumstances this book contains a wealth of information and provides guidance on: The nature of qualitative research; The conditions for successful writing; The responsibilities of the author; Getting started and keeping going; Organising your work; Traditional and arts based modes of writing; Styles of writing; Editing your work; Preparing for publication. Clear, concise and engaging, this must-read guide is suitable for all those in the social sciences seeking to formulate their qualitative research into writing with maximum effectiveness, including undergraduates, postgraduates and academics, whether in dissertations, theses, research reports, journal and magazine articles, conference papers or books.

Designs for Experimentation and Inquiry Åsa Mäkitalo, Todd E. Nicewonger, Mark Elam, 2019-06-27. Designs for Experimentation and Inquiry examines how digital media is reconfiguring the established worlds of research, education and professional practice. It reflects on the theoretical, methodological and ethical issues shaping contemporary engagements with digital learning and offers insights for both analysing and intervening in digital learning practices. This insightful volume fills a gap in the current literature by bringing together experiences from Sociocultural Studies of Learning, Science and Technology Studies and Design Studies. Each chapter is an innovative case study examining a different aspect of digital media's role in research, education and professional practice by exploring topics such as Learning practices and digitalized dialogue, Digital design experiments, Digitally mediated collaborations, Ethical digital inquiry and design. Expertly researched and written, this book is a unique resource for scholars, researchers and professionals working in the fields of digital design, applied technology and the learning sciences. The Preface and Introduction as well as Chapters 3 and 5 of this book are freely available as downloadable Open Access PDFs at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivatives (CC BY-NC-ND 4.0) license.

Researching Ethically across Cultures Anna Robinson-Pant, Nidhi Singal, 2018-02-02. Whether an individual doctoral study or a large scale multidisciplinary project, researchers working across cultures face particular challenges around power, identity and voice as they encounter ethical dilemmas which extend beyond the micro level of the researcher-researched relationship. In using a cross-cultural perspective on how to conceptualise research problems, collect data and disseminate findings in an ethical manner, they also engage with the geopolitics of academic writing, language inequalities and knowledge construction within a globalised economy. It is increasingly recognised that existing ethical codes and paradigms either do not sufficiently address such issues or tend to be rather restrictive and insensitive to multiple and complex cultural and contextual differences This book extends our understanding of the ethical issues and dilemmas faced by researchers in comparative and international education It asks what the relevance of postcolonial theory is for understanding research ethics in comparative and international education whether Western ethical practices in qualitative social research are incompatible with cultures outside the West how a situated approach can be developed for exploring research ethics across cultures and institutions and how informed consent can be negotiated when the process appears to contradict community values and practices In sharing experiences from a wide range of cultural and institutional contexts the authors offer both theoretical resources and practical guidance for conducting research ethically across cultures This book was originally published as a special issue of Compare A Journal of Comparative and International Education
