The American Funeral A Study In Guilt Extravagance And Sublimity:

American Funeral LeRoy Bowman,1973 The American Funeral LeRoy Bowman,1973 In its secular aspects the American funeral appears to be an anachronism an elaboration of earlier customs rather than the adaptation to modern needs that it should be Properly employed it is a highly useful and essential function of society Improperly used it deteriorates into little more than a shabby opportunity to exploit or impoverish bereaved families The purpose of this study is to acquaint the reader with the basis of charges of commercial exploitation directed at undertakers to ascertain what peculiar circumstances influence the methods he uses and to uncover the social and psychological factors that underlie conspicuous display The research for this study was carried on over a period of five years This scientific effort is made to ascertain if the positive functions anthropologists have assigned to funerary rites as observed in other societies also pertain to the funerals of modern industrialized societies particularly American society The American Funeral LeRoy E.

Bowman,1976 The American Funeral LeRoy Bowman,1959 One Nation Under God? Marjorie Garber,Rebecca Walkowitz,2013-09-13 One Nation Under God is a remarkable consideration of how religion manifests itself in America today

The American Funeral. A Study in Guilt, Extravagance, and Sublimity, Etc LeRoy Edward BOWMAN,1959 The American Funeral; a Study in Guilt, Extravagance, and Sublimity. Introd. by Harry A. Overstreet LeRoy Bowman, A Companion to the Anthropology of Death Antonius C. G. M. Robben,2018-05-11 A thought provoking examination of death dying and the afterlife Prominent scholars present their most recent work about mortuary rituals grief and mourning genocide cyclical processes of life and death biomedical developments and the materiality of human corpses in this unique and illuminating book Interrogating our most common practices surrounding death the authors ask such questions as How does the state wrest away control over the dead from bereaved relatives Why do many mourners refuse to cut their emotional ties to the dead and nurture lasting bonds Is death a final condition or can human remains acquire agency The book is a refreshing reassessment of these issues and practices a source of theoretical inspiration in the study of death With contributions written by an international team of experts in their fields A Companion to the Anthropology of Death is presented in six parts and covers such subjects as Governing the Dead in Guatemala After Death Communications ADCs in North America Cryonic Suspension in the Secular Age Blood and Organ Donation in China The Fragility of Biomedicine and more A Companion to the Anthropology of Death is a comprehensive and accessible volume and an ideal resource for senior undergraduate and graduate students in courses such as Anthropology of Death Medical Anthropology Anthropology of Violence Anthropology of the Body and Political Anthropology Written by leading international scholars in their fields A comprehensive survey of the most recent empirical research in the anthropology of death A fundamental critique of the early 20th century founding fathers of the anthropology of death Cross cultural texts from tribal and industrial societies The collection is of interest to anyone concerned with the consequences of the state and massive violence on life and death

Preserved Dean G. Lampros, 2024-03-26 A spirited look at how funeral homes impacted American consumerism the built environment and national identities Funeral homes those grand aging mansions repurposed into spaces for embalming merchandising funeral services and housing for the funeral director and their family are immediately recognizable features of the American landscape and yet the history of how these spaces emerged remains largely untold In Preserved Dean Lampros uses the history of this uniquely American architectural icon to explore the twentieth century's expanding consumer landscape and reveal how buildings can help construct identities Across the United States Lampros traces the funeral industry's early twentieth century exodus from gloomy downtown undertaking parlors to outmoded Victorian houses in residential districts As savvy retailers and accidental preservationists funeral directors refashioned the interiors into sumptuous retail settings that stimulated consumer demand for luxury burial goods These spaces allowed for more privacy and more parking and they helped turn Americans away from traditional home funerals toward funeral homes instead Moreover by moving into neighborhoods that were once the domain of white elites African American funeral directors uplifted their industry and altered the landscape of white supremacy The funeral home has tracked major changes in American culture including an increased reliance on the automobile and the rise of consumer culture Preserved offers an in depth cultural history of a space that is both instantly familiar and largely misunderstood Women and the Material

Culture of Death Beth Fowkes Tobin, 2017-07-05 Examining the compelling and often poignant connection between women and the material culture of death this collection focuses on the objects women make the images they keep the practices they use or are responsible for and the places they inhabit and construct through ritual and custom Women's material practices ranging from wearing mourning jewelry to dressing the dead stitching memorial samplers to constructing skull boxes collecting funeral programs to collecting and studying diseased hearts making and collecting taxidermies and making sculptures honoring the dead are explored in this collection as well as women's affective responses and sentimental labor that mark their expected and unexpected participation in the social practices surrounding death and the dead The largely invisible work involved in commemorating and constructing narratives and memorials about the dead from family members and friends to national figures calls attention to the role women as memory keepers for families local communities and the nation Women have tended to work collaboratively making collecting and sharing objects that conveyed sentiments about the deceased whether human or animal as well as the identity of mourners Death is about loss and many of the mourning practices that women have traditionally and are currently engaged in are about dealing with private grief and public loss as well as working to mitigate the more general anxiety that death engenders about the impermanence of life
