The Envoy from Mirror City Janet Frame, 1984 The Envoy from Mirror City Janet Frame, 1985 Surfaces of Strangeness Simone Oettli-van Delden, 2003 Janet Frame Matthew Paul Pierre, 2011-05-12

In Janet Frame Semiotics and Biosemiotics in Her Early Fiction Paul Matthew St Pierre exploits the linguistic discipline of semiotics and the neurobiological discipline of biosemiotics to propose an original and dynamic reading of the first four works of fiction by New Zealand writer Janet Frame 1924 2004 The Lagoon Stories 1951 Owls Do Cry 1957 Faces in the Water 1961 and The Edge of the Alphabet 1962 Opposing the prevailing reading of Frame's early fiction as autobiographical deriving from her medical history he argues her books are singular evocations of her astonishing imagination His purpose is to fix this historical record and provide an alternative model for interpreting one of the 20th century's most stylistically demanding and rewarding writers Semiotics and biosemiotics are his means for unlocking the early fiction and her later works to a polemical analysis focusing on language sign transmissions writing the body and the biosemiotic self In The Lagoon Owls Do Cry Faces in the Water and The Edge of the Alphabet Frame produced what St Pierre interprets as an original semiotic and biosemiotic modeling system that she applied throughout her oeuvre of twenty books comprising eight story collections seven novels a book of poetry a children's novel and three volumes of autobiography Using this modeling system she designed her fiction as a visual verbal field consisting of still and moving images generated in the imagination located in the brains and central nervous systems of her narrators characters and readers and primarily of the author herself The author discusses the significations of 1 Frame's image signs in water glass photographs film membranes skin and clothing 2 her primary sign repertoire of objects language and human persons in the figures of blood skin and sun 3 her body signs including those generated in the circulatory and neurological systems of all human organisms as biosemiotic living s

Dangerous Writing Carmen Luz Fuentes-Vásquez, 2013 This book examines the literary construction of personal identity through autobiographical narratives by three significant writers analysed together for the first time the Scottish Willa Muir 1890 1970 the Canadian Margaret Laurence 1926 1987 and the New Zealander Janet Frame 1924 2004 These apparently dissimilar authors suffered not only geographical but also political marginality they were women from the working class or struggling middle class striving to be considered as professional writers and emerging from countries that might be felt to be under the shadows of economic and political world powers such as England and the United States During their lifetimes they exerted themselves to overcome prejudices about class gender and ethnicity They experienced war and the post war era and lived through most of the twentieth century being accurate witnesses and critics of their times As it discusses major writers who are iconic for the development of the literatures of their respective countries this book also attracts readers who are interested in learning more about the lives of these remarkable women the way their socio historical and geographical circumstances affected their writing and how they expressed such concerns in their autobiographies and other fictional and non fictional works besides considering them in relation to contemporary women writers and autobiographers who underwent similar experiences

Metafiction and the Postwar Novel Andrew Dean, 2021-04-01 Metafiction and the Postwar Novel is a full length reassessment of one of the definitive literary forms of the postwar period sometimes known as postmodern metafiction In the place of large scale theorizing this book centres on the intimacies of writing situations metafiction as it responds to readers literary reception and earlier works in a career The emergence of archival materials and posthumously published works helps to bring into view the stakes of different moments of writing It develops new terms for discussing literary self reflexivity derived from a reading of Don Quixote and its reception by J L Borges the self of writing and the public author as signature Across three comprehensive chapters Metafiction and Postwar Fiction shows how some of the most highly regarded postwar writers were motivated to incorporate reflexive elements into their writing and to what ends The first chapter on South African novelist J M Coetzee shows with a new clarity how his fictions drew from and relativized academic literary theory and the conditions of writing in apartheid South Africa The second chapter on New Zealand writer Janet Frame draws widely from her fictions autobiographies and posthumously published materials It demonstrates the terms in which her writing addresses a readership seemingly convinced that her work expressed the interior experience of madness The final chapter on American writer Philip Roth shows how his early reception led to his later and often explosive reconsiderations of identity and literary value in postwar America

Encyclopedia of Literature and Criticism Martin Coyle, Peter Garside, Malcolm Kelsall, John Peck, 2002-09-11 Contains essays by approximately ninety scholars and critics in which they investigate various aspects of English literary eras genres and works and includes bibliographies and suggestions for further reading

Janet Frame in Focus Josephine A. McQuail, 2018-01-26 New Zealand author Janet Frame 1924 2004 during her lifetime published 11 novels three collections of short stories a volume of poetry and a children s book The details of her life her tragic early years her confinement in a psychiatric hospital and her miraculous reprieve overshadow her work and she remains largely neglected by scholars These essays focus on Frame s autobiography short stories and novels Contributors from around the world explore a range of topics including her mother s Christadelphian faith her relationships with two 20th century icons William Theophilus Brown and John Money and a view of Frame in the context of trauma studies Two of the essays were presented at the 2014 Northeast Modern Language Association convention

The Ring of Fire Jeanne Delbaere, 1992

Manifold Utopia Marc Delrez, 2021-10-01 This study of Janet Frame s fiction addresses with unusual directness the Utopian momentum that underpins her concern with fundamental social issues traditionally highlighted in existing criticism of her work The idea behind this book is that Frame s critique of society while it is offered for its own sake on one level should not lead us to neglect the author s more speculative interest in an alternative conception of the human person Her engagement in a species of experimental portraiture proves elusive though owing to an indirectness of approach that usually takes the form of thematic circumscription rather than explicit representation For example the figure of the mute child recurrent in her work may well testify to a concern with the plight of the mentally ill but on another level it also points to an envelope of intractable experience which it is the artist's task to penetrate and explain Such aspiration is inseparable from the search for a new medium of expression felt to be necessary if one is to meet the challenge of apprehending the scope of pioneering knowledge This close reading of the novels reveals that the alternative dimension of experience to be found in Frame's novels is characterized by an intact capacity for remembering or for imaginatively re-creating eclipsed aspects of the present Frame's view of Utopia thus turns out to be manifold it is existential and ontological linguistic and epistemological but also historical and political An unravelling of these intertwined strains then serves to clarify the complex question of Frame's post-colonial sensibility which cannot be said to rely on a sense of rigid identity whether national or otherwise

Critical Psychiatry Ian Cummins, 2025-02-28

Critical Psychiatry outlines the history of a group of thinkers that has come to be known as the anti psychiatry movement Though it has been called a movement the individual thinkers and authors' ideas were often in conflict but what they share is a critical perspective on psychiatry as a discipline and institutionalised modes of care The current crisis in mental health services means that it is time to examine once again the key themes of critical psychiatry The excesses of the 1960s radicalism have meant that these themes with an emphasis on the individual dignity of all those involved in mental health services have been lost These need to be rediscovered as part of a solution to current difficulties but also as the starting point for a new model of service provision Critical Psychiatry is a history of ideas It provides a critical evaluation of key thinkers and the application of their work to contemporary mental health service settings

Mapping the Self Frédéric Regard, 2003

A Body of Water Beverley Farmer, 2020-10-01 A new edition of Beverley Farmer's out of print classic A Body of Water which in its mixing of genres essay memoir fiction folk tale opened up new frontiers for Australian literature A Body of Water was first published thirty years ago The writing of the book takes place over a year and portrays a complete cycle in the writer's life It begins on her forty-sixth birthday in a period of emotional inhibition and loneliness her marriage has broken down and she is living on her own By the end of the cycle the narrator has written short stories and poems which are included in the book alongside essays about the writing process journal entries excerpts from books she has been reading spiritual meditations and finely detailed observations of the life around her The title A Body of Water could be taken to refer to the book's settings along the Bellarine Peninsula in southern Victoria with its bays the outer harbour and the lighthouse standing like a sentinel at the entrance to the ocean It also suggests the diverse material which fills the book like a body of water with all that it contains and nurtures Throughout one is aware of the writer's own body as an entity which shifts its identity like water with its changes of mood relationships and reflections Beverley Farmer's expansive curiosity and appreciation for microcosmic significance sharpen a reader's attention to all things lived dreamed and observed Josephine Rowe A bold and beautiful genre-defying book weaving together process and product reflections on reading and the luminous moments of everyday life into a work that shimmers with allusion insight and charm It remains as striking and important a book now as it was in its original context Fiona Wright A Talent(ed) Digger ,2022-05-20 Anna Rutherford has been the most dynamic ambassador of Australian culture in Europe More than any other single person she has been instrumental in spreading interest in Commonwealth and post colonial studies Wherever she has been in the world she has brought people together in friendship and intellectual endeavour This volume ranges widely over the areas Anna has promoted as teacher editor and publisher The Inward Sun Elizabeth Alley,1994 Janet Frame in Her Own Words Janet Frame,2011-10-31 It is the desire really to make myself a first person For many years I was a third person as children are they she and as probably oppressed minorities become they Janet Frame radio interview about writing her autobiography 1983 For the first time ever this collection brings together Janet Frame s published short non fiction in one collected volume as well as material never seen before Letters spanning 50 years of Frame s life are published alongside essays reviews speeches and extracts from interviews This startling collection provides an unprecedented range of factual writings about herself her life and her work It reveals many aspects Janet Frame s character that will challenge some long standing myths and preconceptions about New Zealand s most famous author The Northeastern Dictionary of Women's Biography Jennifer S. Uglow,1999 The most comprehensive reference book of its kind with more than 60 new entries in this third edition I Have what I Gave Judith Dell Panny,1993 The Envoy from Mirror City Janet Frame,2013 Janet goes to England for seven years She writes novels and obtains a new diagnosis before returning to New Zealand Frameworks Jan S. Cronin,Simone Drichel,2009 This collection of essays draws on critical frameworks to explore fresh ways of looking at Frame s fiction poetry and autobiography At the same time the essays plug into the energy of Frame s work to challenge our thinking within and beyond these frameworks Frameworks offers a perspective on Frame studies today showcasing its major concerns as well as heralding new narratives for the decade ahead Mindful of preceding Frame criticism these essays use their contemporary vantage point to recast seminal questions about the relationship between Janet Frame s work and its critical contexts
