Extreme Violence and the 'British Way' Michelle Gordon, 2020-10-29 Analysing three cases of British colonial violence that occurred in the latter half of the 19th century this book argues that all three share commonalities including the role of racial prejudices in justifying the perpetration of extreme colonial violence Exploring the connections and comparisons between the Perak War 1875-76 the Hut Tax Revolt in Sierra Leone 1898-99 and the Anglo Egyptian War of Reconquest in the Sudan 1896-99 Gordon highlights the significance of decision making processes communication between London and the periphery and the influence of individual colonial administrators in outbreaks of violence This study reveals the ways in which racial prejudices the advocacy of a British civilising mission and British racial superiority informed colonial administrators decisions on the ground as well as the rationalisation of extreme violence Responding to a neglect of British colonial atrocities within the historiography of colonial violence this work demonstrates the ways in which Britain was just as willing and able as other European Empires to resort to extreme measures in the face of indigenous resistance or threats to the British imperial project Children's Books in Print R R Bowker
