The Evaluation Of Aid Projects And Programmes Proceedings Of The Conference:

The Evaluation of Aid Projects and Programmes Great Britain. Overseas Development Administration, 1984 Conference report on aid evaluation by the UK Overseas Development Administration covers administrative aspects comments on bilateral aid project evaluation in natural resources and infrastructure development technical cooperation and programme aid discusses feedback choice of evaluator confidentiality monitoring and the role of least developed country receivers of aid outlines evaluation techniques used by World Bank USAID and India List of participants Conference held in Sussex 1983 Apr 7 and 8

The Development of Aid Gerard Van Bilzen, 2015-01-12 Aid to developing countries started well before World War II but was undertaken as an ad hoc activity or was delivered by private organizations This changed after the War In his Inaugural Address in 1949 the American President Harry Truman announced a bold new programme for making the benefits of our scientific advances and industrial progress available for the improvement and growth of underdeveloped nations the so called Point IV Plan At that time it was thought that this support would be needed only for a limited number of years comparable to the Marshall Plan assistance to Europe But reality proved to be different providing aid was a very long term affair Since the Fifties the aid provided has changed at different occasions In the beginning aid concentrated on constructing infrastructure such as roads railways dams and harbours in order to promote industrial development In the Sixties aid to agriculture was added and in the Seventies aid to social sectors Basic Needs was also provided The Eighties brought worldwide debt problems Major donors applied structural adjustment policies some called this the lost decade d cada perdida The Nineties saw the arrival of the first environmental considerations and asked for attention for the role of women and good governance The form of aid changed from projects to programmes and budget support Describing the different aid forms of the last 65 years and analysing why aid changed from time to time are the subjects of this book Professionals and students in the area of international cooperation will benefit from studying this history as at this moment old concepts are reappearing or applied by new donors like China Is the pendulum really swinging back as Louis Emmerij at one point suggested

Index of Conference Proceedings Received British Library. Lending Division, 1984 Non-Governmental Organisations - Performance and Accountability Michael Edwards, David Hulme, 2014-03-18 The last decade has seen some significant changes in international development and in the status of non governmental organisations operating in the field Not only has the number of NGOs virtually doubled many of them have seen a considerable growth in their budgets and have grown closer to governments and official aid agencies NGOs are acknowledged by many to be more effective agents of development than governments or commercial interests even as a magic bullet for development problems Despite these positive trends the real impact of the NGO sector is not well documented This is partly because NGO performance assessment and accountability methods are weak and partly because NGOs are caught up increasingly in the world of official aid which pushes them towards certain forms of evaluation at the expense of others This unique book takes a hard and critical look at these issues and describes how NGOs can and must improve the way they measure and account for their performance if they are to be truly effective A Guide to Social Analysis for Projects in Developing Countries Great Britain. Overseas Development Administration,1995 This guide has been written for all qualified social analysts sociologists anthropologists and human geographers who need to apply their expertise in practical development work that benefits developing countries

Investigating Local Knowledge Paul Sillitoe,2019-05-23 Originally published in 2004 Local knowledge reflects many generations of experience and problem solving by people around the world increasingly affected by globalizing forces Such knowledge is far more sophisticated than development professionals previously assumed and as such represents an immensely valuable resource A growing number of governments and international development agencies are recognizing that local level knowledge and organizations offer the foundation for new participatory models of development that are both cost effective and sustainable and ecologically and socially sound This book provides a timely overview of new directions and new approaches to investigating the role of rural communities in generating knowledge founded on their sophisticated understandings of their environments devising mechanisms to conserve and sustain their natural resources and establishing community based organizations that serve as forums for identifying problems and dealing with them through local level experimentation innovation and exchange of information with other societies These studies show that development activities that work with and through local knowledge and organizations have several important advantages over projects that operate outside them Local knowledge informs grassroots decision making much of which takes place through indigenous organizations and associations at the community level as people seek to identify and determine solutions to their problems

Resources in Education ,1997 The Reality of Aid 2000 Judith Randel,Tony German,Deborah Ewing,2013-11-05 NOW IN ITS SEVENTH ANNUAL EDITION The Reality of Aid 2000 looks at how the performance of OECD donor countries on aid and development cooperation has matched up to the challenge of eliminating absolute poverty The report charts some improvements at the level of donor policy and rhetoric But its stark conclusion is that the potential of aid to combat poverty is constantly undermined by governments both North and South who fail to address the extreme inequalities of income and the structural social and political injustices that entrench people in poverty Part I of The Reality of Aid 2000 presents an overview of poverty in the current global context and an analysis of recent trends in aid looking particularly at basic education In Part II chapters by experts from NGOs in OECD countries and the European Union show how donor aid administrations approach poverty and highlight the weakness of political commitment in the North to the needs of the poor Part III sets out Southern perspectives on development cooperation Part IV provides at a glance comparisons of donors aid outlook and commitment to development cooperation in the 21st century poverty eradication gender and public support Throughout the book information is presented in easily interpreted diagrams and graphs The Reality of Aid has established itself as a unique source of independent evaluation and comment on aid policies and development It is indispensable for all in the field whether in the official or voluntary sectors providing a regular reality check on just how much the international community is doing to realise the achievable goal of eliminating poverty Indispensable it gives you most of the hard facts you need to know about the major issues Nett Internationalist The most comprehensive and rigorous independent analysis of the aid and development policies of the world's wealthiest nations Essential reading Charity World The Reality of Aid remains an essential purchase by the libraries of development institutions and an invaluable reference for development practitioners Development Change A reliable watchdog for anyone interested in this important aspect of international relations ORBIT An accessible reference it encompasses many key issues and stimulates further research Commonwealth Comparative Politics Originally published in 1999 Food Aid Reconsidered Edward Clay, Olav Stokke, 2025-06-20 Food aid continues to be a high profile and perhaps the most controversial form of aid Food Aid Reconsidered Assessing the Impact on Third World Countries originally published in 1991 which concentrates on recent experience especially in Sub Saharan Africa provided a stocktaking on the state of the debate and the contribution that economics and other social sciences had made to resolving many of the controversies surrounding food aid at the time These issues include the gap between the potential and actual contribution of food aid on food security and agricultural production in developing countries European dairy aid to India and possible alternatives to exporting food from developed countries for providing humanitarian assistance to hungry people Today it can be read in its historical context Aid for Trade at a Glance 2009 Maintaining Momentum OECD, World Trade Organization, 2009-07-15 This aid for trade monitoring report examines trends and developments presenting a comprehensive analysis of donor and partner country engagement In addition it addresses the regional dimension and provides fact sheets that help in assessing the outcomes and impacts Evaluating Development Assistance Lodewijk Berlage, Olav Stokke, 2018-10-24 First published in 1992 The present volume belongs to a series focusing on the evaluation of development assistance This series is part of a research and publishing programme under the auspices of the Working Group on Aid Policy and Performance of the European Association of Development Research and Training Institutes EADI Two volumes have already appeared The first focuses on the performance and economic impact of food aid and the second on the evaluation policies and performance of some European countries The papers were presented at a workshop in March 1990 organised by the Norwegian Institute of International Affairs at Lysebu on the outskirts of Oslo A Year Book of the Commonwealth, 1985 Government Publications Great Britain. Her Majesty's Stationery Office, 1987 Accountability in education: meeting our commitments UNESCO, 2017-10-30 The second edition of the Global Education Monitoring Report GEM Report presents the latest evidence on global progress towards the education targets of the UN Sustainable Development Goals With hundreds of millions of people still not going to school and many not achieving minimum skills at school it is clear education systems are off track to achieve global goals The marginalized currently bear the most consequences but also stand to benefit the most if policy makers pay sufficient attention to their needs Faced with these challenges along with tight budgets and increased emphasis on results oriented value for money countries are searching for solutions Increased accountability often tops the list The 2017 8 GEM Report shows the entire array of approaches to accountability in education It ranges from countries unused to the concept where violations of the right to education go unchallenged to countries where accountability has become an end in itself instead of a means to inclusive equitable and high quality education and lifelong learning for all The report emphasizes that education is a shared responsibility While governments have primary responsibility all actors schools teachers parents students international organizations private sector providers civil society and the media 0 3 have a role in improving education systems The report emphasized the importance of transparency and availability of information but urges caution in how data are used It makes the case for avoiding accountability systems with a disproportionate focus on narrowly defined results and punitive sanctions In an era of multiple accountability tools the report provides clear evidence on those that are working and those that are not Back cover

Better Aid Evaluation in Development Agencies OECD,2010-12-14 The evaluation of official development programmes has grown tremendously over the past two decades the public and taxpayers increasingly demand credible assessments of whether aid works to improve the lives of the world s poorest Global efforts They Came to Train Peter Williams,Great Britain. Overseas Development Administration,1985 Aid to Africa Gordon Cumming,2017-07-05 The end of the Cold War forced Western donors to rethink their aid relations with Africa This book looks at two of these donors France and Britain and asks whether the development programmes of these former colonial powers have undergone radical changes since the end of the Old World Order It focuses on the introduction of a controversial new regime trend political conditionality and uses policy models to illustrate the driving forces behind this new development strategy and explain substantial differences in France and Britain s practice of political conditionality in Togo and Kenya Overall this volume the first comparative study of French and British aid in the post Cold War period offers fresh insights into the evolution of the political assistance agenda and into deeper forces at work within the French and UK policy processes A Cumulative Listing of Publications Originating in the Overseas Development Administration Or the Ministry of Overseas Development Since 1970 Great Britain.
