Boundaries Peter Sahlins, 2023-04-28 This book is an account of two dimension of state and nation building in France and Spain since the seventeenth century the invention of a national boundary line and the making of Frenchmen and Spaniards It is also a history of Catalan rural society in the Cerdanya a valley in the eastern Pyrenees divided between Spain and France in 1659 This study shuttles between two levels between the center and the periphery It connects the macroscopic political and diplomatic history of France and Spain from the Old Regime monarchies to the national territorial states of the later nineteenth century and the molecular history the historical ethnography of Catalan village communities rural nobles and peasants in the borderland On the frontier these two histories come together and they can be told as one This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1990 This book is an account of two dimension of state and nation building in France and Spain since the seventeenth century the invention of a national boundary line and the making of Frenchmen and Spaniards It is also a history of Catalan rural society in Migration and Activism in Europe since 1945 W. Pojmann, 2008-09-29 The political and social activism of immigrants to Europe since 1945 takes the spotlight in this volume Each chapter draws on research from international scholars offering a riveting look at a variety of migrant experiences and providing welcome comparisons of the impact of migration on different countries

Identity and Experience at the India-Bangladesh Border Debdatta Chowdhury, 2018-06-28 The effects of the partition of India in 1947 have been more far reaching and complex than the existing partition narratives of violence and separation reveal The immediacy of the movement of refugees between India and the newly formed state of Pakistan overshadowed the actual effect of the drawing of the border between the two states The book is an empirical study of border narratives across the India Bangladesh border specifically the West Bengal part of India's border with Bangladesh. It tries to move away from the perpetrator state victim civilian framework usually used in the studies of marginal people and looks at the kind of agencies that the border people avail themselves of. Instead of looking at the border as the periphery, the book looks at it as the line of convergence and negotiations, the centre of the people who survive it every day. It shows that various social, political and economic identities converge at the borderland and are modified in unique ways by the spatial specificity of the border, thus forming a border identity and a border consciousness. Common sense of the civilians and the state machinery embodied in the border guards collide, cooperate and affect each other at the borderlands to form this unique spatial consciousness. It is the everyday survival strategies of the border people which aptly reflect this consciousness rather than any universal border theory or state-centric discourses about the borders. A bottom-up approach is of utmost importance in order to understand how a spatially unique area binds diverse other identities into a larger spatial identity of a border people. The book's relevance lies in its attempt to explore such everyday narratives across the Bengal border while avoiding any major theorising project so as not to choke the potential of such experience-centred insights into the lives of a unique community of people. In that it contributes towards a study of borders globally, providing potential approaches to understand border people worldwide. Based on detailed field research, this book brings a fresh approach to the study of this border. It will be of interest to researchers in the field of South Asian studies, citizenship, development, governance and border studies.

Tourism in Frontier Areas Shaul Krakover, Y. Gradus, 2002-01-01. In this timely new collection of essays, an excellent roster of contributors bring new insight to a wide spectrum of topics related to tourism in frontier areas. The book focuses on international case studies as it discusses the economic feasibility of frontier tourist development, the tourist development of rural and urban settings and the expansion of tourism to remote borderlands. The contributors highlight the potential as well as the environmental, economic, bureaucratic and cultural difficulties of peripheral tourism. This innovative and thought-provoking approach with its wealth of detail makes Tourism in Frontier Areas essential reading for scholars in tourist development, regional development and economic geography.

Statemaking and Territory in South Asia Bernardo A. Michael, 2014-10-01. Statemaking and Territory in South Asia: Lessons from the Anglo-Gorkha War 1814-1816 seeks to understand how European colonization transformed the organization of territory in South Asia through an examination of the territorial disputes that underlay the Anglo-Gorkha War of 1814-1816 and subsequent efforts of the colonial state to reorder its territories. The volume argues that these disputes arose out of older tribute, taxation and property relationships that left their territories perpetually intermixed and with ill-defined boundaries. It also seeks to describe the long drawn-out process of territorial reordering undertaken by the British in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries that set the stage for the creation of a clearly defined geographical template for the modern state in South Asia.

Gender, Sexuality and Identities of the Borderlands Suzanne Clisby, 2020-05-26. Drawing on border thinking, postcolonial and transnational feminisms and queer theory Gender Sexuality and Identities of the Borderlands brings an intersectional feminist and queer lens to understandings of borderlands liminality and lives lived at the margins of socio cultural and sexual normativities Bringing together new and contemporary interdisciplinary research from across diverse global contexts this collection explores the lived experiences of what Gloria Anzald a might have called threshold people people who live among and in between different worlds While it is often challenging difficult and even dangerous inhabiting marginal spaces living at the borders of socio cultural religious sexual ethnic or gendered norms can create possibilities for developing unique ways of seeing and understanding the worlds within which we live This collection casts a spotlight on the margins those queer spaces in literary cinematic and cultural borderlands postcolonial and transnational feminist perspectives on movement and migration and critical analyses of liminal lives within and between socio cultural borders Each chapter within this unique book brings a critical insight into diverse global human experiences in the 21st Century

Dividing up the World Paul Doe, 2020-05-01 Have you ever thought about why a country's borders are where they are Dividing up the World the story of our international borders and why they are where they are is an utterly fascinating study of how borders have come about and the stories behind them As well as unearthing tales and anecdotes relating to more familiar borders the author also examines less well known ones including the Drummully Polyp the Scots Dike the Medicine Line the Gadsden Purchase Neutral Moresnet the Green Line the Sand Wall the Gambian Ceded Mile the Caprivi Strip and an island that changes nationality twice a year The result is a highly entertaining meticulously researched book full of accounts of geography maps politics colonialism power aggression and negotiation After reading Dividing up the World the story of our international borders and why they are where they are you will never think of borders in the same way again

Routing Borders Between Territories, Discourses and Practices H. Van Houtum, Eiki Berg, 2018-10-24 This title was first published in 2003 This multi disciplinary reading focuses on the latent meaningful and contextual strategies that are often implied and included in bordering processes It demonstrates that the border as a concept is not so much an object but rather an ongoing process The book also consciously and provocatively balances the modernist trap of universalism exclusive ordering and state centrism and the postmodernist trap of moral nihilism Leading specialists in their fields provide illustrative case studies from Europe and Asia making a major contribution to border studies

Tourism and Borders Helmut Wachowiak, 2016-02-24 Although globalization has led to increased cross border traffic there has been little examination of how crossing political boundaries affects tourism and vice versa Bringing together case studies from Europe the USA and Southern Africa this volume discusses current issues and policies destination management and communication and planning in cross border areas Topics studied include borders as tourist attractions and destinations in their own right as barriers to travel and the growth of tourism boundaries as links of transit and the growth of supranationalism The book concludes that the role of borders has changed dramatically in recent years Many more borders that have traditionally hosted large scale tourism are becoming more difficult to cross primarily because of safety and immigration concerns On the other hand places that were once forbidden to foreigners are now opening up and new destinations are becoming more commonplace
