The Facial Designs Of Hao Shouchen

The Facial Designs Of Hao Shouchen:

Chinese-Islamic Works of Art, 1644-1912 Emily Byrne Curtis, 2019-11-27 Chinese Islamic studies have concentrated thus far on the arts of earlier periods with less attention paid to works from the Qing Dynasty 1644-1912. This book focuses on works of Chinese Islamic art from the late seventeenth century to the present day and brings to the reader's attention several new areas for consideration. The book examines glass wares which were probably made for a local Chinese Muslim clientele illustrating a fascinating mixture of traditional Chinese and Muslim craft traditions. While the inscriptions on them can be related directly to the mosque lamps of the Arab world, their form and style of decoration is characteristically that of Han Chinese. Several contemporary Chinese Muslim artists have succeeded in developing a unique fusion of calligraphic styles from both cultures. Other works examined include enamels, porcelains, and interior painted snuff bottles with emphasis on either those with Arabic inscriptions or on works by Chinese Muslim artists. The book includes a chapter written by Dr Shelly Xue and an addendum written by Dr Riccardo Joppert. This book will appeal to scholars working in art history, religious studies, Chinese studies, Chinese history, religious history, and material culture. 中国伊斯兰教艺术, 2003, 16. Theatrical Costume, Masks, Make-Up and Wigs Sidney Jackson Jowers, 2013-10-15. First published in 2000. Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis, an information company. Soul of Beijing Opera, Li Ruru, 2010-05-01. This book will act as a powerful introduction to the story of Beijing Opera over the course of the twentieth century with a particularly strong emphasis on the Communist period and its influence on contemporary performance. Using excellent oral history research and with a strong focus on practice and performance techniques, Li Ruru places the genre in both its historical and global context, not a timeless Chinese tradition but a product of China's turbulent twentieth century and the global interactions that were a key part of that history. Henrietta Harrison, Harvard University. This meticulously researched and colourful account of the highly complex performance form, jingju, will be of interest to a wide constituency of theatre scholars and cultural historians. Writing from the unique dual perspective of insider practitioner and academic, Li Ruru deftly weaves oral and cultural histories together with detailed performance analyses, including a fascinating chapter on the secrets of jingju training. This book promises to raise significantly the profile of this Chinese total theatre for English-speaking audiences. Jonathan Pitches, founding co-editor of Theatre, Dance and Performance Training. Li Ruru's unique and valuable perspective combines the critical eye of the imaginative researcher with the intimate perspective of a true jingju insider, the daughter of one of the twentieth century's leading female performers. Impeccably researched, passionate, and personal, this aptly titled book provides readers with an exciting and thought-provoking look at jingju history and performance practice through its focus on the lives and work of six controversial leading artists. Elizabeth Wichmann Walczak, University of Hawai'i at Manoa. Any traditional theatre has to engage the changing world to avoid becoming a living fossil. How has Beijing Opera, a highly stylized theatre with breath-taking acrobatics and martial arts, fabulous costumes, and striking makeup, survived into the new millennium while coping with a century of great upheavals and competition from new entertainment forms Li Ruru's The Soul of Beijing Opera answers that question looking at the evolution of singing and performance styles make up and costume audience demands as well as stage and street presentation modes amid tumultuous social and political changes Li's study follows a number of major artists' careers in mainland China and Taiwan drawing on extensive primary print sources as well as personal interviews with performers and their cultural peers One chapter focuses on the illustrious career of Li's own mother and how she adapted to changes in Communist ideology In addition she explores how performers as social beings have responded to conflicts between tradition and modernity and between convention and innovation Through performers' negotiation and compromises Beijing Opera has undergone constant re-examination of its inner artistic logic and adjusted to the demands of the external world
