experience as well as a journey deep into intimate spaces on the Continent Although the stories are individualistic and they tackle a variety of themes there is seamlessness in the style Each writer presents us with characters that take you by the hand into vividly painted worlds Each writer seems to pick up where the other left off Each has achieved storytelling excellence Eight stories eight writers five countries one remarkable journey Reading this collection we are reminded that Africa is a birthplace of human kind and as such the origin of all storytelling These writers have skilfully crafted a collection that honours an ancient tradition This anthology presents a range of issues Some stories paint everyday life with a light comic touch as in the story in which a policeman sees the future of his marriage suddenly tied to the destiny of a cooking pot while others use the mundane as the vehicle to probe difficult questions of destiny or the role of a local story telling in a country with a brutal history

Writing South Africa Derek Attridge, Rosemary Jolly, 1998-01-22 During the final years of the apartheid era and the subsequent transition to democracy South African literary writing caught the world's attention as never before Writers responded to the changing political situation and its daily impact on the country's inhabitants with works that recorded or satirised state enforced racism explored the possibilities of resistance and rebuilding and creatively addressed the vexed question of literature's relation to politics and ethics Writing South Africa offers a window on the literary activity of this extraordinary period that conveys its range going well beyond a handful of world renowned names and its significance for anyone interested in the impact of decolonisation and democratisation on the cultural sphere It brings together for the first time discussions by some of the most distinguished South African novelists poets and dramatists with those of leading commentators based in South Africa Britain and North America

City in South African Literature Meg Samuelson, 2021-08-23 This book demonstrates the insights that literature brings to transdisciplinary urban studies and particularly to the study of cities of the South Starting from the claim staked by mining capital in the late nineteenth century and its production of extractive and segregated cities it surveys over a century of writing in search of counterclaims through which the literature reimagines the city as a place of assembly and attachment Focusing on how the South African city has been designed to funnel gold into the global economy and to service an enclaved minority the study looks to the literary city to advance a contrary emphasis on community conviviality and care An accessible and informative introduction to literature of the South African city at significant historical junctures this book will also be of great interest to scholars and students in urban studies and Global South studies      Imagining the Edgy City Loren Kruger, 2013-10-30 All roads lead to Johannesburg remarks the narrator of Alan Paton's novel Cry The Beloved Country Taking this quote as her impetus Loren Kruger guides readers into the heart of South Africa's largest city Exploring a wide range of fiction film architecture performance and urban practices from trading to parades Imagining the Edgy City traverses Johannesburg's rich cultural terrain over the last century The edgy city in Kruger's exploration refers not only to persistent boundaries between the haves and have nots but also to the cosmopolitan diversity and innovation that has emerged from Johannesburg The book begins with the building boom performances and uneven but noteworthy inter-racial exchange that marked the city's fiftieth anniversary celebration at the Empire Exhibition in 1936 This celebration rapidly gave way to the political repression and civil unrest that characterized South Africa from 1950 to 1990 Yet poetry drama fiction and photography continued to thrive bearing witness not only against apartheid but to alternatives beyond it In the late twentieth century the not quite post-apartheid condition fired the artistic imaginations of film makers as well as novelists Urban neglect rising crime and the influx of migrants inspired noir cinema like Michael Hammon's Wheels and Deals and fiction about migration from Achmat Dangor to Phaswane Mpe and in the twenty first urban renewal has produced public art that incorporates the desire lines of newcomers as well as natives Alongside well known artists such as Nadine Gordimer William Kentridge and David Goldblatt the book introduces many artists architects writers and other chroniclers who have hitherto received little attention abroad Ultimately Johannesburg emerges as a city whose negotiation of the tensions between incivility and innovation invites comparisons with modern conurbations across the world not only African cities such as Dakar or other cities of the south such as Bogot but also with major metropolises in North America and Europe from Chicago to Paris A multi-faceted work that speaks to scholars in urban studies literature and history Imagining the Edgy City is a rich example of interdisciplinary scholarship at its best      The Short Story in South Africa Rebecca Fasselt, Corinne Sandwith, 2022-03-24 This book considers the key critical interventions on short story writing in South Africa written in English since the year 2000 The short story genre whilst often marginalised in national literary canons has been central to the trajectory of literary history in South Africa In recent years the short story has undergone a significant renaissance with new collections and young writers making a significant impact on the contemporary literary scene and subgenres such as speculative fiction erotic fiction flash fiction and queer fiction expanding rapidly in popularity This book examines the role of the short story genre in reflecting or championing new developments in South African writing and the ways in which traditional boundaries and definitions of the short story in South Africa have been reimagined in the present Drawing together a range of critical interventions including scholarly articles interviews and personal reflective pieces the volume traces some of the aesthetic and thematic continuities and discontinuities in the genre and sheds new light on questions of literary form Finally the book considers the place of the short story in twenty first century writing and interrogates the ways in which the short story form may contribute to or recast ideas of the post apartheid or post transitional The perfect guide to contemporary short story writing in South Africa this book will be essential reading for researchers of African literature

The Columbia Guide to South African Literature in English Since 1945 Gareth Cornwell,Dirk Kloppe,Craig Mackenzie,2010-04-13 From the outset South Africa s history has been marked by division and conflict along racial and ethnic lines From 1948 until 1994 this division was formalized in the National Party s policy of apartheid Because apartheid intruded on every aspect of private and public life South African literature was preoccupied with the politics of race and social engineering Since the release from prison of Nelson Mandela in 1990 South Africa has been a new nation in the making inspired by a nonracial idealism yet beset by poverty and violence South African writers have responded in various ways to Njabulo Ndebele s call to rediscover the ordinary The result has been a kaleidoscope of texts in which evolving cultural forms and modes of identity are rearticulated and explored An invaluable guide for general readers as well as scholars of African literary history this comprehensive text celebrates the multiple traditions and exciting future of the South African voice Although the South African Constitution of 1994 recognizes no fewer than eleven official languages English has remained the country s literary lingua franca This book offers a narrative overview of South African literary production in English from 1945 to the postapartheid present An introduction identifies the most interesting and noteworthy writing from the period Alphabetical entries provide accurate and objective information on genres and writers An appendix lists essential authors published before 1945

Relations and Networks in South African Indian Writing ,2018-05-15 Writers of Indian origin seldom appear in the South African literary landscape although the participation of Indian South Africans in the anti apartheid struggle was anything but insignificant The collective experiences of violence and the plea for reconciliation that punctuate the rhythms of post apartheid South Africa delineate a national script in which ethnic class and gender affiliations coalesce and patterns of connectedness between diverse communities are forged Relations and Networks in South African Indian Writing brings the experience of South African Indians to the fore demonstrating how their search for identity is an integral part of the national scene s project of connectedness By exploring how Indianness is articulated in the South African national script through the works of contemporary South African Indian writers such as Aziz Hassim Ahmed Essop Farida

Karodia Achmat Dangor Shamim Sarif Ronnie Govender Rubendra Govender Neelan Govender Tholsi Mudly Ashwin Singh and Imraan Coovadia along with the prison memoirists Dr Goonam and Fatima Meer the book offers a theoretical model of South South subjectivities that is deeply rooted in the Indian Ocean world and its cosmopolitanisms Relations and Networks demonstrates convincingly the permeability of identity that is the marker of the Indian Ocean space a space defined by relations and networks established within and beyond ethnic class and gender categories CONTRIBUTORS Isabel Alonso Breto M J Daymond Felicity Hand Salvador Faura Farhad Khoyratty Esther Pujolr s Noguera J Coplen Rose Modhumita Roy Lindy Stiebel Juan Miguel Zarandona Student Encyclopedia of African Literature Douglas Killam, Alicia L.

Bardolph, Denise Coussey, 2022-05-20 The term recent or new covers novels and some short fiction published between 1980 and 1995 a period characterized by growing pessimism about the state of affairs in both East and West Africa The section on South Africa deals more narrowly with the 1985-95 watershed marking the end of official apartheid and the beginning of reconstruction The three sections aim at giving a coherent picture of the main directions in production highlighting three main centres of interest Nigeria Kenya and the Republic of South Africa although some novelists from neighbouring countries are also considered such as Kofi Awoonor from Ghana Nuruddin Farah from Somalia and M G Vassanji and Abdulrazak Gurnah from Tanzania The evaluations conducted in the three sections lead to the emergence of a number of common themes in particular the writers predilection for topicality the role of the past and the controversy over the idea of the nation Central themes also include the role of women in fending for themselves both in rural and in urban environments A further major theme is the role of the past the Nigerian civil war the Mau Mau period in Kenya the revisiting of slavery the refurbishing of myth the questioning of historical reconstructions The preoccupation of the West East and South African novel with the idea and ideal of the nation is explored particularly in the context of migrancy hybridity and transculturalism characterizing the anglophone diaspora The volume is aimed at literary scholars and students and more generally readers of fiction seeking an introduction to contemporary literary developments in various parts of sub Saharan anglophone Africa No categorical distinction is drawn between popular and high literature Though still selective and not intended as an exhaustive catalogue the present survey covers a large number of titles Rather than resorting to broad and ultimately somewhat abstract thematic categories the contributors endeavour to keep control over this mass of material by applying a micro thematic taxonomy This approach well tested in the tradition of literary studies within France groups works analytically and evaluatively in terms of such categories as actional motifs plot frames and sociologically relevant locations or topics thereby enabling a clearer focus on the dynamics of preoccupation and tendency that form networks of affinity across the fiction produced in the period surveyed
