Analysing Social Policy Greg Marston, Catherine McDonald, 2006-01-01 This book brings together leading international researchers to discuss governmental approaches to analysing social policies Analysing Social Policy expands the scope of social policy analysis using the insights from post Foucauldian scholarship on the art of governing in liberal democracies One of the main conclusions reached is that policy researchers need to pay much greater attention to the minutiae of policy reform and to the discursive and material ways in which power operates in policy change The chapters comprising this book are purposefully written in a clear accessible and reflective manner with each of the contributions empirically grounded drawing on social policy problems and practices in many countries ranging from North America to Europe to Australasia The editors address key concerns of both policy analysts as well as academic researchers attempting to locate appropriate theoretical frameworks to make sense of welfare state restructuring in the 21st century This book will appeal to researchers and research students in political science social policy social work and sociology through its demonstration of how to apply contemporary social theory to research problems It will also be of interest to policy scholars around the world who are involved in analysing the intersections of power politics and policy

Framing Welfare Recipients in Political Discourse Lenka Kissová, 2021-07-08 This book explores the shift towards individual responsibility that is increasingly evident in welfare systems across the world The book will be of interest to students and scholars across sociology social policy and political science with a particular focus on migration minorities political discourse securitisation social justice and human rights This book offers a compelling read analysing how workfare is legitimated in the Central European context through the innovative metaphor of political farming The analytical framework brings together several distinct streams of theorizing critical discourse studies critical security studies governmentality boundary making and the dynamics of ethnic relations seamlessly and effectively Through a very nuanced discursive analysis Kissov shows how the poor the offenders and the unadaptable categories policymakers use to talk about material need recipients are linked pathologically with criminality abuse of the system and other negative perceptions This is a must read text for anyone interested in how political actors justify questionable legislation that cements inequality in today s neoliberal milieu B Nadya Jaworsky Associate Professor Sociology Masaryk University Czech Republic Lenka Kissov s book is clearly written and carefully researched Her interdisciplinary insight and discursive analysis of parliamentary debates on Slovak workfare policies illustrates the deliberate precise and politicized colocation of Roma marginalization and economic disadvantage in a manner that starkly illustrates systemic racism dressed up as morally necessary regulatory reform Moreover her research has broader comparative and methodological relevance given how she layers in and utilizes governmentality securitization and legitimation theory unmasking how neoliberal economic assumptions and dog whistle politics woven into the speech of politicians works to demonize recipients as real or potential cheats and criminals enact further social exclusion and heighten inequality and fear while not so subtly promoting existing prejudices Her overarching metaphor that of parliamentarians engaging in political farming where their ideas seed and take root in fertile soil of the national landscape resulting in regulatory products effectively demonstrates how social reality generally and state regulation specifically can be constructed divorced from actual evidence a process beyond her specific case and critically relevant to our times Barbara J Falk Professor Department of Defence Studies Canadian Forces College Royal Military College of Canada Fellow Centre for European Russian and Eurasian Studies University of Toronto Canada

Jordan-Zachary,2009-01-13 Black Women Cultural Images and Social Policy offers a critical analysis of the policy making process Jordan Zachary demonstrates how social meanings surrounding the discourses on crime welfare and family policies produce and reproduce discursive practices that maintain gender and racial hierarchies Using critical discourse analysis CDA she analyzes the values and ideologies ensconced in the various images of black womanhood and their impact on policy formation This book provides exceptional insight into the racing gendering process of policy making to show how relations of power and forms of inequality are discursively constructed and impact the lives of African American women The Power In / Of Language David R. Burbules,Morwenna Griffiths,2015-01-06 This handbook focuses on the often neglected dimension of interpretation in educational research It argues that all educational research is in some sense interpretive and that understanding this issue belies some usual dualisms of thought and practice such as the sharp dichotomy between qualitative and quantitative research Interpretation extends from the very framing of the research task through the sources which constitute the data the process of their recording representation and analysis to the way in which the research is finally or provisionally presented The thesis of the handbook is that interpretation cuts across the fields both philosophically organizationally and methodologically By covering a comprehensive range of research approaches and methodologies the handbook gives early career researchers what they need to know in order to decide what particular methods can offer for various educational research contexts fields An extensive overview includes concrete examples of different kinds of research not limited for example to teaching and learning examples as present in the Anglo Saxon tradition but including as well what in the German Continental tradition is labelled p dagogisch examples from child rearing and other contexts of non formal education with full description and explanation of why these were chosen in particular circumstances and reflection on the wisdom or otherwise of the choice combined in each case with consideration of the role of interpretation in the process The handbook includes examples of a large number of methods traditionally classified as qualitative interpretive and quantitative used across the area of the study of education Examples are drawn from across the globe thus exemplifying the different opportunities and constraints that educational research has to confront in different societies
