Reflections from Pioneers in Education and Research Diane De Anda, 2013-10-18 The purpose of this book is to open a discourse on current and pertinent issues related to multicultural populations by the most noted experts and researchers in the field This book offers an overview of the literature on multicultural issues and assesses its approach to the following issues the stereotypic assumptions with regard to filial piety and Asian American populations substance abuse within the Latino community multicultural youth and elders refugee and immigrant populations as well as vulnerable populations such as victims of political and sexual exploitation The aim is to provide a forum for educators in the field to present views regarding important issues for which there is no other venue They are important for educators practitioners and students in the field to consider and discuss These will serve as springboards for such discussion Although references will be cited when appropriate these will be position papers rather than research papers or reviews of the literature This book was based on a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic and Cultural Diversity in Social Work Latinos in American Society Ruth Enid

Zambrana, 2011-06-15 It is well known that Latinos in the United States bear a disproportionate burden of low educational attainment high residential segregation and low visibility in the national political landscape In Latinos in American Society Ruth Enid Zambrana brings together the latest research on Latinos in the United States to demonstrate how national origin age gender socioeconomic status and education affect the well being of families and individuals By mapping out how these factors result in economic social and political disadvantage Zambrana challenges the widespread negative perceptions of Latinos in America and the single story of Latinos in the United States as a monolithic group Synthesizing an increasingly substantial body of social science research much of it emerging from the interdisciplinary fields of Chicano studies U S Latino studies critical race studies and family studies the author adopts an intersectional social inequality lens as a means for understanding the broader sociopolitical dynamics of the Latino family considering ethnic subgroup diversity community context institutional practices and their intersections with family processes and well being Zambrana a leading expert on Latino populations in America demonstrates the value of this approach for capturing the contemporary complexity of and transitions within diverse U S Latino families and communities This book offers the most up to date portrait we have of Latinos in America today

Rethinking Social Work Practice with Multicultural Communities Yolanda C. Padilla, Ruth McRoy, Rocío Calvo, 2020-05-21 With research showing that clients from diverse racial and ethnic groups disproportionately experience barriers in their interactions with social services and that providers recognize the need to be better prepared to work with these groups this book invites us to rethink current approaches to social work practice with multicultural communities We begin with a synthesis of the current evidence on the provision of care to multicultural communities that provides an in depth look at both client and provider experiences The following chapters offer tangible research based approaches to engaging with multicultural clients and reveal often unrecognized problems with current models of social work practice A unique compilation of rigorous qualitative experimental and community based studies demonstrate the effectiveness of culturally grounded interventions and identify the specific factors associated with positive outcomes Areas covered include disability marriage and couple relationship problems domestic violence and mental illness within Latinx African American First Nations and South Asian communities As the authors in this book show the stories of multicultural communities are narratives of unprecedented resourcefulness and reinvention Yet social work underutilizes rich family and community cultural resources By not facilitating their involvement social service systems compromise these vital resources which social services cannot replace In arguing that we need to expand professional boundaries to encompass indigenous practices family and extended kin and therapeutic relationships that make sense to different cultural groups this book will be of interest to those studying the ways in which social work practice can be improved to better suit the needs of a racially and ethnically diverse population This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic Cultural Diversity in Social Work

Andersen, Kristin Engh Førde, Kjetil Grørdum, Joseph Salomonsen, 2018-11-02 This anthology provides insights into processes of violent extremism both locally and globally questioning how and why it arises and what can be done about it The book will be relevant for policy makers post graduates and researchers in the social and political sciences religious studies law psychology medicine and education as well as practitioners in direct contact with targeted individuals or vulnerable groups The anthology contributes models analyses and practical tools helpful for first liners who are well placed to both see and prevent incipient extremism and to rehabilitate to aid those who have been extremists in returning to society and finding a life worth living In addition to chapters focusing on work in Norway Denmark and Sweden there are contributions from North America Africa Australia the Middle East and Europe The Integration and Protection of Immigrants Paul Van Aerschot, Patricia Daenzer, 2016-02-24 In Scandinavian countries immigration is a sensitive issue and legislators approach to the questions it has raised has varied over the years Whatever immigrant and integration policies are adopted in a democratic society it is clear that the legislation and the authorities have to ensure that the individual rights of the immigrants residing in its territory are respected With Canada as a point of reference this book draws attention to weaknesses in the regulation and implementation of integration provisions threatening the immigrants individual rights in the EU member states of Denmark Finland and Sweden The study challenges readers to critically review the meaning of rights and the notion of global caring It takes a critical look at how vulnerable immigrants fare in a largely immigrant nation with a welfare capitalism legacy when compared to three European nations which claim to embrace institutional welfare models This book will be of great interest to scholars and decision makers interested in Scandinavian or Canadian immigration and integration policies Young People and Everyday Multiculturalism Anita Harris, 2013-05-02 Unlike as with previous generations diversity and multiculturalism are engrained in the lives of today's urban youth Within their culturally diverse urban environments young people from different backgrounds now routinely encounter one another in their everyday lives and negotiate and contest ways of living together and sharing civic space What are their strategies for producing disrupting and living well with difference how do they create inclusive forms of belonging and what are the conditions that militate against social cohesion amongst youth This unique ethnography from education and cultural studies expert Anita Harris explores the ways young people manage conditions of cultural diversity in multicultural cities and suburbs focusing particularly on how young people in the multicultural cities of Australia experience define and produce mix conflict community and citizenship This book illuminates rich local approaches to living with difference from the perspective of a generation uniquely positioned to address this global challenge 'For those who've come across the seas...' Andrew Jakubowicz, Christina Ho, 2014-02-15 The Shifting Global World of Youth and Education Mabel Ann Brown, 2017-08-15 The Shifting Global World of Youth and Education explores how increasing migration and population changes are having an unprecedented impact on global education Given that the number of children of migrant background is growing internationally there is a need for increasing awareness of the educational attainment and cultural integration of this population group This book presents international perspectives on migration and youth and analyses what kinds of effects such demographic changes are having on educational systems around the world The chapters in this volume provide a fascinating insight into how countries around the world are dealing with loss or growth in their young population as well as changes to their education systems Written by specialist academics from the relevant country the book covers Cuba Lithuania the United Kingdom the United States Finland Greece Germany Austria Hungary Latvia China Australia India Italy and Poland Taking into consideration the countries social and political context the chapters discuss educational issues surrounding curriculum assessment and the opportunities available for the support of young people Conclusions are drawn about what could be done in the future for the benefit of both the migrant and the existing populations The Shifting Global World of Youth and Education will be of great interest to academics researchers and postgraduate students in the disciplines of education sociology political sciences and social work The book will also give secondary teachers teaching assistants social workers and youth workers the opportunity to reflect on their role within a national and international context

Women and Aging International Lee Ann Mjelde-Mossey, Iris Chi, 2013-09-13 According to a recent population report by the United Nations in most countries older women greatly outnumber older men In many cases the difference is so large that the concerns of the older population should in fact be viewed primarily as the concerns of older women Internationally the concerns of older women emanate from the unique gendered challenges they experience because they are more likely to be widowed poor have lower educational attainment fewer skills restricted inheritance and land ownership and have fewer sexual rights To add to this negative scenario ageist and sexist attitudes in both developed and developing societies throughout the world tend to categorize older women as non contributing burdens even though they are in fact often highly productive and bear most of the burdens of family caregiving responsibilities In spite of their majority status and list of concerns older women are less likely to be equally represented in the literature on aging This edited book introduces the reader to the diversity challenges and contributions of older women in several of the major regions of the world This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic and Cultural Diversity in Social Work
