Social Exclusion An Approach To The Australian Case:

Social Exclusion Doris Weiss, 2003 Far and away from the academic world with its theoretical discussion of what is meant by social exclusion and the empirical attempts to measure it is the painful reality that confronts large portions of society on a daily basis This book represents a contribution to the discussion on social exclusion in politics and social sciences However beyond this it is the social reality in Australia that this work hopes to address

Social Infrastructure and Vulnerability in the Suburbs Lucia Lo, Valerie Preston, Paul Anisef, Ranu Basu, Shuguang Wang, 2015-01-01 Social Infrastructure and Vulnerability in the Suburbs examines how the combination of the low density car centric geography of outer suburbs and neoliberal governance in the past several decades has affected disadvantaged populations in North American metro areas Taking the example of York Region a large outer suburb north of Toronto the authors provide a spatial analysis that illuminates the invisible geography of vulnerability in the region The volume examines access to social services by vulnerable groups who are not usually associated with the suburbs recent immigrants seniors and low income families Investigating their access to four types of social infrastructure education employment housing and settlement services this book presents a range of policy recommendations for how to address the social inequalities that characterize contemporary outer suburbs

Imagined Australia Renata Summo-O'Connell, 2009 From Terra Nullius to Land of Opportunities and Last Frontier the European dream has constructed and deconstructed Australia to feed its imagination of new societies At the same time Australia has over the last two centuries forged and re invented its own liaisons with Europe arguably to carve out its identity From the arts to social sciences to society itself a complex dynamic has grown between the two continents in ways that invite study and discussion A transnational research group has begun its collective investigation project of which this first volume is the outcome The book is a substantial multidisciplinary collection of current research and offers critical perspectives on culture literature and history around themes at the heart of the Imagined Australia project The essays instigate reflection discovery and discussion of how reciprocal imagining between Australia and Europe has articulated itself and ways and dimensions in which a relationship between communities imagined and not has unfolded

Australian Muslim Women's Borderland Subjectivities Lutfiye Ali, 2024-01-19 This book claims a discursive space in academic scholarship for knowledges and ways of knowing that capture the diversity complexity and full humanness of Australian Muslim women s subjectivities It draws on in depth conversational interviews with 20 Australian Muslim women from various ethnic backgrounds during which the women shared their experiences of being at the crossroads of their religious gendered racialised and ethnic identities The book puts forward a decolonial feminist border methodology by weaving the work of decolonial feminist philosophers Maria Lugones and Gloria Anzald a with postmodern feminist thinking on subjectivity and with discourse analysis This methodology is used to centre and attend to the fluidity and plurality of Muslim women s subjectivities at the intersections of race ethnicity patriarchy gender sexuality and Islam

The Good Mother Susan

Goodwin, Kate Huppatz, 2010 The Good Mother brings together essays on the contemporary relevance of the good mother in Australia. Although the ideals of the good mother change with time, fashion and context, they persist in public policy, the media, popular culture and workplaces. They place pressure on women to conform to particular standards against which they are judged and judge themselves. This book captures the diversity of contemporary women's experiences. Chapters address the experiences of executive mothers, mothers working in manual trades, yummy mummies and slummy mummies, low income mothers, single mothers, Indigenous mothers, lesbian parents, adoptive mothers and mothers negotiating schools and school choice. The essays demonstrate that while the good mother is no longer exclusively white, heterosexual, economically dependent and child focused, prevailing ideas about mothers and motherhood continue to influence the way types of women are represented and the way that all mothers think, act and present themselves. Addressing Violence, Abuse and Oppression Barbara Fawcett, Fran Waugh, 2013-07-04 This book provides a broad overview of violence in relation to a range of groups and areas that social workers and human service professionals work with: men, women, children, mental health, youth, older people, the workplace, disability, sexuality and rural communities. Community and Local Governance in Australia Paul Smyth, Tim Reddel, Andrew Jones, 2005 This book examines the resurgence in Australia of locality based social policy concerned with the spatial dimensions of disadvantage after the political failures of the market oriented approach to regional reform. The book proposes that these trends are leading to a new post competition policy regime in Australia that mirrors global policy trends. Social Work, Social Welfare, and Social Development in Nigeria Mel Gray, Solomon Amadasun, 2023-05-23 This groundbreaking book provides a comprehensive account of social work, social welfare and social development in Nigeria from a postcolonial perspective. It examines the historical development of social work and social welfare and the colonial legacies affecting contemporary social welfare provision, development, planning, social work practice and social work education. Against this historical backdrop, it seeks to understand the position of social work within Nigeria's minimalist structure of welfare provision and the reasons why social work struggles for legitimacy and recognition today. It covers contexts of social work practice including child welfare, juvenile justice, disabilities, mental health and ageing, as well as areas of development related problems and humanitarian assistance as new areas of practice for social workers including internally displaced and trafficked people and their impact on women and children. It seeks to understand Nigeria's ethno-religious diversity and indigenous cultural heritage to inform culturally appropriate social work practice. This book offers a global audience insight into Nigeria's developmental issues and problems and a local audience, social science and human service researchers, educators, practitioners, students and policymakers, a glimpse of what's possible when people work together toward a common goal. It will be of interest to all scholars and students of social work, development studies and social policy. The Routledge Handbook of Multilingualism Marilyn Martin-Jones, Adrian Blackledge, Angela Creese, 2012-05-31 The Routledge Handbook of Multilingualism provides a comprehensive survey of the field of multilingualism for a global readership and an overview of the research which situates multilingualism in its social cultural and political context The handbook includes an introduction and five sections with thirty two chapters by leading international contributors The introduction charts the changing landscape of social and ethnographic research on multilingualism theory methods and research sites and it foregrounds key contemporary debates Chapters are structured around sub headings such as early developments key issues related to theory and method new research directions This handbook offers an authoritative guide to shifts over time in thinking about multilingualism as well as providing an overview of the range of contemporary themes debates and research sites The Routledge Handbook of Multilingualism is the ideal resource for postgraduate students of multilingualism as well as those studying education and anthropology

Islam and Muslims in Australia Jan A Ali, 2020-12-01 Islam has long been a part of the multicultural landscape of major urban centres in Australia and encompasses a great diversity of theological jurisprudential and cultural practices Despite this in popular discourse media presentations and political debates Muslims are represented as a homogeneous group This timely book examines the growing presence of Islam and Muslims in Australia and how it is transforming and transformed by social cultural and religious spaces Employing critical analysis and macrosociology Islam and Muslims in Australia provides valuable insights into this growth and development and illuminates how socio cultural economic and political processes maintain and manage the ways Australian Muslims build their religious lives and identities and engage in the wider world while facing the inevitable effects of modernity This book argues that Islam in different parts of the world as well as in Australia is more than just a religion a cultural system or a social structure but is a complex composite of diverse institutional processes and functions social routines and norms and sacred rituals and practices responsible for shaping the lives of Muslims This volume focuses on five broad areas of sociological analysis namely Muslim settlement Muslim integration shari ah Muslim education and global terrorism

Evaluating the Complex Kim Forss, Mita Marra, Robert Schwartz, 2017-07-12 In the economic atmosphere following the crisis of 2008 not only have governments reacted by creating more complex policy initiatives but they have also promised that all of these initiatives will be evaluated Due to the complexity of many of the initiatives the ways of evaluating are becoming equally complex The book begins with a theoretical and conceptual explanation of the process and shows how this translates into the practice of evaluation The chapters cover a wide variety of subjects such as poverty homelessness smoking prevention HIV AIDS and child labor The use of case studies sheds light on the conceptual ideas at work in organizations addressing some of the world's largest and most varied problems The evaluation process seeks a balance between order and chaos The interaction of four elements simplicity inventiveness flexibility and specificity allows complex patterns to emerge The case studies illustrate this framework and provide a number of examples of practical management of complexity in light of contingency theories of the evaluation process itself These theories in turn match the complexity of evaluated policies strategies and programs The evaluation process is examined for its impact on policy outcomes and choices

The SAGE Handbook of Housing Studies David F Clapham, William A V Clark, Kenneth Gibb, 2012-04-20 Cross disciplinary and critical in its approach The SAGE Handbook of Housing Studies is an elucidating look at the key issues within the field. It covers the study of housing retrospectively but also analyses the future directions of research and theory demonstrating how it can contribute to wider debates in the social sciences. A comprehensive introductory chapter is followed by four parts offering complete coverage of the area. Markets examines the perception of housing markets how they function in different contexts and the importance of housing behaviour and neighbourhoods. Approaches looks at how other disciplines economics geography and sociology have informed the direction of housing studies. Context traces the interactions between housing studies and other aspects of society providing context to debate housing through issues of space social welfare and the environment. Policy is a multi disciplinary and comprehensive take on the major policy issues and the causes and possible solutions of housing problems such as regeneration and homelessness. Edited by leading names in the field and including international contributions the book is a stimulating wide ranging read that will be an invaluable resource for academics and researchers in geography urban studies sociology social policy economics and politics.

The Concealment Controversy Janna Wessels, 2021-07-29 The idea that a claim for international protection can be rejected on the basis that the claimant behave discreetly in their country of origin has remained resilient in asylum claims based on sexual orientation but also other grounds of claim. This is significant because requiring an asylum seeker to forgo the reason for which they are persecuted questions the very rationale of refugee protection. This book represents the first principled examination of concealment in refugee law. Janna Wessels connects the different strands of the long standing debate in both common and civil law jurisdictions and scholarship concerning the question of whether and under which circumstances a claimant must conceal to avoid persecution. In so doing Wessels uncovers a fundamental tension at the core of the refugee concept. By using sexuality as a lens this study breaks new ground regarding sexual orientation claims and wider issues surrounding the refugee definition.
