Munck, 2021-05-17 Development and underdevelopment are the main determinants of life chances worldwide arguably more so than social class Marxism as the underlying theory for social revolution needs to have a clear understanding of the dynamics of development and social progress Exploring the intersection of Marxism and development this book looks at Marx's original conception of capitalist development and his later engagement with under developed Russia The author also reviews Lenin's early critique of the Russian populists' rejection of capitalism compared with his later analysis of imperialism as a brake on development in the non-European world. The book then considers Rosa Luxemburg who arguably provides a bridge between these theorists and those that follow with her analysis of imperialism as a necessity for capitalism to incorporate non-capitalist lands. Turning then to the non-European world, the author examines the Latin American dependency theories, the post-development school and the recent indigenous development theories advanced by Andean Marxism. Finally, Munck addresses the relationship between globalization and development. Does this relationship suggest that it has not been capitalism but a lack of capitalism that has led to underdevelopment?

Translations on International Communist Developments, 1962      Dynamic Models and Possibility of Their Application to Planned Economic Development Angiras Shukla, 1972      Capitalism and Socialism in Cuba Patricia Ruffin, 2016-07-27

Capitalism and Socialism in Cuba documents the history of the attempts by a small island nation to survive and gain respectability within an ever-changing international political economy. Professor Ruffin presents a detailed account of the social, political and economic forces affecting Cuba's prospects for development under both capitalism and socialism. Part one of the study focuses on Cuba's historical association with capitalism and the relationship that Cuba established with the United States. Part two of the study delineates the nature of Cuba-Soviet relations and deals exclusively with the question of socialist dependency. Professor Ruffin's study is a systematic analysis of the internal race and class formations and external capitalism and socialism factors that have thus far shaped Cuban history.

Socialist Economic Development in the 21st Century Alberto Gabriele, Elias Jabbour, 2022-03-02

Over a hundred years after the first socialist revolution broke the global monopoly of capitalism, a new class of socialist-oriented socioeconomic development is coming to the fore. Capitalism is still dominant worldwide although its hegemony is no longer undisputed and humankind is now faced with a key existential challenge. This book proposes an alternative path to overcoming the worldwide crisis of globalized capitalism. It offers a novel, balanced and historically rooted interpretation of the successes and failures of socialist economic construction throughout the last century. The authors apply a multidisciplinary, holistic and purpose-based methodology to draw basic lessons from stylized facts emerging in different areas of knowledge ranging from political economy to biology and from key national socioeconomic experiences with a particular focus on China. The book is divided into three parts. The first is mainly theoretical and general in nature identifying the major contributions bequeathed by the hard sciences to their social counterparts Consistent with these findings the authors offer a stylized interpretation of the contemporary state of the art of the debate on the core concepts of economic science and advance a few elementary theories about what socialism in the 21st century could look like The second and third parts analyze and discusses the core features of a few select experiences which have evolved in certain countries since 1917 some of which are still unfolding The book will find an audience among academics researchers and students in the fields of economics political science history and geography as well as policy makers particularly in developing countries
