Graphic Indigeneity Frederick Luis Aldama,2020-06-04 Honorable Mention Recipient for the Comics Studies Society Prize for Edited Book Collection Contributions by Joshua T Anderson Chad A Barbour Susan Bernardin Mike Borkent Jeremy M Carnes Philip Cass Jordan Clapper James J Donahue Dennin Ellis Jessica Fontaine Jonathan Ford Lee Francis IV Enrique Garc a Javier Garc a Liendo Brenna Clarke Gray Brian Montes Arij Ouweneel Kevin Patrick Candida Rifkind Jessica Rutherford and Jorge Santos Cultural works by and about Indigenous identities

histories and experiences circulate far and wide. However, not all films, animation, television shows, and comic books lead to a nuanced understanding of Indigenous realities. Acclaimed comics scholar Frederick Luis Aldama shines light on how mainstream comics have clumsily distilled and reconstructed Indigenous identities and experiences. He and contributors emphasize how Indigenous comic artists are themselves clearing new visual-verbal narrative spaces for articulating more complex histories, cultures, experiences, and narratives of self. To that end, Aldama brings together scholarship that explores both the representation and misrepresentation of Indigenous subjects and experiences, as well as research that analyzes and highlights the extraordinary work of Indigenous comic artists. Among others, the book examines Daniel Parada's Zotz (Puerto Rican comics), Turey el Ta no and La Borinquea (and Moonshot) (The Indigenous Comics Collection). This volume's wide-armed embrace of comics by and about Indigenous peoples of the Americas and Australasia is a first step to understanding how the histories of colonial and imperial domination connect the violent wounds that still haunt across continents. Aldama and contributors resound this message: Indigeneity in comics is an important, powerful force within our visual-verbal narrative arts writ large.

The Power of Stars Bryan E. Penprase, 2017-05-05. Completely revised and updated, this new edition provides a readable, beautifully illustrated journey through world cultures and the vibrant array of sky mythology, creation stories, models of the universe, temples, and skyscrapers that each culture has created to celebrate and respond to the power of the night sky. Sections on the archaeoastronomy of South Asia and South East Asia have been expanded with original photography and new research on temple alignments in Southern India and new material describing the astronomical practices of Indonesia, Malaysia, and other Southeast Asian countries. Beautiful photographs of temples in India and Asia have been added, as well as new diagrams explaining the alignment of these structures and the astronomical underpinnings of temples within the Pallava and Chola cultures. From new fieldwork in the Four Corners region of North America, Dr. Penprase has included accounts of Pueblo skywatching and photographs of ceremonial kivas that help elucidate the rich astronomical knowledge of the Pueblo people. The popular Archaeoastronomy of Skyscrapers section of the book has been updated, as well, with new interpretations of skyscrapers in Indonesia, Taiwan, and China. With the rapid pace of discovery in astronomy and astrophysics, entirely new perspectives are emerging about dark matter, inflation, and the future of the universe. The Power of Stars puts these discoveries in context and describes how they fit into the modern perspective of cosmology, which has arisen from the universal human response to the sky that has inspired both ancient and modern cultures.

Echoes of the Ancient Skies E. C. Krupp, 2012-03-15. Popular, authoritative look at the world of archaeoastronomy: the study of ancient peoples' observation of the skies and its role in their cultural evolution. 208 illustrations.

Telling Animals Jasmine Spencer, 2022-06-27. In Telling Animals, Jasmine Spencer offers a comparative yet personal approach to Dene Athabaskan stories, both Northern and Southern. It examines the animating effects of animal stories, the transformative power of animacies in Dene stories, and the effects of narrative revitalization through animal grammar. It takes as its first premise the teachings of many Elders who have shared that the stories are alive Jasmine Spencer s comparative approach combines literary linguistic anthropological and philosophical theories and methods using a deictic framework for closely reading the stories in both their Dene languages and in English translation The narrative epistemologies enacted by Dene stories counterbalance many of the ethical problems inherent within Euro Western approaches to ontology and experience These stories revive those who listen and read offering hope

Passages Doug Hodges,2012-02-22 Like four of my previous books these are collected tales of the Spirits These stories are shared with me by the Spirits to be in turn shared with any and all Other than being short stories they have no framework no rack upon which to hang a hat They are inter dimensional timeless real and unreal They cross the boundaries of myth religion history and space Some may seem simplistic others convoluted all are recorded as given to me All are for the readers entertainment If more is gained and judging by many responses this is the case then I feel that is why they were given to me and why said reader is reading them I think and I hope others agree that they can be very funny Again as in the previous volumes Raven and Coyote more often than not take the lead however there are some others herein lending their voice In the back of the book a baker's dozen poems appear I usually shy from mixing prose and poetry yet I noticed a number of the stories dealt with music and in any event I was led to include the poems As in my previous books save the first one I have tried to illustrate the way with what I think are pertinent images The world of these tales is miraculous mysterious wonderful surprising shocking and some times confusing It is a world that I have grown fond of and forget it may seem strange to the new reader I suggest one just jumps in All the stories from all the volumes stand on their own If the reader enjoys this particular book I recommend the others Within there is a story a word an image for everyone Coyote's Song Richard D. Erlich, 2009-12-01 A major study of the major and minor fiction poetry and children's books of SF and fantasy writer Ursula K Le Guin As Le Guin herself writes It is written in English not academese and will be of interest to a wide spectrum of students scholars and interested readers Distributed Perception Natasha Lushetich, Iain Campbell, 2021-12-29 Who what and where perceives and how What are the sedimentations inscriptions and axiologies of animal human and machinic perceptions What are their perceptibilities Deleuze uses the word visibilities to indicate that visual perception isn't just a physiological given but cues operations productive of new assemblages Perceptibilities are by analogy spatio-temporal geolocalive kinaesthetic audio visual and haptic operations that are always already memory In the case of strong inscriptions they are also epigenetic events In physics resonance is the tendency of a system to vibrate with increasing amplitudes at certain frequencies of excitation In cybernetics and in theories of technology it refers to systems feedback In Native science resonance denotes the axiology of positions and events It's a form of multi-species perception that emphasises emergent directionality and protean mnemonics This transdisciplinary volume brings together key theorists and practitioners from media theory Native science bio media and sound art philosophy art history and design informatics to examine the becoming technique of animal human machinic perceptibilities and sub-micro perceptions that lie beneath the threshold of known perceptions yet create energetic vibrations The volume shows distributed perception to be a key notion in addressing the emergence and persistence of plant animal human and machine relations
