subjective definition of truth than simple fact or fiction she interprets the text through Jungian methodology as a dream of the unconscious psyche of the Jewish people true in its reflection of their collective identity at the time of the text's composition The author merges Terrence Dawson's literary theory concerning the discernment of the effective protagonist of a narrative with Jungian's method of dream interpretation to analyze the text subjectively from the effective protagonist's point of view The author then extrapolates the book's contents onto a hypothetical historical situation to contextualize the book within the Jewish identity and uses her findings to conduct objective analysis

This Tree Grows Out of Hell Ptolemy Tompkins, 2008 Ptolemy Tompkins's spellbinding plunge into the history and meaning of Mesoamerican civilizations first published a decade ago is more compelling now than ever Combining scholarly knowledge with visionary perception and sensitivity he examines the Mayan Aztec and other related cultures from the perspective of that region's shifting understanding of the human soul. A profoundly spiritual and ecological thread runs through this enlightening work like a river despite their amazing achievements these civilizations eventually crumbled because they lost touch with their sense of community their true natures and their environments. Above all Tompkins vividly reveals how violence became a deeply flawed but powerful strategy for accessing the ever retreating realm of the spirit which had once guided and directed human life.
