Spreadsheet Approach To Maths For Gnvq Engineering:

A Spreadsheet Approach to Maths for GNVQ Engineering Rosamund Sutherland, Daniel Howell, Alison Wolf, 1996
This unique text uses tried and tested methods developed by the authors during a recent Nuffield Foundation project set up to investigate maths needs for GNVQ. Most areas of engineering mathematics are well suited to the spreadsheet approach and many students find the techniques easier to handle than more conventional computational methods. This text covers spreadsheet procedures for application of number core skills and about two thirds of the areas of maths needed for the GNVQ Maths for Engineering advanced unit but does not attempt to cover those problems more sensibly tackled by conventional means. By attempting the questions and assignments within the book the student compiles a record of competence suitable for inclusion in the portfolio and assessment. To this end worked examples have solutions but answers to all other exercises are to be found in the lecturers guide available free to teaching staff only. For lecturers guide please write on college headed paper and enclosing an A4 sized SAE to Marketing Department Edward Arnold 338 Euston Road London NW1 3BH UK. Please note the guide is free of copyright to purchasers of the textbook. Covers mandatory Engineering Maths for Intermediate GNVQ and much required Maths for Advanced GNVQ and BTEC National. Develops and tests knowledge with worked examples and spreadsheet based activities. Features include industry case studies, modelling problems, statistics for quality control and handy HELP sections.

Perspectives on School Algebra Rosamund Sutherland, Teresa Rojano, Alan Bell, Romulo Lins, 2006-02-16
This book confronts the issue of how young people can find a way into the world of algebra. It represents multiple perspectives which include an analysis of situations in which algebra is an efficient problem solving tool, the use of computer based technologies and a consideration of the historical evolution of algebra. The book emphasizes the situated nature of algebraic activity as opposed to being concerned with identifying students' conceptions in isolation from problem solving activity.

EBOOK: Teaching for Learning Mathematics Ros Sutherland, 2006-12-16
Why do students find learning mathematics difficult? Can anything be done about this? What can we learn from mathematics lessons in which students are motivated to struggle with difficult mathematical ideas? How can teachers make sense of the research which is available and use it to improve practice in real classrooms? This book explores the factors that influence young people's learning of mathematics. It uses a holistic socio-culturally informed approach to show how all young people can be encouraged to engage with and learn mathematics. Rich examples from classroom practice are used to connect theory and practice. The role of mathematical tools including information and communications technologies is discussed. A key focus of the book is the link between teaching and learning including different ways in which teachers can design and orchestrate mathematical learning environments. This important, accessible and relevant book is essential reading for student teachers of mathematics as well as all qualified mathematics teachers in secondary schools.
