Sultana's Dream and Padmarag Rokeya Hossain, 2022-08-09 One of the first science fiction utopian stories and one of the first feminist utopias by celebrated pioneering feminist educator activist and Bengali writer Rokeya Hossain A Penguin Classics Edition Sultana a Muslim woman living in colonial India falls asleep and wakes up in a transformed future world a utopia in which men rather than women are relegated to the domestic sphere Women now free to explore the outside world at will and pursue an education run a peaceful and just society using scientific principles to harvest energy from the sun and live in harmony with nature Sultana s Dream was published in 1905 in the Indian Ladies Magazine the first English language periodical edited by and targeted at Indian women Like the periodical the story broke new ground As a pioneering work of science fiction and feminist utopian literature at the turn of the century Sultana s Dream is strikingly advanced in its critique of patriarchy war industrialization and the exploitation of the natural world speaking to the concerns of our contemporary world as much as its own At a time when British colonialism was using the treatment of women in India as justification for colonial intervention there Hossain s story in imagining a world in which men rather than women are kept inside positions her protest against Islamic patriarchy within a larger feminist vision that takes on Western as well as Islamic forms of gender hierarchy Her novella Padmarag is similarly utopian in its depiction of a women run school and welfare center and is both feminist and anti colonial in its outlook In both these works Hossain seizes the critique of gender roles in India away from Western commentators and turns it against British interference while also enlarging the critique to take on the problem of gender more broadly

Sultana's Dream Rokeyā (Begama), 2005 Widely regarded as Bengal s earliest and boldest feminist writer Rokeya Sakhawat Hossain 1880 1932 was a pioneering and creative educationist and social activist and the school she founded in Kolkata the Sakhawat Memorial School for Girls still thrives Sultana s Dream written in English 1905 is a delightful satirical work set in Ladyland where the men are in purdah and the women go out and work An extraordinary novella with generous dashes of melodrama and romance disasters and coincidences Padmarag written in Bengali 1924 and translated here for the first time describes a female founded and female administered community set in contemporary Bengal where women from diverse regions and ethnicities with unhappy histories of patriarchal oppression better their lot by concrete social action Both Sultana's Dream and Padmarag discuss in playful fascinating and intelligent ways the question of women's education Old Futures Alexis Lothian, 2018-09-25 Finalist 2019 Locus Award for Nonfiction presented by the Locus Science Fiction Foundation Traverses the history of imagined futures from the 1890s to the 2010s interweaving speculative visions of gender race and sexuality from literature film and digital media Old Futures explores the social political and cultural forces feminists queer people and people of color invoke when they dream up alternative futures as a way to imagine transforming the present Lothian shows how queer possibilities emerge when we practice the art of speculation of imagining things otherwise than they are and creating stories from that impulse Queer theory offers creative ways to think about time breaking with straight and narrow paths toward the future laid out for the reproductive family the law abiding citizen and the believer in markets Yet so far it has rarely considered the possibility that instead of a queer present reshaping the ways we relate to past and future the futures imagined in the past can lead us to queer the present Narratives of possible futures provide frameworks through which we understand our present but the discourse of the future has never been a singular one Imagined futures have often been central to the creation and maintenance of imperial domination and technological modernity Old Futures offers a counterhistory of works that have sought with varying degrees of success to speculate otherwise Examining speculative texts from the 1890s to the 2010s from Samuel R Delany to Sense8 Lothian considers the ways in which early feminist utopias and dystopias Afrofuturist fiction and queer science fiction media have insisted that the future can and must deviate from dominant narratives of global annihilation or highly restrictive hopes for redemption Each chapter chronicles some of the means by which the production and destruction of futures both real and imagined takes place through eugenics utopia empire fascism dystopia race capitalism femininity masculinity and many kinds of queerness reproduction and sex Gathering stories of and by populations who have been marked as futureless or left out by dominant imaginaries Lothian offers new insights into what we can learn from efforts to imaginatively redistribute the future Inscribing South Asian Muslim Women Tahera Aftab, 2008 Offers an annotated source for the study of the public and private lives of South Asian Muslim women The Avant-Garde and the Margin Sanja Bahun-Radunovic, V.G. Julie Rajan, 2009-03-26 The collection of essays The Avant garde and the Margin New Territories of the Modernist Avant garde refigures the critical and historical picture of the modernist avant garde by introducing a variety of less commonly discussed geo artistic sites and dynamics The contributors explore the multifaceted relations established between the avant garde centers France Germany England and others and their counterparts in the cultural periphery Greece India Japan Poland Quebec Romania and the former Yugoslavia as well as the unique artistic and literary dialogues which these encounters engendered The primary concern of the anthology is the set of relations established between the center and the margin the redefinition of which was pivotal for the formulation of the modernist avant garde aesthetic project itself While enriching the kaleidoscopic picture of modernism the essays in this collection also offer new methodological approaches to this polychrome cultural image In this way the collection avoids the pitfalls of both the traditional diffusionist Eurocentric model of the world and the more recent over relativization of the positions of the margin and the center In their stead the anthology proposes a hermeneutics of encounter that is simultaneously spatial and historical aware of its limits but convinced of its own necessity

Veil Obsessed Umme Al-wazedi, Afrin Zeenat, 2024-04-15 Discussions surrounding the veil often run along essentialist and ahistorical lines associating Islam with oppression shame and honor Contributing to these stereotypes the media in both the East and the West obsessively condemn or valorize practices of veiling In Veil Obsessed Umme Al wazedi and Afrin Zeenat present a range of essays to complicate and challenge the dialogue around the veil exploring its symbolic religious and cultural significance Scholars from a variety of fields analyze and critique the use of the veil in literature film television and the fine arts Considering the multiple perceptions of the veil this volume shows that the meaning of hijab can be natural or constructed real or metaphorical and religious or political when it is presented through the media in the teachings of Islam and in upholding it as a national symbol of a nation state There are inherent tensions among the ideas concerning the power of hijab Does wearing it give agency to women or does it represent oppression thereby creating and perpetuating stereotypes How an individual sees their relationship with the self family and community and the nation state dictates their choice of whether to wear the veil In exploring the wide range of portrayals the editors pose critical questions about perceptions of the veil and the dangers of ignoring its multiplicity Nawab Faizunnesa's Rupjalal Phayajunnesā Caudhurāṇī,2009 In the framework of a romantic tale Faizunnesa recorded how women were always treated as agents of chaos and desire and how their resisting voices were always silenced in a religiously motivated society This book examines her text as a critique of male dominance in the Muslim society of colonial Bengal Muffled Voices in the Zenana and Beyond Sabreen Ahmed,2025-08-08 This book explores subaltern subjecthood resistance and sexual agency in the works of Muslim women writers from India Pakistan and Bangladesh since the early 20th century Locating the Muslim woman in the fiction of these countries from a sub continental locus it incorporates concepts of race diaspora and postcolonial feminism in its reading of selected texts along with precepts of Islamic feminist hermeneutics in the South Asian context It rejects the homogenization of sub continental Muslim women as a monolithic victim subject and focuses on the multiplicity of voices that emerge from their writing both in the colonial and the postcolonial contexts The volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of literature gender studies cultural studies and South Asian studies An Empire of Touch Poulomi Saha,2019-04-16 In today s world of unequal globalization Bangladesh has drawn international attention for the spate of factory disasters that have taken the lives of numerous garment workers mostly young women The contemporary garment industry and the labor organizing pushing back draws on a long history of gendered labor division and exploitation in East Bengal the historical antecedent of Bangladesh Yet despite the centrality of women s labor to anticolonial protest and postcolonial state building historiography has struggled with what appears to be its absence from the archive Poulomi Saha offers an innovative account of women s political labor in East Bengal over more than a century one that suggests new ways to think about textiles and the gendered labors of their making An Empire of Touch argues that women have articulated in writing in political action in stitching their own desires in their own terms They produce narratives beyond women s empowerment and independence as global and national projects they refuse critical pronouncements of their own subjugation Saha follows the historical traces of how women have claimed their own labor contending that their political commitments are captured in the material objects of their manufacture Her analysis of the production of historical memory through and by the bodies of women spans British colonialism and American empire anticolonial nationalism to neoliberal globalization depicting East Bengal between development economics and postcolonial studies Through a material account of text and textile An Empire of Touch crafts a new narrative of gendered political labor under empire A Thousand I's Tyler Martin Sehnal,2020-03-08 Are women really the caricatures that movies television and other mainstream media have made them out to be Are they really as humorously hyperemotional as your favorite sitcoms might suggest Or are they really only capable of playing second string to the supermen that have long dominated the silver screen and the pages of comic books A Thousand I s Presenting Women of the 21st Century seeks to explore how the longevity of such archaic stereotypes about women s emotions behaviors and sexualities have led modern day Americans to embrace such depictions of women as realistic and how mainstream media has worked to further ingrain these beliefs into the psyche of contemporary American culture A Thousand I s also tries to determine the origins and implications of such stereotypes and whether or not contemporary American media and culture have evolved in their conceptualizations of women two decades into the 21st century The Fractured Scales Faustina Pereira,2002 With reference to South Asia

Feminist Moments Susan Bruce,Katherine Smits,2015-12-17 This book is available as open access through the Bloomsbury Open Access programme and is available on www.bloomsburycollections.com The challenges presented by feminism to traditional understandings of representation normative values power relations and the political are not simply the product of late 20th century thinking Feminist Moments in examining some of the pivotal texts in the history of feminist thought demonstrates that these challenges emerge from a long and varied history of feminist writing The volume brings together texts from literary and analytical works written by women and men and from inside and outside the Western tradition including Mary Wortley Montagu Anna Wheeler and William Thompson Nazira Zeineddine Betty Friedan Andrea Dworkin and Luisa Valenzuela The volume is unique in offering close readings of key passages from the selected texts making it ideal for classroom use its original essays all authored by specialists will also be of interest to more advanced scholars In juxtaposing and analysing a wide range of texts which despite their significance are rarely discussed together Feminist Moments provides a fascinating historical narrative of feminist thought which will be highly valuable to students and scholars of the history of political thought political philosophy and gender and literary studies

En-Gendering India Sangeeta Ray,2000-06-20 En Gendering India offers an innovative interpretation of the role that gender played in defining the Indian state during both the colonial and postcolonial eras Focusing on both British and Indian literary texts primarily novels produced between 1857 and 1947 Sangeeta Ray examines representations of native Indian women and shows how these representations were deployed to advance notions of Indian self rule as well as to defend British imperialism Through her readings of works by writers including Bankimchandra Chatterjee Rabindranath Tagore Harriet Martineau Flora Annie Steel Anita Desai and Bapsi Sidhaa Ray demonstrates that Indian women were presented as upper class and Hindu an idealization that paradoxically served the needs of both colonial and nationalist discourses The Indian nation s goal of self rule was expected to enable women s full participation in private and public life On the other hand British colonial officials rendered themselves the protectors of passive Indian women against their savage male countrymen Ray shows how the native woman thus became a symbol for both an incipient Indian nation and a fading British Empire In addition she reveals how the figure of the upper class Hindu woman created divisions with the nationalist movement itself by underscoring caste communal and religious differences within the newly emerging state As such Ray s study has important implications for discussions about nationalism particularly those that address the concepts of identity and nationalism Building on recent scholarship in feminism and postcolonial studies En Gendering India will be of interest to scholars in those fields as well as to specialists in nationalism and nation building and in Victorian colonial and postcolonial literature and culture
