Text The Genealogy Of An Antidisciplinary Object:

Text John Mowitt, 1992 The concept of textuality in recent decades has come to designate a fundamentally contested terrain within a number of academic disciplines How it came to occupy this position is the subject of John Mowitt's book a critical genealogy of the social and intellectual conditions that contributed to the emergence of the textual object Beginning with the Tel Quel group in France in the sixties and seventies Mowitt's study details how a certain interdisciplinary crisis prompted academics to rethink the conditions of cultural interpretation Concentrating on three disciplinary projects literary analysis film studies and musicology Mowitt shows how textuality's emergence called into question not merely the relations among these disciplines but also the cultural logic of disciplinary reason as such At once an effort to define the text and to explore and extend the theory of textuality this book illustrates why the notion of interdisciplinary research has recently acquired such urgency At the same time by emphasizing the genealogical dimension of the textual object Mowitt raises the issues of its antidisciplinary character and by extension its immediate pertinence for the current debates over multiculturalism and Eurocentrism Innovative historically astute and theoretically informed this important book will be indispensable reading for all scholars in literary and cultural studies Byron and the Victorians Andrew

Elfenbein, 1995-03-30 This book is the first full length study of Byron's influence on Victorian writers concentrating on Carlyle Emily Brontë Tennyson Bulwer Lytton Disraeli and Wilde It has two emphases theoretical and literary historical Its theoretical project is to revise earlier understanding of literary influence through a demonstration of the ways that institutions of cultural production mediate the access that later writers have to earlier ones Its literary historical project is to suggest the many different responses that Victorian writers had to Byron and to his celebrity in British culture It argues that defining oneself against Byron became a ritual of the Victorian authorial career Victorian writers did not reject Byron outright instead they defined themselves through fictions of personal development away from values associated with Byron towards those associated with themselves as mature Victorian writers Turns of Event Hester Blum, 2016-04 American literary studies has undergone a series of field redefinitions that have been described as turns whether transnational aesthetic or affective Turns of Event Nineteenth Century American Literary Studies in Motion argues that the propensity of the field to reinvent itself without dissolution is one of its greatest strengths Offering Theory John Mowitt, 2020-08-04 A reading of Theory that in tracing when and where Theory arises in the event of reading proposes how Theory might best be handled in the context of higher education today Arguing against those who propose to avoid Theory in the name of its putative obsolescence this text sets out to challenge two aspects of this avoidance On the one hand Theory has been set aside in the name of identity politics that is the proposition that its intellectual pertinence has been overshadowed by a sense of political urgency construed as at odds with Theory Theory itself has assumed an identity a profile On the other hand implicit within the avoidance of Theory is a concept of context that calls for reflection Resisting the tendency to treat context as either negligible or obvious this text sets out to trace in the when and where of Theory the rudiments of a sociographic think historiographic account of context In relation to it the reading that is Theory can be usefully situated as part of a politics of higher education in the era of the global crisis of the university      A Critical Sense Peter Osborne, 2013-04-15 A Critical Sense brings together in a single volume the leading figures of contemporary radical theory Moving freely between philosophy politics and cultural studies it offers a fascinating overview of the lines of thought of today s intellectual left Marxism feminism psychoanalysis and critical theory literary studies deconstruction pragmatism postcolonial and queer theory are discussed in a series of interviews from the journal Radical Philosophy Those interviewed are Judith Butler Cornelius Castoriadis Drucilla Cornell Axel Honneth Istvan Meszaros Edward Said Renata Salecl Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak Cornel West Slavoj Zizek For those unfamiliar with the often daunting work of some of today s most important thinkers A Critical Sense will offer an ideal introduction for those already acquainted with the writings of the theorists interviewed here the collection will throw new and often surprising light on familiar ground      Hypertext 3.0 George P. Landow, 2006-02-10 From Intermedia to Microcosm Storyspace and the Web Landow offers information about the kinds of hypertext different modes of linking attitudes toward technology and the proliferation of pornography and gambling on the Internet He also includes new material on developing Internet related technologies      Disciplining the Holocaust Karyn Ball, 2008-10-23 Disciplining the Holocaust examines critics efforts to defend a rigorous and morally appropriate image of the Holocaust Rather than limiting herself to polemics about the proper approach to traumatic history Karyn Ball explores recent trends in intellectual history that govern a contemporary ethics of scholarship about the Holocaust She examines the scholarly reception of Goldhagen s Hitler s Willing Executioners the debates culminating in Eisenman s Memorial to the Murdered Jews of Europe in Berlin Lyotard s response to negations of testimony about the gas chambers psychoanalytically informed frameworks for the critical study of traumatic history and a conference on feminist approaches to the Holocaust and genocide Ball s book bridges the gap between psychoanalysis and Foucault s understanding of disciplinary power in order to highlight the social implications of traumatic history BOOK JACKET      Information Multiplicity John Johnston, 1998-05-08 Information Multiplicity Johnston describes how fractalized realism has redefined thought itself from the High Modernist stream of consciousness into what the machine philosopher Daniel Dennett refers to as multiple drafts or circuits operating concurrently in the human brain In a series of close readings Johnston traces how such a viral influx of information into human consciousness has been replicated in works by Thomas Pynchon Gravity s Rainbow and Vineland Joseph McElroy Lookout Cartridge William Gaddis JR Don DeLillo Libra and William Gibson Neuromancer      Looking West John D. Dorst, 1999 Looking West John D Dorst examines a largely neglected pattern of seeing that stands in contrast to the universally familiar iconography      Abiding by Sri Lanka Qadri Ismail, Ismail demonstrates that the problems in Sri Lanka raise fundamental concerns regarding the relationship between democracies and minorities He redefines the concept of minority not as numerical insignificance but as conceptual space where distinction without domination can be achieved

Crisis of Authority Nancy Luxon, 2013-09-23 Contemporary social and political theory has reached an impasse about a problem that had once seemed straightforward how can individuals make ethical judgments about power and politics Crisis of Authority analyzes the practices that bind authority trust and truthfulness in contemporary theory and politics Drawing on newly available archival materials Nancy Luxon locates two models for such practices in Sigmund Freud's writings on psychoanalytic technique and Michel Foucault's unpublished lectures on the ancient ethical practices of fearless speech or parrhesia Luxon argues that the dynamics provoked by the figures of psychoanalyst and truth teller are central to this process Her account offers a more supple understanding of the modern ethical subject and new insights into political authority and authorship Class Issues Amitava Kumar, 1997-08 On the challenges of progressive pedagogy Rewriting Christian Moraru, 2001-09-27 Examines the tendency of post World War II writers to rewrite earlier narratives by Poe Melville Hawthorne and others Uncovering Heian Japan Thomas LaMarre, 2000 Literary criticism of classical Japanese poetry focusing on the emergence of Kokin Wakashū an imperial anthology of waka poetry compiled in the 9th century

Representing the Unpresentable Negar Mottahedeh, 2008-02-26 In this pioneering book Negar Mottahedeh explores the central issues of vision and visibility in Iranian culture She focuses on historical and literary texts to understand the use of visual culture and performance traditions in the production of the contemporary nation Tracing the historical mediation and dissemination of ideas for national reform in the modern period of Iran the book examines the various discourses that have constituted the image of the unpresentable Babi as the figure of Iran's Other In her exploration of gender and Iranian cinema the author powerfully argues that this unpresentable image continues to haunt contemporary Iranian cinema's representations of the nation As cinema began to displace other forms of representation in Iran Islamic culture attempted to keep the motion picture industry free from what it perceived to be the taint of foreign values and intervention With insight and detail Mottahedeh looks at the revealing ways in which contemporary Iranian cinema has dealt with representing an unpresentable national modernity articulated through traversals in time and space These deeply national tropes of traversal shaped the image of the Babi against which nineteenth century Iran produced its own modernity This highly original work signaling a paradigmatic shift in Iranian studies and gender studies will be an invaluable resource for scholars in cultural Iranian or film studies

Percussion John Mowitt, 2002-06-07 By emphasizing the specifically percussive articulation of rhythm this study contributes to the elaboration of critical musicology by both challenging its construction of music as essentially harmonic and by extending the interpretive vocabulary of music

American Literature and the Culture of Reprinting, 1834-1853 Meredith L. McGill, 2013-10-11 The antebellum period has long been identified with the belated emergence of a truly national literature And yet as Meredith L McGill argues a mass market for books in this period was built and sustained through what we would call rampant literary piracy a national literature developed not despite but because of the systematic copying of foreign works Restoring a political dimension to accounts of the economic grounds of antebellum literature McGill unfolds the legal arguments and political struggles that produced an American culture of reprinting and held it in place for two crucial decades In this culture of reprinting the circulation of print outstripped authorial and editorial control McGill examines the workings of literary culture within this market shifting her gaze from first and authorized editions to reprints and piracies from the form of the book to the intersection of book and periodical publishing and from a national literature to an internally divided and transatlantic literary marketplace Through readings of the work of Dickens Poe and Hawthorne McGill seeks both to analyze how changes in the conditions of publication influenced literary form and to measure what was lost as literary markets became centralized and literary culture became stratified in the early 1850s American Literature and the Culture of Reprinting 1834 1853 delineates a distinctive literary culture that was regional in articulation and transnational in scope while questioning the grounds of the startlingly recent but nonetheless powerful equation of the national interest with the extension of authors rights
