American Modernism and Depression Documentary Jeff Allred, 2012-11-01 American Modernism and Depression Documentary surveys the uneven terrain of American modernity through the lens of the documentary book Jeff Allred argues that photo texts of the 1930s stage a set of mediations between rural hinterlands and metropolitan areas between elite producers of culture and the forgotten man of Depression era culture between a myth of consensual national unity and various competing ethnic and regional collectivities In light of the complexity this entails this study takes issue with a critical tradition that has painted the documentary expression of the 1930s as a simplistic and propagandistic divergence from literary modernism Allred situates these texts and the documentary modernism they represent as a central part of American modernism and response to American modernity as he looks at the impoverished sharecroppers depicted in the groundbreaking Let Us Now Praise Famous Men the disenfranchised African Americans in Richard Wright's polemical 12 Million Black Voices and the experiments in Depression era photography found in Life magazine

Cross-cultural Visions in African American Modernism Yoshinobu Hakutani, 2006 Yoshinobu Hakutani traces the development of African American modernism which initially gathered momentum with Richard Wright's literary manifesto Blueprint for Negro Writing in 1937 Hakutani dissects and discusses the cross cultural influences on the then burgeoning discipline in three stages American dialogues European and African cultural visions and Asian and African American cross cultural visions In writing Black Boy the centerpiece of the Chicago Renaissance Wright was inspired by Theodore Dreiser Because the European and African cultural visions that Wright Ralph Ellison Alice Walker and Toni Morrison acquired were buttressed by the universal humanism that is common to all cultures this ideology is shown to transcend the problems of society Fascinated by Eastern thought and art Wright Walker Sonia Sanchez and James Emanuel wrote highly accomplished poetry and prose Like Ezra Pound Wright was drawn to classic haiku as reflected in the 4 000

haiku he wrote at the end of his life As W B Yeats s symbolism was influenced by his cross cultural visions of noh theatre and Irish folklore so is James Emanuel s jazz haiku energized by his cross cultural rhythms of Japanese poetry and African American music The book demonstrates some of the most visible cultural exchanges in modern and postmodern African American literature Such a study can be extended to other contemporary African American writers whose works also thrive on their cross cultural visions such as Amiri Baraka Ishmael Reed Charles Johnson and haiku poet Lenard Moore The Cambridge Companion to the American Modernist Novel Joshua L. Miller,2015-10-29 The Cambridge Companion to the American Modernist Novel offers a comprehensive analysis of US modernism as part of a wider global literature Both modernist and American literary studies have been reshaped by waves of scholarship that unsettled prior consensuses regarding America s relation to transnational diasporic and indigenous identities and aesthetics the role of visual and musical arts in narrative experimentation science and technology studies and allegiances across racial ethnic gendered and sexual social groups Recent writing on US immigration imperialism and territorial expansion has generated fresh and exciting reasons to read or reread modernist novelists both prominent and forgotten Written by a host of leading scholars this Companion provides unique interpretations and approaches to modernist themes techniques and texts New York Magazine ,1991-11-25 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea
