The Beaver Hall Group and Its Legacy Evelyn Walters, 2017-02-11 An exploration into Montreal's Beaver Hall Group and its legacy of women painters who now rank among Canada's most outstanding artists Today it is difficult to imagine that the art of Montreal's Beaver Hall Group was once shocking As these Modernists struggled against academic art critics such as Samuel Morgan Powell ranted rough meaningless blatant plastering and massing of unpleasant colours in weird landscapes and likened their paintings to the cacophonous riot of metallic yowlings of jazz that was invading the city Moreover unlike their contemporaries the Group of Seven the Beaver Hall Group dared to break with tradition and accept women members The result was a legacy of some of the finest women painters Canada has so far produced In 2005 Evelyn Walters gave them deserved attention in her acclaimed book The Women of Beaver Hall Canadian Modernist Painters Now a follow up The Beaver Hall Group and Its Legacy delves into the engrossing life stories of the twenty five artists who belonged to the Beaver Hall Group and the Women of Beaver Hall Over seventy five images gleaned from museums and private collections highlight the work of these pioneering artists who changed the course of Canadian art Written for student and scholar alike The Beaver Hall Group and Its Legacy is a must for every art lover's library Art Education, 1895 If Walls Could Speak Moshe Safdie, 2022-09-20

One of the world's greatest and most thoughtful architects recounts his extraordinary career and the iconic structures he has built from Habitat in Montreal to Marina Bay Sands in Singapore and offers a manifesto for the role architecture should play in society Over more than five decades legendary architect Moshe Safdie has built some of the world's most influential and memorable structures from the 1967 modular housing scheme in Montreal known as Habitat and the Yad Vashem memorial in Israel to the Crystal Bridges Museum in Arkansas and the Marina Bay Sands development and extraordinary Jewel Changi airport interior garden and waterfall in Singapore For Safdie the way a space functions is fundamental he is deeply committed to architecture as a social force for good believing that any challenge including extreme population density and environmental distress can be addressed with solutions that enhance community and uplift the human spirit Safdie always refers to the silent client an architect must ultimately serve the people who live in work in or experience a building If Walls Could Speak takes readers behind the veil of an essential yet mysterious profession to explain through Safdie's own experiences how an architect thinks and works from the spark of imagination through the design process the model making the politics the engineering the materials Relating memorable stories about what has inspired him from childhoods in Israel and Montreal to the projects and personalities worldwide that have captured his imagination Safdie reveals the complex interplay that underpins every project and his vision for the role architecture can and should play in society at large Illustrated throughout with drawings sketches photographs and documents from his firm's voluminous archives that illuminate his stories If Walls Could Speak ends with a chapter outlining seven projects Safdie would pursue around the world if resources and will were no issue and the choices were his to make A book like no other If Walls Could Speak will forever change the way you look at and appreciate any built structure Drawing in Public Schools Isaac Edwards Clarke, 1874 Art and Industry: (1897) Industrial and technical training in voluntary associations and endowed institutions United States. Office of Education, 1897 Art Schools and Place Silvie Jacobi, 2020-06-15 Art education has a definite impact on artists sense of place and their spatial relations Exploring where and why artists choose to locate is the first step in describing an art scene ethnographically This research considers coming to and going through art school as a crucial inter subjective learning environment Artists learn not just to engage with place through spatial and relational practices but gain a sense of mobility and transnational flows in a globalized art world This book is the first time the art school has been studied this way in the nascent field of art geography blending the tool kits of human geography and urban studies This is timely against the backdrop of worldwide university closures of physical space and cost intensive fine art courses as a triumph of managerialism and business case over education This volume helps highlight how investment in this form of education has an important capacity for nurturing art scenes and feeding into the community at large
