JOHANNA WIEDENHAGEN has for the last 15+ years been the English teacher at the German School in Berlin. She is a native speaker of German and English and has a degree in English Studies from the University of Berlin.

The following pages are just a small sample of how we have put these ideas into practice in our English classes. The building blocks of each form.

Inflections require short questions combined with explanations and examples. Teachers help you in situations and compare the different forms and their use.

Present simple

Present simple is English's equivalent to the Latin praesens which is the present tense. It is used to describe things that always exist, or actions that happen regularly or in situations that are repeating over and over again. It is the most frequent verb form in English. It gives you the simplest facts.

1. I go to school every day. I go / they go	2. The sun rises every day. It rises / they rise	3. She works in a bank. She works / they work	4. The train leaves every day. It leaves / they leave	5. The sun is shining. It is shining / they are shining	6. The train is leaving. It is leaving / they are leaving
