Sixty Years In Southern California 4ed:

Law in the West Gordon Morris Bakken, Brenda Farrington, 2001 This anthology examines Love's Labours Lost from a variety of perspectives and through a wide range of materials. Selections discuss the play in terms of historical context, dating and sources, character analysis, comic elements and verbal conceits, evidence of authorship, performance analysis and feminist interpretations. Alongside theater reviews, production photographs and critical commentary, the volume also includes essays written by practicing theater artists who have worked on the play. An index by name, literary work and concept rounds out this valuable resource.

Los Angeles in Civil War Days, 1860-1865 John W. Robinson, 2013-05-03 Most accounts of California's role in the Civil War focus on the northern part of the state, San Francisco in particular. In Los Angeles in Civil War Days, John W. Robinson looks to the southern half and offers an enlightening sketch of Los Angeles and its people, politics and economic trends from 1860 to 1865. Drawing on contemporary reports in the Los Angeles Star, Southern News and other sources, Robinson shows how the war came to Los Angeles and narrates the struggle between the pro-Southern faction and the Unionists. Los Angeles in the early 1860s was a developing town lacking many of the refinements of civilization that San Francisco then enjoyed and was much smaller than the bustling metropolis we know today. The book focuses on the effects of the war on Los Angeles, but Robinson also considers social and economic problems to provide a broader view of the community and its place in the nation. The Conscription Act and devalued greenbacks incited public unrest, and the cattle-killing drought of 1862-64, a smallpox epidemic and recurrent vigilantism challenged Angelenos as well. California historians and those interested in the city's historical record will find this book a fascinating addition to the body of California's Civil War history.

Regional Connector Transit Corridor Project, 2012 Pamphlets on Conservation of Natural Resources, 1909 Los Angeles Metro Red Line East Side Corridor, 1994 Inventing the Dream Kevin Starr, 1986-12-04

This second volume of Starr's cultural history of the Golden State focuses on the turn of the century years and the emergence of Southern California as a regional culture in its own right. East Los Angeles Richardo Romo, 2010-07-05 This is the story of the largest Mexican American community in the United States, the city within a city known as East Los Angeles. How did this barrio of over one million men and women, occupying an area greater than Manhattan or Washington D.C., come to be? Although promoted early in this century as a workers' paradise, Los Angeles fared poorly in attracting European immigrants and American blue-collar workers. Wages were low, and these workers were understandably reluctant to come to a city which was also troubled by labor strife. Mexicans made up the difference, arriving in the city in massive numbers. Who these Mexicans were and the conditions that caused them to leave their own country are revealed in East Los Angeles. The author examines how they adjusted to life in one of the fastest growing cities in the United States, how they fared in this country's labor market and the problems of segregation and prejudice they confronted. Ricardo Romo is associate professor of history at the University of Texas at Austin. Material Dreams Kevin Starr, 1990-04-12 Kevin Starr is the foremost chronicler of the California dream and indeed one of the finest narrative historians writing today on any subject The first two installments of his monumental cultural history Americans and the California Dream have been hailed as mature well proportioned and marvelously diverse and diverting The New York Times Book Review and rich in details and alive with interesting and sometimes incredible people Los Angeles Times Now in Material Dreams Starr turns to one of the most vibrant decades in the Golden State s history the 1920s when some two million Americans migrated to California the vast majority settling in or around Los Angeles In a lively and eminently readable narrative Starr reveals how Los Angeles arose almost defiantly on a site lacking many of the advantages required for urban development creating itself out of sheer will the Great Gatsby of American cities He describes how William Ellsworth Smyth the Peter the Hermit of the Irrigation Crusade the self educated Irish engineer William Mulholland who built the main aqueducts to Los Angeles and George Chaffey who diverted the Colorado River transforming desert into the lush Imperial Valley brought life supporting water to the arid South He examines the discovery of oil the boosters and land developers the evangelists such as Bob Shuler the Methodist Savanarola of Los Angeles and Aimee Semple McPherson and countless other colorful figures of the period There are also fascinating sections on the city s architecture the impact of the automobile on city planning the Hollywood film community the L A literati and much more By the end of the decade Los Angeles had tripled in population and become the fifth largest city in the nation In Material Dreams Starr captures this explosive growth in a narrative tour de force that combines wide ranging scholarship with captivating prose
