Social Goals And Educational Reform:

Social Goals and Educational Reform Charles V. Willie, Inabeth Miller, 1988-11-03 This collection provides a multidisciplinary perspective on the development of educational policy and practice in the United States during the past century. It presents education as a complex social structure and process that has changed through the years and that defies simplistic solutions. By reviewing competing theories of education, the editors promote an analytical framework that welcomes educational conflict as creative and beneficial. World Educational Reforms Prem Lata Sharma, 2004 Psychological Theory and Educational Reform David R. Olson, 2003-06-16 For well over a century, educational reformers have looked for a breakthrough in the sciences of psychology and pedagogy that would dramatically improve the effectiveness of schooling. This book shows why such an ambition is an illusion. Schools are institutions which attempt to balance the needs of a bureaucratic society that funds them with the personal goals, interests, hopes, and ambitions of the students who enroll in them. Reform efforts attempt to realign that balance without any clear conception of how the two are related. This book offers a theoretical account of the relation between the minds of learners and the institutional structure of the school that would account both for the ways that schooling remakes minds and societies and why such institutions are resistant to change.

Deconstructing Higher Education Reforms in India Kurmana Simha Chalam, 2011 Education Reform in Societies in Transition Jaya Earnest, David F. Treagust, 2006 Framed against the background of educational change, this book proposes to examine the relationship between curriculum change, teacher professional development, policy reform, and the processes of educational change. The main aims of the book are to: 1. focus on educational changes and reconstruction in transitional societies that have undergone political, economic, and social change in the past two decades; 2. provide a forum for the dissemination of research on education, reconstruction, and reform in transitional societies; 3. disseminate ideas that enhance both the practical and theoretical aspects of educational changes in these societies; 4. further knowledge and understanding of emerging trends and issues in education in these societies; 5. reflect the realities of educational scenarios in each transitional society. The book presents an in-depth exploration of educational reconstruction in 15 transitional societies. In each chapter, the authors have provided an overview of educational processes in the country, a distillation of education change or reform, and or reconstruction in each transitional society. Collectively, the chapters in the book have attempted to contribute to a better understanding of the educational system in respective countries by identifying the challenges and obstacles, the policy implications, the teacher professional development needs, and curriculum reform efforts. Educational Research and Policy: How Do They Relate? Torsten Husén, Maurice Kogan, 2014-05-17 Educational Research and Policy: How Do They Relate contains the proceedings of a four-day symposium held at Wijk Lidingö, Stockholm, in June 1982. Before presenting the papers reported at the symposium, this book first tackles the main issues in the relationship between policymaking and research. This text also elucidates models of interaction, policy systems, and policy proposals. The papers of the symposium are then presented collectively in the last part Generalizations derived from empirical cases discussed in the symposium are also shown

Commissions, Reports, Reforms, and Educational Policy Rick Ginsberg, David Plank, 1995-06-28 The editors have collected original papers dealing with the impact of commissions on educational policy and reform This book is a combination of the perspectives of practitioners directly involved with writing or reacting to commission reports and scholars analyzing the significance and impact of educational policy Chapters are written by some of the country's leading authorities on education This book will prove to be a valuable resource for educators administrators political scientists sociologists and others interested in the state of education Includes a foreword by Paul E Peterson of Harvard University

A Critical Study of Thailand's Higher Education Reforms Rattana Lao, 2015-05-15 This book offers a critical examination of contemporary higher education reforms in Thailand situated in the broader historical socio economic and political changes Through a qualitative case study with three methods of inquiry this book explores why different global education policies such quasi privatisation internationalization as quality assessment QA have resonated in Thailand higher education sector Grounded in policy borrowing and lending this book uses the politics economics and culture of borrowing to analyse major reforms in Thailand for the past one hundred years It is argued that historical legacy policy contexts and belief systems of policy elites play pivotal roles in facilitating policy changes or the lack thereof While historical analysis elucidates that the Thai state has always been an active borrower of western ideas the perseverance of the Thai ness discourse has often been used to suggest its so called independence and idiosyncrasy This in depth analysis of the Thai case aims to contribute to the critical studies in Asian education comparative higher education policy borrowing and lending and Thai studies The Culture of Borrowing intensively studies the policy appropriation in the Thai education system by analysing Selective Borrowing and the Historical Development of Thai Higher Education The Asian Economic Crisis as Window of Opportunity Autonomous University Internationalization of Teaching Quantitative and Qualitative Challenges The Emergence of Quality Policies and their Rationales The Intended and Unintended Consequences of Quality Policies This book will appeal to researchers in Education particularly to scholars studying educational policies within the context of tertiary education It will also interest scholars specialising in Asian and South east Asian Studies
