Identity, Place, and Subversion in Contemporary Mizrahi Cinema in Israel Yaron Shemer, 2013-07-29 In Identity Place and Subversion in Contemporary Mizrahi Cinema in Israel Yaron Shemer presents the most comprehensive and systematic study to date of Mizrahi Oriental Jewish or Arab Jewish films produced in Israel in the last several decades Through an analysis of dozens of films the book illustrates how narratives characters and space have been employed to give expression to Mizrahi ethnic identity and to situate the Mizrahi within the broader context of the Israeli societal fabric The struggle over identity and the effort to redraw ethnic boundaries have taken place against the backdrop of a long standing Zionist view of the Mizrahi as an inferior other whose Levantine culture posed a threat to the Western oriented Zionist enterprise In its examination of the nature and dynamics of Mizrahi cinema defined by subject matter the book engages the sensitive topic of Mizrahi ethnicity head on confronting the conventional notion of Israeli society as a melting pot and the widespread dismissal of ethnic divisions in the country Shemer explores the continuous marginalization of the Mizrahi in contemporary Israeli cinema and the challenge some Mizrahi films offer to the subjugation of this ethnic group He also studies the role cultural policies and institutional power in Israel have played in shaping Mizrahi cinema and the creation of a Mizrahi niche in cinema In a broader sense this pioneering work is a probing exploration of Israeli culture and society through the prism of film and cinematic expression It sheds light on the play of ethnicity class gender and religion in contemporary Israel and on the heated debates surrounding Zionist ideology and identity politics By charting a new territory of academic inquiry grounded in an interdisciplinary theoretical framework the study contributes to the formation of Mizrahi Cinema as a recognized and vibrant scholarly field

History from Below Brigitta Bernet, Lutz Raphael, Benjamin Zachariah, 2025-07-21 What we know as history from below has long been considered a more democratic form of history writing and research than forms of history that have counted sometimes by default as elite and therefore by implication elitist But history from below also has a tendency towards populism an emphasis on authenticity on voices uncontaminated by elite narratives and a focus on the indigenous Apart from its having a long standing problem of finding sources to give voice to the underrepresented the question as to who can write about and therefore represent the people below and a possible focus in consequence on themes of blood soil and the Volk This volume explores over nine essays and an introductory thematic essay these tensions and dichotomies The purpose is to bring to the foreground a long standing danger of celebrating voices from below perhaps uncritically at times and therefore also of a romanticisation of those voices

The End of Tradition? Nezar Alsayyad, 2004-08-02 Rooted in real world observations this book questions the concept of tradition whether contemporary globalization will prove its demise or whether there is a process of simultaneous ending and renewing In his introduction Nezar Alsayyad discusses the meaning of the word tradition and the current debates about the end of tradition Thereafter the book is divided into three parts The three chapters in part I explore the inextricable link between tradition and modern revealing the geopolitical implications of this link Part II looks at tradition as a process of invention and here the three chapters are all concerned with the making of landscapes and landscape myths showing how the spectacle of history can be aestheticized and naturalized Finally Part III shows how tradition is a regime programmed and policed and how it has been deployed resisted and reworked through hegemonic struggles that seek to create both built environments and citizen subjects

Socialist Cultures East and West Dubravka Juraga, M. Keith Booker, 2002-06-30 Decades of Western Cold War propaganda were designed to depict socialism as inimical to genuine aesthetic achievement Now in the wake of the Cold War it is becoming possible to reassess the past and present cultural productions of artists with socialist inclinations The essays in this volume begin such a reassessment finding that socialist cultural production in the 20th century both as the official culture of the socialist East and as an oppositional culture in the capitalist West has been rich and varied The volume focuses on socialist culture in the industrialized world primarily Eastern Europe and the West An introductory essay overviews socialist cultural productions of the 20th century while the chapters that follow address a wide range of topics These include Soviet socialist realist fiction and film musicals the socialist drama of Bertolt Brecht and British and American leftist fiction The volume demonstrates that propagandistic Cold War depictions of socialism as a threat to artistic expression were inaccurate and misleading

Political Dramaturgies and Theatre Spectatorship Liz Tomlin, 2019-06-13 What do we mean when we describe theatre as political today How might theatre makers provocations for change need to be differently designed when addressing the precarious spectator subject of twenty first century neoliberalism In this important study Liz Tomlin interrogates the influential theories of Jacques Rancière to propose a new framework of analysis through which contemporary political dramaturgies can be investigated Drawing in particular on Ernesto Laclau and Chantal Mouffe Lilie Chouliaraki and Judith Butler Tomlin argues that the capacities of the contemporary and future spectator to be effected or affected by politically engaged theatre need to be urgently re evaluated Central to this study is Tomlin s theorized figuration of the neoliberal spectator subject as precarious individualized and ironic with a reduced capacity for empathy agency and the ability to imagine better futures This in turn leads to a predilection for a response to injustice that is driven by a concern for the feelings of the subject self rather than concern for the suffering other These characteristics are argued to shape even those spectator subjects towards the left of the political spectrum thus necessitating a careful reconsideration of new and long standing dramaturgies of political provocation Dramaturgies examined include the ironic invitations of Made in China and Martin Crimp the exploration of affect in Kieran Hurley s Heads Up the new sincerity that characterizes the work of Andy Smith the turn to the staging of the spectators other in Developing Artists Queens of Syria and Chris Thorpe and Rachel Chavkin s Confirmation and the community activism of Common Wealth s The Deal Versus the People
