Australia's Fossil Heritage, The Australian Heritage Council, 2012-07-18 The National Heritage List was created in January 2004 to recognise celebrate and protect places of outstanding heritage value to the nation National heritage encompasses those places that reveal the richness of Australia's extraordinarily diverse natural historic and Indigenous heritage One aspect of natural heritage that has been little explored is Australia's wealth of exceptional fossil sites While a small number of fossil sites have risen to public prominence there are many lesser known sites that have important heritage values The Australian Heritage Council engaged palaeontologists from state museums and the Northern Territory Museum and Art Gallery to compile lists of outstanding fossil sites and to document their characteristics and relative importance against a range of categories with a view to further our understanding about Australia's important fossil heritage Sites that were listed for National or World Heritage values were not included in the places for consideration with the focus being on lesser known but still important sites This book is an account of the palaeontologists findings Some of the sites that were included in the initial lists have since been recognised through listing on the National Heritage List or the World Heritage List Australia's Fossil Heritage provides a useful reference to the outstanding fossil sites it catalogues and gives a clearer understanding of the heritage values of such sites More generally it contributes to a greater appreciation of Australia's geological and fossil diversity and enables readers to learn more about Australia's prehistory History of the Australian Environment Movement Drew Hutton, Libby Connors, 1999-04-13 This book presents a history of the value of the Australian environment and the struggles to protect it

Eco-activism and Social Work Dyann Ross, Martin Brueckner, Marilyn Palmer, Wallea Eaglehawk, 2019-11-28 Social workers are called upon to shift from a human centric bias to an ecological ethical sensibility by embracing love as integral to their justice mission and by extending the idea of social justice to include environmental and species justice This book presents the love ethic model as a way to do eco justice work using public campaigns research community arts practice and other nonviolent direct action strategies The model is premised on an active and ongoing commitment to the eco values of love eco justice and nonviolence for the purpose of upholding the public interest The love ethic model is informed by the stories of eco activists who used nonviolent actions to address ecological issues such as pollution degradation of the environment exploitation of farm animals mining industry overriding First Nation Peoples land rights and human health and social costs related to the natural resource industries private land developments and government infrastructure projects Informed by practice insights by activists from a range of eco justice concerns this innovative book provides new directions in social work and environmental studies involving transformational change leadership and dialogical group work between interest groups It should be considered essential reading for social work students researchers and practitioners as well as eco activists more generally Australian national bibliography, 1961
