Society and Exchange in Nias Andrew Beatty, 1992 The island of Nias in Indonesia is renowned for its feasts of merit In pursuit of prestige and a noble title a Nias chief must slaughter scores of pigs and give away a lifetime's wealth Based on two years field research this book gives an account of kinship and ceremonial exchange in a village of the interior The first part introduces a unique form of marriage alliance which represents arguably a link between elementary and complex social systems and has important implications for kinship theory The second part contains perhaps the fullest account to date of the feast of merit a widely occurring Southeast Asian institution Andrew Beatty's analysis sheds new light on the relation between gift exchange status and power and he gives equal attention to the pragmatic and ideological concerns of the participants Through case histories and ethnographic description he shows how exchange is involved in all that is most fundamental to life in Nias the acquisition of prosperity the creation of alliances and networks of support the promotion of rank and prestige and the assurance of salvation

Exchange, Action, and Social Structure Milan Zafirovski, 2001-07-30 This unique volume provides a new interpretation and synthesis of network exchange theory in an effort to contribute to a neo Weberian economic sociology Arguing against commonly held assumptions about network exchange theory and its interpretation of all social actions as economic exchanges Zafirovski seeks to explain these processes by employing an interdisciplinary approach and by examining the impact of social and institutional structures on market economic exchange The author argues that economic structure processes and actions are the outcomes of social action and institutions not the other way around This rehabilitation of economic sociology begins with a reconsideration of the character scope and development of the field The author then grounds his sociological approach to economic exchange in social action and structure before examining the role of social motivations in economic exchange He then examines the political structuration the cultural constitution and the social construction of economic exchange and exchange cycles The book concludes with a discussion of the character and variation of economic exchange in comparative social systems and the relationships of exchange economic development and social variables This unique and persuasive book is an important contribution to the study of economic sociology and sociological theory

Perspectives on Traditional Settlements and Communities Bagoes Wiryomartono, 2014-02-18 This book covers the relationship between societies and their culture in the context of traditional settlement in Indonesia The focus of the study is on the search for meanings of local concepts

This study reveals and analyzes the concepts concerning home and their sociocultural strategies for maintaining a sense of community and identity. In this study identifying local concepts becomes the hallmark and the hub of analyses that explore, verify and establish relations between ideas and phenomena. Based on these relations this study attempts to capture the reality of the local world that upholds and sustains the communities' values, norms and principles for what they may call a homeland. The book is organized into two parts. Part I describes a cross regional habitation in Indonesia while Part II presents four ethnic regions of Indonesia: Sunda, Toraja, Bali, Naga and Minangkabau. Their unique traditions, customs, beliefs and attitudes serve to provide diversity in terms of their backgrounds and lifestyles though they share the challenge of sustaining their sense of home in the face of modernity as characterized by changes and developments toward a technologically industrialized society. The central research questions are: What is development in terms of culture and environmental sustainability? How do these communities respond to modernity? How Kinship Systems Change Robert Parkin, 2021-07-16. Using some of his landmark publications on kinship along with a new introduction chapter and conclusion, Robert Parkin discusses here the changes in kinship terminologies and marriage practices as well as the dialectics between them. The chapters also focus on a suggested trajectory linking South Asia and Europe and the specific question of the status of Crow-Omaha systems. The collection culminates in the argument that whereas marriage systems and practices seem infinitely varied when examined from a very close perspective, the terminologies that accompany them are much more restricted.

Bijdragen tot de taal-, land- en volkenkunde van Nederlandsch-Indië, 1997. Literatuur overzicht issued with v 95. The Modern Anthropology of South-East Asia Victor King, William D. Wilder, 2020-09-10. This is a comprehensive introduction to the social and cultural anthropology of South East Asia. It provides an overview of the major theoretical issues and themes which have emerged from the engagement of anthropologists with South East Asian communities: a succinct historical survey and analysis of the peoples and cultures of the region. Most importantly, the volume reveals the vitally important role which the study of the area has occupied in the development of the concepts and methods of anthropology from the perspectives of Edmund Leach to Clifford Geertz, Maurice Freedman to Claude Lévi-Strauss, Lauriston Sharp to Melford Spiro. The Oxford Handbook of Early Christian Ritual Risto Uro, Juliette Day, Rikard Roitto, Richard E. DeMaris, 2019. The Handbook provides an indispensable account of the ritual world of early Christianity from the beginning of the movement up to the end of the sixth century. The Pastoral Continuum Paul Spencer, 1998-01-29. Paul Spencer presents the definitive study of the ways of life of the cattle herding peoples of East Africa drawing on many years of research. This region has offered a prime example of a traditional culture resisting the inevitability of change; it provides the best known and most extensive instance both of cattle pastoralist society and of social organization based primarily on age. Pastoral peoples were once dominant in the East African interior but development of the market economy has progressively polarized the region and forced them into the most marginal, drought-ridden areas. In this ecological trap they have become a peripheral underclass. The Pastoral Continuum examines the richness and resilience of their cultures and illuminates the role of indigenous practices and institutions in adaptation and survival The pastoralists systems of age organization in particular are notable for their resilience it is demonstrated that these are bound up with problems of growth and succession in family enterprises and that marriage is a critical link in the web of alliance that governs the problematic relations between old and young Spencer s exploration of the development of the pastoralist phenomenon yields a unique view of its place in the modern world and its prospects for the future This landmark work by a leading authority will be of lasting value to any reader interested in traditional social systems of this kind Ethnic Groups of South Asia and the Pacific James B. Emotional Worlds Andrew Beatty, 2019-02-07 Are emotions human universals Is the concept of emotion an invention of Western tradition If people in other cultures live radically different emotional lives how can we ever understand them Using vivid often dramatic examples from around the world and in dialogue with current work in psychology and philosophy Andrew Beatty develops an anthropological perspective on the affective life showing how emotions colour experience and transform situations how in turn they are shaped by culture and history In stark contrast with accounts that depend on lab simulations interviews and documentary reconstruction he takes the reader into unfamiliar cultural worlds through a narrative approach to emotions in naturalistic settings showing how emotions tell a story and belong to larger stories Combining richly detailed reporting with a careful critique of alternative approaches he argues for an intimate grasp of local realities that restores the heartbeat to ethnography
