Technology as Institutionally Related to Human Values Martin Green,1974 Technology as Institutionally Related to Human Values Martin Green,1974 Who Owns America's Past? Robert C. Post,2013-10-15 When preserving our history what do we choose to value why and who decides Honorable Mention for the National Council on Public History Book Award of the National Council on Public History In 1994 when the National Air and Space Museum announced plans to display the Enola Gay the B 29 sent to destroy Hiroshima with an atomic bomb the ensuing political uproar caught the museum's parent Smithsonian Institution entirely unprepared As the largest such complex in the world the Smithsonian cares for millions of objects and has displayed everything from George Washington's sword to moon rocks to Dorothy's ruby slippers from The Wizard of Oz Why did this particular object arouse such controversy From an insider's perspective Robert C Post's Who Owns America's Past offers insight into the politics of display and the interpretation of history Never before has a book about the Smithsonian detailed the recent and dramatic shift from collection driven shows with artifacts meant to speak for themselves to concept driven exhibitions in which objects aim to tell a story displayed like illustrations in a book Even more recently the trend is to show artifacts along with props sound effects and interactive elements in order to create an immersive environment Rather than looking at history visitors are invited to experience it Who Owns America's Past examines the different ways that the Smithsonian's exhibitions have been conceived and designed whether to educate visitors celebrate an important historical moment or satisfy donor demands or partisan agendas Combining information from hitherto untapped archival sources extensive interviews a thorough review of the secondary literature and considerable personal experience Post gives the reader a behind the scenes view of disputes among curators academics and stakeholders that were sometimes private and at other times burst into headline news Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office,1976 Passage to a Just Society Rev. Dr. Reza Rezaadeh,2003-11-12 For more information about the author and his publications visit www.democracywhere.com This study demonstrates that because their opposing nature democracy and capitalism or socialism cannot coexist To have a democratic society we have to replace capitalism or socialism with a democratic free market economy and take government out of regulating people's business and daily life The author attempts to present such a democratic concept its societal structure and function and how under such a system people understand the purpose of life work less hours yet have a prosperous leisurely and satisfying life The book is actually the story of some parts from the author's life written in an autobiographical form showing hardships sufferings failures incredible adventures romance and love he encountered in developing his theory and how persistence and determination despite repeated failures helped him to succeed in developing his theory and at the same time transformed him to a better human being Institutional Economics and the Theory of Social Value: Essays in Honor of Marc R. Tool Charles M.A. Clark,2012-12-06 Marc R Tool both through his writings and his editorship of the Journal of Economic Issues has had a profound influence on institutional economics Tool s efforts in his own words has been to keep values on the agenda of economic inquiry which is another way of saying keep economic inquiry relevant Tool s work on the theory of social value and instrumental valuation has helped to keep institutional economics focused on the core economic and social issues facing society providing both a perspective from which to analyze the economy and a criteria for evaluating outcomes This collection of essays is a testament to this legacy Although these 15 chapters cover a wide and diverse range of topics it is the common themes which are most striking the inescapable necessity of values in economic discourse the central role of valuation in economic activity and most importantly the requirement of democratic participation to achieve efficient solutions to the economic problem These essays are offered to honor a body of work a set of ideas but mostly a man who by directing economic inquiry to these core issues has promoted the continuity of human life and the noninvidious recreation of community through the instrumental use of knowledge

Faculty Members' Scholarly Learning Across Institutional Types
 Vicki L. Baker, Aimee LaPointe Terosky, Edna Martinez, 2017-08-22 Explore an important yet understudied concept faculty scholarly learning Taking a broad view this volume explains how scholarly learning is defined and conceptualized by scholars The authors synthesize the recent literature and organize the findings according to Boyers four forms of scholarship discovery teaching engagement and integration They then offer a counternarrative to faculty scholarly learning and the ways in which it is enacted and supported Recommendations for developing supporting and evaluating faculty scholarly learning are also presented This volume answers What does scholarly learning look like at different types of institutions What contexts and or supports hinder or help faculty members scholarly learning at the different institutional types What challenges are noted in the extant literature on faculty work around further study or better understanding of faculty members scholarly learning across institutional types This is the second issue of the 43rd volume of the Jossey Bass series ASHE Higher Education Report Each monograph is the definitive analysis of a tough higher education issue based on thorough research of pertinent literature and institutional experiences Topics are identified by a national survey Noted practitioners and scholars are then commissioned to write the reports with experts providing critical reviews of each manuscript before publication

Institutional Dynamics in Environmental Governance Bas Arts, Pieter Leroy, 2006-09-09 Environmental policy in its broadest context has been significantly revitalized and renewed during the last two decades That observation is nothing new attested to by the number of publications conferences and both private and public projects that have been initiated However our understanding of the dynamics of this renewal has generally been informed by studies on single policies and projects leaving us with a limited understanding of what the newness consists of in terms of an integrated perspective This book presents fresh analyses of a number of well known cases but does so from one comprehensive view the so called policy arrangement approach Cases discussed range over organic farming integrated water management nature policy cultural heritage policy integrated region oriented policy corporate environmental management and target group policy always in search of the commonality of experience and conclusions to be drawn in understanding the past and in formulating future perspectives Technology and Culture ,1975 Life and Work of Karl Polanyi Kari Levitt,1990
