meaning of the heart?

The Heart Of Philosophy

John Weir Perry

The Heart Of Philosophy:

The Heart of Philosophy Jacob Needleman, 2003-08-25 Philosophy as it is frequently taught in classrooms bears little relation to the impassioned and immensely practical search for self knowledge conducted by not only its ancient avatars but also by men and woman who seek after truth today In The Heart of the Philosophy Jacob Needleman provides a user s guide for those who would take philosophy seriously enough to understand its life transforming qualities The Heart of Things A.C. Grayling, 2010-12-09 The new bestseller from one of Britain s most pre eminent philosophers and arguably the best known A C Grayling Everyone wishes to live a life that is satisfying and fulfilling in which there is achievement and pleasure and which has the respect of people one in turn respects And one of the fundamentals to living such a life is to reflect on the choices we make In this new collection A C Grayling invites the reader into a conversation with ideas From personal questions about happiness and quality of life to wider public concerns such as war and democracy these essays provide a springboard to thought and to exploring what is best about the human heart and mind The Heart and its Attitudes Stephen Darwall, 2024-04-30 Philosophers don t often write about the heart At least analytical philosophers don t Why is this Philosophers are said to live life in their heads rather than from their hearts But even if that is so why don t they think and write about the heart Moreover it can hardly have escaped philosophers attention that matters of the heart are central to what we human beings value most about our lives including our lives with animals Philosophers write a lot about friendship and love but they tend to do so in terms that leave out heartfelt connection They speak rather of commitment to one another and each other s well being or taking each other as ends or sharing deliberative standpoints or living life together or a whole host of other topics and much less about mutual emotional vulnerability and sharing and being in one another s hearts Surely one explanation of philosophers reticence is that talk of the heart seems unavoidably metaphorical It turns out to be easy enough however to cash the metaphor in if we simply take heart refers to a cluster of emotional susceptibilities that have an essentially reciprocating structure The heart aims at heartfelt connection at shared experience of joys and sorrows hopes and fears and other personal emotions We seek naturally to share these feelings with others and must suppress our natural tendencies if we wish to avoid doing so Our heart s wish is to be open to other hearts in the hope that they will be open to ours and thereby us in return This book is a systematic treatment perhaps the first of attitudes of the heart remorse versus guilt love trust gratitude personal anger versus righteous anger jealousy and others and their role in mediating personal relationship attachment and connection This is obviously interesting in its own right but it also shows how heartfelt attitudes mirror more extensively studied reactive attitudes of guilt resentment and blame attitudes of the will Whereas the latter mediate moral relations of mutual respect and accountability attitudes of the heart are the currency of heartfelt connection and personal relationship Jacques Derrida Zeynep Direk, Leonard Lawlor, 2002 The Heart of History John Weir Perry, 1987-01-01 This book is about the psychology of acute culture change based on the historical antecedents of such events It focuses on the spiritual process and the social circumstances of stressful turning points The Heart of the Matter David Bakhurst,2023-04-24 The Heart of the Matter explores the legacies of Ilyenkov and Vygotsky two Russian thinkers who marshalled their passion for truth enlightenment and independent thought to understand the human mind not for the sake of knowledge alone but to help create the conditions in which human flourishing can become a reality for all The book renders their theories intelligible against the dramatic social and historical background in which they lived and worked bringing their ideas into dialogue with themes and thinkers in Western philosophy to reveal how they illuminate philosophical issues of enduring significance Textualities Hugh J. Silverman,2013-10-28 Textualities is both an account of recent developments in Continental philosophy and a demonstration of philosophy as a distinctive theoretical practice of its own It can be read as a presentation and evaluation of major figures from Heidegger and Merleau Ponty to Foucault and Derrida with detailed accounts of Nietzsche Sartre Levi Strauss Barthes Blanchot and Kristeva The Heart of Rome Jan H. Blits,2013-12-05 The essays in this book examine the political activities and institutions of pre Imperial Rome in conjunction with the habits of the hearts and the minds of the Romans Relying on the writings of ancient authors the essays analyze significant political developments and events They attempt to draw out the meaning of what the authors say and impose no theory on the ancient writings Nor do they pursue the methodological techniques of contemporary historiography While avoiding such common present day anachronisms they take their guidance directly from the ancient historians themselves and examine their understanding of Rome s political history and culture Harking back to the ancient view that a political culture or regime is both a city s form of government and its way of life the essays trying to be true to the full character of Roman political life seek to understand the political activities and the souls of the Romans and to understand each in the light of the other

Ivanhoe,Sungmoon Kim,2016-02-01 Employs Robert Bellah s notion of civil religion to explore East Asia s Confucian revival

Can Confucianism be regarded as a civil religion for East Asia This book explores this question bringing the insights of Robert Bellah to a consideration of various expressions of the contemporary Confucian revival Bellah identified American civil religion as a religious dimension of life that can be found throughout US culture but one without any formal institutional structure Rather this civil form of religion provides the ethical principles that command reverence and by which a nation judges itself Extending Bellah's work contributors from both the social sciences and the humanities conceive of East Asia's Confucian revival as a habit of the heart an underlying belief system that guides a society and examine how Confucianism might function as a civil religion in China Korea and Japan They discuss what aspects of Confucian tradition and thought are being embraced some of the social movements political factors and opportunities connected with the revival of the tradition and why Confucianism has not traveled much beyond East Asia The late Robert Bellah's reflection on the possibility for a global civil religion concludes the volume
