

The image shows a traditional Yoruba shrine, likely a 'bábá' or 'mú' (spirit house). It is a small, rectangular structure with a steeply pitched, thatched roof made of dried palm fronds. The walls are constructed from woven palm leaves or similar natural materials. In the center of the front wall is a small, arched opening. Inside this opening is a carved wooden figure, possibly a deity or ancestor spirit, depicted in a seated or standing pose. The shrine is situated outdoors, with green foliage and trees visible in the background. The ground in front of the shrine appears to be a dirt path or clearing. The overall scene is bathed in warm, golden light, suggesting late afternoon or early morning.

Boundless Grace Chris N van der Merwe,2024-05-01 The message of the New Testament is that Jesus took the punishment of sin meant for men upon Himself to redeem those who believe in Him This belief in the transference of suffering from men to Jesus creates a myriad of questions for many people Was Jesus s brutal death truly necessary Why do God require a sacrifice instead of just forgiving unconditionally Is God the Father restricted in His willingness to forgive The idea of heaven and hell stirs up doubt and fear in many fear for the eternal damnation of hell and doubt if they will ever be able to make it to heaven How could a loving God the God of love who is preached by the Christian faith allow for people to go to hell The author gives no pretence that he has the definitive answers to all these difficult questions or that he could fully uncover the extensive meaning of what the life death and resurrection of Jesus truly entails But he sincerely hopes the new thoughts that these writings might evoke will cast some light on these darker questions for those who struggle with them

Enchanted Calvinism Adam Mohr,2013 Enchanted Calvinism s surprising central proposition is that Ghanaian Presbyterian communities have become more enchanted i e attuned to spiritual explanations of and remedies for suffering as they have become moreintegrated into capitalist modes of production Enchanted Calvinism s central proposition is that Ghanaian Presbyterian communities both past and present have become more enchanted more attuned to spiritual explanations of and remedies for suffering as they havebecome integrated into capitalist modes of production The author draws on a Weberian concept of religious enchantment to analyze the phenomena of spiritual affliction and spiritual healing within the Presbyterian Church of Ghana particularly under the conditions of labor migration first in the early twentieth century during the cocoa boom in Ghana and second at the turn of the twenty first century in their migration from Ghana to North America Relying on extensive archival research oral interviews and participant observation conducted in North America Europe and West Africa this study demonstrates that the more these Ghanaian Calvinists became dependent on capitalist modes of production the more enchanted their lives and subsequently their church became although in different ways within these two migrations One striking pattern that has emerged among Ghanaian Presbyterian labor migrants in North America for example is a radical shift in gendered healing practices where women have become prominent healers while a significant number of men have become spirit possessed Adam Mohr is Senior Writing Fellow in Anthropology in the Critical Writing Program at the University of Pennsylvania
