The results show that social media is not destroying the younger generation despite previous attempts that link social media to increased mental health problems. The research analyzed the time spent on social media as a factor in the examination. The study thus shows the importance of context and content surrounding internet use when making conclusions. The research targets a knowledgeable audience through complex statistical analysis to present the data. This study shows the multi-faceted nature of understanding the relationship between social media and mental health, requiring extensive research to comprehend its effects adequately.
