National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1971 Biographical Dictionary of Psychology Noel Sheehy, Antony J. Chapman, Wendy A. Conroy, 2002 This volume is a comprehensive collection of critical essays on The Taming of the Shrew and includes extensive discussions of the play's various printed versions and its theatrical productions. Emotion and Adaptation Richard S. Lazarus, 1994-06-09 In this landmark work, Richard Lazarus, one of the world's foremost authorities, offers a comprehensive treatment of the psychology of emotion, its role in adaptation, and the issues that must be addressed to understand it. The work provides a complete theory of emotional processes, explaining how different emotions are elicited and expressed and how the emotional range of individuals develops over their lifetime. The author's approach puts emotion in a central role as a complex, patterned, organic reaction to both daily events and long-term efforts on the part of the individual to survive, flourish, and achieve. In his view, emotions cannot be divorced from other functions—whether biological, social, or cognitive—and express the intimate, personal meaning of what individuals experience. As coping and adapting processes, they are seen as part of the ongoing effort to monitor changes, stimuli, and stresses arising from the environment. After defining emotion and discussing issues of classification and measurement, Lazarus turns to the topics of motivation, cognition, and causality as key concepts in this theory. Next, he looks at individual emotions, both negative and positive, and examines their development in terms of social influences and individual events. Finally, he considers the long-term consequences of emotion on physical health and well-being and the treatment and prevention of emotional dysfunction. The book draws together the relevant research from a wide variety of sources and distills the author's pioneering work in the field over the last forty years. As a comprehensive treatment of the emotions, the book will interest students, clinicians, and researchers involved in personality, social, and clinical psychology, as well as cognitive and developmental psychology. It may also be used as a supplemental textbook in courses on the psychology of adjustment, emotion, and feeling.

Emotions in Ideal Human Development Leonard Cirillo, Barnard Kaplan, Seymour Wapner, 2014-01-14 Derived from a conference sponsored by the Heinz Werner Institute for Developmental Analysis at Clark University, these papers consider the role emotions play in ideal human development Contributors from the fields of psychology philosophy and sociology discuss the place that feelings affect passion and emotion should ideally occupy in human existence and how realization of this goal can be fostered The conference organizers focused the discussions by asking the participants to consider six questions each of which was intended to touch upon some aspect of the relationship between emotions and ideal human development Chapters contain the papers presented and a summary of the discussions that followed the presentations

Narrative Identities
George Yancy,2005 The contributors address challenging questions about identity in relation to personality development language and socialisation They demonstrate how their cultural and historical contexts influenced their theoretical approaches to the nature of self and how these ideas in turn shaped how they perceive their personal histories

Environment and Behavior Studies Irwin Altman,Kathleen Christensen,2012-12-06 This eleventh volume in the series departs from the pattern of earlier volumes Some of those volumes addressed research design and policy topics in terms of environmental settings for example homes communities neighborhoods and public places Others focused on environmental users for example children and the elderly The present volume examines the field of environment and behavior studies itself in the form of intellectual histories of some of its most productive and still visible senior participants In so doing we hope to provide readers with a grand sweep of the field its research and design content methodology institutions and past and future trajectories through the experiences and intellectual histories of its participants Why intellectual histories Several factors led to the decision to launch this project For one 1989 was an anniversary and commemorative year for the Environmental Design Research Association perhaps the major and most long standing interdisciplinary organization of environment and behavior researchers and practitioners Established in 1969 this organization has been the vehicle for generations of researchers and practitioners from many disciplines to come together annually to exchange ideas present papers and develop professional and personal relationships It held its first and twentieth meetings in North Carolina with the twentieth conference substantially devoted to discussions of the past present and future of the field a taking stock so to speak Thus it seemed appropriate to launch a volume on intellectual histories at this significant juncture in the life of the field

Designing Alcohol and Other Drug Prevention Programs in Higher Education ,1997 The Drama of Everyday Life Karl Scheibe,2002-03-15 Psychologists say the old joke know everything there is to know about the college sophomore and the white rat But what about the rest of us older than the former bigger than the latter with lives more labyrinthine than either In this ambitious book Karl E Scheibe aims to take psychology out of its rut and bring it into contact with the complex lives that most people quietly live Drama Scheibe reminds us is no more confined to the theater than religion is to the church or education to the schoolroom Accordingly he brings to his reflection on psychology the drama of literature poetry philosophy history music and theater The essence of drama is transformation the transformation of the quotidian world into something that commands interest and stimulates conversation It is this dramatic transformation that Scheibe seeks in psychology as he pursues a series of suggestive questions such as Why is boredom the central motivational issue of our time Why are eating and sex the biological foundations of all human dramas Why is indifference a natural condition caring a dramatic achievement Why is schizophrenia disappearing Why does gambling have cosmic significance Writing with elegance and passion Scheibe asks us to take note of the self representation performance and scripts of the drama that is our everyday life In doing so he challenges our dispirited senses and awakens psychology to a new realm of dramatic possibility
