The Cinema Of Frank Capra An Approach To Film Comedy:

The Cinema of Frank Capra Leland A. Poague, 1975 Another Frank Capra Leland Poague, 1994 Another Frank Capra offers a new interpretation of the great Hollywood director beyond the patriotic sentimentalist or the cynical opportunist that he has been taken for. Often cast as a cinematic simpleton or primitive, Capra's exploitation of the stylistic and narrative resources of cinema was in fact extremely self-conscious and adventurous in ways typical of artistic modernism. His modernism is also evident in his repeated and strong identification with female characters. Informed by recent work in genre theory and feminist psychology, Another Frank Capra shows Capra to be a proto-feminist director whose feminism has been entirely neglected by previous critics.

Frank Capra's Eastern Horizons Elizabeth Rawitsch, 2014-10-16 Frank Capra has long had a reputation as being the quintessential American director, the man who perfectly captured the identity and core values of the United States with a string of classic films in the 1930s and 40s including It Happened One Night, Mr. Smith Goes to Washington, and It's a Wonderful Life. However, as Elizabeth Rawitsch argues, Capra's construction of national identity did not occur within an exclusively national context. She points out that many of his films are actually set in or include sequences set in China, Latin America, the Philippines, and the South Seas. Featuring in-depth textual analysis supported by original archival research, Frank Capra's Eastern Horizons explains that Capra's view of what constituted America changed over time, extending its boundaries to embrace countries often far from the United States. Complicating Edward Said's theory of Orientalism as a strict binary in which the West constructs the East as an inferior other, it demonstrates that East and West often intermingle in films such as The Bitter Tea of General Yen and in Capra's orientation documentaries for World War II. American servicemen, Capra imagined a kind of global community, albeit one with heavy undertones of British and American imperialism. Investigating shifts in what Capra's America has meant over time, both to Capra and to those who have watched and studied his films, this innovative book offers a startlingly fresh perspective on one of the most iconic figures in American film history.

Frank Capra Frank Capra, 2004 Few Hollywood directors had a higher profile in the 1930s than Frank Capra. 1897-1991. He served as president of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences and of the Screen Directors Guild. He won three Academy Awards as best director and was widely acclaimed as the man most responsible for making Columbia Pictures a success. This popularity was established and sustained by films that spoke to and for the times: It Happened One Night, Mr. Deeds Goes to Town, Meet John Doe, and Mr. Smith Goes to Washington. These replicated the nation's hopes and dreams for a national community. He worked with some of the brightest stars in Hollywood: James Stewart, Clark Gable, Jean Arthur, Gary Cooper, Barbara Stanwyck, Claudette Colbert, Bette Davis, Donna Reed, and Ann Margret. Capra's interviews express his connection to the national audience and explore his own story. He was a Sicilian immigrant boy who survived rough and tumble beginnings to become Hollywood's most bankable director. In reflecting on his life, almost every one of his films was a parable of acclaim verging on disaster. He spent much of the 1940s in uniform while making films for the War.

Department Although Capra was an optimist World War II and his series of Why We Fight films called his legendary optimism into question His postwar film It s a Wonderful Life 1946 gave an answer to those questions with an astonishing directness Capra never equaled again In 1971 he published his autobiography The Name Above the Title Many of the interviews collected here come from this period when as an elder statesman of motion picture art and history he reflected on his long career The interviews portray the Capra legend vividly and demonstrate why the warm relations between Capra and his audiences continue to inspire acclaim and admiration Leland Poague a professor of English at Iowa State University is the editor of Conversations with Susan Sontag University Press of Mississippi He is the author of Another Frank Capra and The Cinema of Frank Capra An Approach to Film Comedy Frank Capra Robert Sklar,Vito Zagarrio, Frank Capra s films have had a lasting impact on American culture His powerful depiction of American values myths and ideals was central famous Hollywood films as It Happened One Night Mr Smith Goes to Washington and It s a Wonderful Life These pre war films are remembered for their depiction of an individual s overcoming adversity populist politics and an unflappable optimist view of life This collection of nine essays by leading international film historians analyzes Capra s filmmaking during his most prolific period from 1928 to 1939 taking a closer look at the more complex aspects of his work They trace his struggles for autonomy against Columbia Pictures head Harry Cohn his reputation as an amateur and the ways in which working within studio modes of production my have enhanced the director s strengths The contributors also place their critiques within the context of the changing fortunes of the Hollywood studio system the impact of the Depression and Capra s working relationships with other studio staff and directors The contributors access to nineteen newly restored Capra films made at Columbia during this period fills this collection with some of the most comprehensive critiques available on the director s early body of work

Class, Language, and American Film Comedy Christopher Beach,2002-02-11 This book examines the evolution of American film comedy through the lens of language and the portrayal of social class Christopher Beach argues that class has been an important element in the development of sound comedy as a cinematic form With the advent of sound in the late 1920s and early 1930s filmmakers recognized that sound and narrative enlarged the semiotic and ideological potential of film Analyzing the use of language in the films of the Marx Brothers Frank Capra Woody Allen and the Coen brothers among others Class Language and American Film Comedy traces the history of Hollywood from the 1930s to the present while offering a new approach to the study of class and social relationships through linguistic analysis Hollywood's Italian

American Filmmakers Jonathan J. Cavallero,2011-05-01 Hollywood s Italian American Filmmakers explores the different ways in which Italian American directors from the 1920s to the present have responded to their ethnicity While some directors have used film to declare their ethnic roots and create an Italian American imagined community others have ignored or even denied their background Jonathan J Cavallero examines the films of Frank Capra Martin Scorsese Nancy Savoca Francis Ford Coppola and Quentin Tarantino with a focus on what the films reveal about each director s view on

Italian American identities Whereas Capra s films highlight similarities between immigrant characters and WASP Americans Scorsese accepts his ethnic heritage but also sees it as confining Similarly many of Coppola s films provide a nostalgic treatment of Italian American identity but with little criticism of the culture s more negative aspects And while Savoca s movies reveal her artful ability to recognize how ethnic gender and class identities overlap Tarantino s films exhibit a playfully postmodern engagement with Italian American ethnicity Cavallero s exploration of the films of Capra Scorsese Savoca Coppola and Tarantino demonstrates how immigrant Italians fought prejudice how later generations positioned themselves in relation to their predecessors and how the American cinema usually seen as a cultural institution that works to assimilate has also served as a forum where assimilation was resisted

Songs of Innocence and Experience Magdalena Grabias-Zurek,2013-07-26 Songs of Innocence and Experience Romance in the Cinema of Frank Capra is a study of the director s chosen movies from the perspective of three types of comedies paradisaal purgatorial and infernal as assigned by Dante in his Divine Comedy Magdalena Grabias views Capra s films in two broader categories of innocence and experience where innocence represents Dantean paradisaal level and experience combines the levels of purgatory and inferno Such a division constitutes the means to interpret Capra s filmic universe and to describe the ever evolving directorial vision of Frank Capra The main purpose of the book is to demonstrate how in the light of the theory of literary romance as presented by Northrop Frye in his seminal works concerning the subject the films of Frank Capra fit into the genre of romance Romantic elements in Frank Capra s movies can be found in both innocence and experience categories and hence consequently in his paradisaal purgatorial and infernal comedies However in both categories and all three comedy types the romantic reality of each examined film is structured and developed in a different manner The book offers an insight into Frank Capra s films and the complex process of creating his multidimensional romantic universe within them Franklin D. Roosevelt and the Shaping of American Political Culture Nancy Beck Young,Byron W. Daynes,William D. Pederson,2001 How did Americans respond to the economic catastrophe that beset them in 1929 In what ways did the social and cultural responses inform the politics of the period How did changed political beliefs alter cultural activities This volume addresses these questions and more

The M.E.Sharpe Library of Franklin D.Roosevelt Studies: v. 1 NancyBeck Young,2017-07-05 Although Roosevelt had no single plan to alter Congress s role the incremental changes adopted during the New Deal transformed Congress Examining the immediate reactions of groups in Congress and beyond and the long term effects this study offers insights into a key period in US politics
