Plurinational Afrobolivianity Moritz Heck, 2020-02-03 In Bolivia's plurinational conjuncture novel political articulations legal reform and processes of collective identification converge in unprecedented efforts to re-found the country and transform its society This ethnography explores the experiences of Afrodescendants in plurinational Bolivia and offers a fresh perspective on the social and political transformations shaping the country as a whole Moritz Heck analyzes Afrobolivian social and cultural practices at the intersections of local communities politics and the law shedding light on novel articulations of Afrobolivianity and evolving processes of collective identification This study also contributes to broader anthropological debates on blackness and indigeneity in Latin America by pointing out their conceptual entanglements and continuous interactions in political and social practice

Conscript Nation Elizabeth Shesko, 2020-05-12 Military service in Bolivia has long been compulsory for young men This service plays an important role in defining identity citizenship masculinity state formation and civil military relations in twentieth century Bolivia The project of obligatory military service originated as part of an attempt to restrict the power of indigenous communities after the 1899 civil war During the following century administrations from oligarchic to revolutionary expressed faith in the power of the barracks to assimilate shape and educate the population Drawing on a body of internal military records never before used by scholars Elizabeth Shesko argues that conscription evolved into a pact between the state and society It not only was imposed from above but was also embraced from below because it provided a space for Bolivians across divides of education ethnicity and social class to negotiate their relationships with each other and with the state Shesko contends that state formation built around military service has been characterized in Bolivia by multiple layers of negotiation and accommodation The resulting nation state was and is still hierarchical and divided by profound differences but it never was simply an assimilatory project It instead reflected a dialectical process to define the state and its relationships

Comparing Ethnographies Elsie Rockwell, Kathryn Anderson-Levitt, 2017-06-23 Comparing Ethnographies presents cross national comparisons that give researchers and students a fresh look at familiar concepts How does it matter for example to think in terms of majorities rather than minorities migrants rather than immigrants or intercultural education rather than multicultural education How does indigenous education or the work of teachers look different to ethnographers from different countries of the Americas This engaging new volume edited by Kathryn Anderson Levitt and Elsie Rockwell includes essays from experts throughout the Americas which help readers understand and learn from ethnographic educational research conducted across the Western Hemisphere and also includes a practical guide to finding the relevant literature

Education Across the African Diaspora Derron Wallace, Kassie Freeman, Ernest Morrell, Henry Levin, 2023-12-05 This book examines the opportunities orientations and outcomes that shape education for Black people across time place and space throughout the African diaspora It bridges gaps in education studies and African diaspora studies noting the connections between these two formative fields as central to a fuller understanding of the history and futurity of African descendants around the world The chapters in this volume showcase the work of scholars across disciplinary boundaries national contexts and methodological expertise all of whom are deeply concerned with education for Black children young people and adults from critical perspectives Crucially this volume explores the social political psychic and material dimensions of education for Black people within the African diaspora as already part of a larger global phenomenon linking the national and the international the local and the global for a more comprehensive understanding of the past present and future of education for people of African descent around the world Education Across the African Diaspora will be a key resource for scholars and researchers of education studies African diaspora studies education history African studies black studies ethnic studies and sociology This book was originally published as a special issue of Peabody Journal of Education

Handbook of Language and Ethnic Identity Joshua Fishman, Ofelia Garcia, 2011-04-21 Like the first volume The Handbook of Language and Ethnic Identity Volume 2 is a reference work on the interconnection between language and ethnic identity In this volume 37 new essays provide a systematic look at different language and ethnic identity efforts assess their relative successes and failures and place the cases on a success failure continuum The reasons for these failures and successes and the linguistic social and political contexts involved are subtle and highly complex Some of these factors have to do with whether the language is considered a dialect as in the cases of Bavarian Ebonics and Scots considered to be dialects of German American English and British English respectively Other factors have to do with government policy as in the cases of Basque and Navajo Still other factors are historical such as the way Canaanite was supplanted in present day Israel by another classical language Hebrew Although the volume offers considerable sophistication in the treatment of language ethnicity and identity it has been written for the non specialized reader whether student or layperson The contributors are an international group of well known scholars in a range of fields Fishman and Garc a provide a detailed introduction that addresses the difficulty of assessing the success or failure of a language They also present a conclusion that integrates the data presented in the volume
