Edinburgh Companion to Twentieth-Century Literatures in English Brian McHale, 2006-06-28 An imaginatively constructed new literary history of the twentieth century This companion with a difference sets a controversial new agenda for literary historical analysis Far from the usual forced march through the decades genres and national literatures this reference work for the new century cuts across familiar categories focusing instead on literary hot spots Freud's Vienna and Conrad's Congo in 1899 Chicago and London in 1912 the Somme in July 1916 Dublin London and Harlem in 1922 and so on down to Bradford and Berlin in 1989 the fatwa against Salman Rushdie the new digital media Stockholm in 1993 Toni Morrison's Nobel Prize and September 11 2001

Complete Poems Claude McKay, 2004-01-29 Containing more than three hundred poems including nearly a hundred previously unpublished works this unique collection showcases the intellectual range of Claude McKay 1889-1948 the Jamaican born poet and novelist whose life and work were marked by restless travel and steadfast social protest McKay's first poems were composed in rural Jamaican creole and launched his lifelong commitment to representing everyday black culture from the bottom up Migrating to New York he reinvigorated the English sonnet and helped spark the Harlem Renaissance with poems such as If We Must Die. After coming under scrutiny for his communism he traveled throughout Europe and North Africa for twelve years and returned to Harlem in 1934 having denounced Stalin's Soviet Union. By then McKay's pristine violent sonnets were giving way to confessional lyrics informed by his newfound Catholicism. McKay's verse eludes easy definition yet this complete anthology vividly introduced and carefully annotated by William J. Maxwell acquaints readers with the full transnational evolution of a major voice in twentieth century poetry.

The Fragile Bridge Steve Golin, 1988 In this full length study of the 1913 Paterson silk strike Steve Golin examines the creative collaboration between the silk workers organizers from the Industrial Workers of the World and Greenwich Village intellectuals. Although the strike was defeated this alliance could become a model for the American left because it suggests the possibilities of connecting economic political and cultural struggles. Combining perspectives from labor history social history and intellectual history Golin argues that while the silk workers began the 1913 strike and controlled it themselves the IWW helped them create institutions that supported the strike and reinforced its radically democratic character. The deadlock in Paterson dictated the need for a bridge to New York that was facilitated by a growing mutual trust between the Wobblies and intellectuals from Greenwich Village. At the height of the struggle the IWW and the Village radicals joined the workers in presenting a powerful strike pageant in Madison Square Garden. The story of the 1913 silk strike is important because it challenges long held conservative assumptions about labor history including the elitist role of skilled workers the bureaucratic function of union organization and the irrelevance of intellectuals. Although the strikers were ultimately defeated the strike's failure had more damaging consequences for the IWW and the intellectuals than for the workers themselves and Golin views this loss as a major turning point for the American left. Author note Steve Golin is Professor of History at Bloomfield College in New Jersey.

Countee Cullen: Collected Poems Countee Cullen, 2013-03-21 The American Poets Project series continues with this stunning collection from a major and sometimes controversial figure of the Harlem Renaissance. In his early twenties Countee Cullen emerged as a central figure in the tumultuous defiant intensely creative cultural movement now known as the Harlem Renaissance. Here is the most comprehensive collection of Cullen's poetry ever assembled. It begins with his astonishing first book Color 1925 a debut that made him famous like Byron overnight as H. L. Mencksen put it. Cullen's intricate deceptively simple lyrics shocked some early readers with their frank explorations of racial sexual and religious themes. They have since become touchstones of the African American poetic tradition. The collection follows the evolution of Cullen's prodigious talents through Copper Sun 1927 The Ballad of the Brown Girl 1927 The Black Christ haunting late poems he intended to add to On These I Stand 1947 before his death and dozens of uncollected poems some never before published which reveal an intense engagement with the politics of civil rights. Together they afford an unprecedented occasion to revisit a dazzling and distinctive poetic voice.
