The Coming of the Revolution, 1763-1775 Lawrence Henry Gipson, 2012-03-01 The Coming of the Revolution, 1763-1775 Lawrence Henry Gipson, 1954 A short history of the rise of that historical movement which culminates in American secession from the British Empire Includes descriptions of the individual colonies and their characteristics

The Coming of the Revolution, 1763-1775, Etc. [With Plates and a Bibliography.]. Lawrence Henry Gipson, 1954 The Coming of the Revolution, 1763-1775 ,1954* The Struggle for Power in Colonial America, 1607-1776 William R. Nester, 2017-10-11 America's colonial era began and ended dramatically with the founding of the first enduring settlement at Jamestown on May 14 1607 and the Declaration of Independence in Philadelphia on July 4 1776 During those 169 years conflicts were endemic and often overlapping among the colonists between the colonists and the original inhabitants between the colonists and other imperial European peoples and between the colonists and the mother country As conflicts were endemic so too were struggles for power This study reveals the reasons for stages and results of these conflicts The dynamic driving this history are two inseparable transformations as English subjects morphed into American citizens and the core American cultural values morphed from communitarianism and theocracy into individualism and humanism These developments in turn were shaped by the changing ways that the colonists governed made money waged war worshipped thought wrote and loved Extraordinary individuals led that metamorphosis explorers like John Smith and Daniel Boone visionaries like John Winthrop and Thomas Jefferson entrepreneurs like William Phips and John Hancock dissidents like Rogers Williams and Anne Hutchinson warriors like Miles Standish and Benjamin Church free spirits like Thomas Morton and William Byrd and creative writers like Anne Bradstreet and Robert Rogers Then there was that quintessential man of America's Enlightenment Benjamin Franklin And finally George Washington who more than anyone was responsible for winning American independence when and how it happened

The Fall of the First British Empire Robert W. Tucker, David C. Hendrickson, 1982 This book was presented in part as the 1981 Jefferson Memorial Lectures at the University of California Berkeley May 19 21 1981 T p verso America's Nation-time, 1607-1789 Benjamin Woods Labaree, 1976 The study of American history has become so complex in recent years that readers now often face a choice between a broad survey simplified to the point of distortion and daunting array of specialized studies The need remains for a lucid overview of the principal events of each period of the nation's history together with a balanced interpretation of their significance Benjamin W Labaree's America's Nation Time provides such an overview and interpretation for the colonial period A history of those men and women English European and African who transformed America from a geographical expression into a new nation

Empires to Nations Max Savelle, 1974-09-06 Empires to Nations was first published in 1974 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions This history traces the growth of the Euroamerican societies in the Western Hemisphere during the eighteenth century period of European expansion Professor Savelle reviews the continuation and completion of the exploration of the American continent and describes the evolution of the New World empires of the English French Spanish Portuguese and Dutch He devotes separate chapters to the development of the political structures of the colonies and the rivalries wars and diplomatic exchanges among the empires He also reviews and analyzes the economic history of the colonial societies in their three way relationships with their mother countries with each other and within themselves as regional or local entities Final chapters are devoted to the birth and growth of national self consciousness among the new societies Almanac of American Military History Spencer C.
