Theatres of Memory Raphael Samuel,2012-09-11 When Theatres of Memory was first published in 1994 it transformed the debate about what is to be considered history and questioned the role of heritage that lies at the heart of every Western nation s obsession with the past Today in the age of Downton Abbey and Mad Men we are once again conjuring historical fictions to make sense of our everyday lives In this remarkable book Samuel looks at the many different ways we use the unofficial knowledge of the past Considering such varied areas as the fashion for retrofitting the rise of family history the joys of collecting old photographs the allure of reenactment societies and televised adaptations of Dickens Samuel transforms our understanding of the uses of history He shows us that history is a living practice something constantly being reassessed in the world around us

Landscape, Race and Memory Divya Praful Tolia-Kelly,2016-04-22 Memory is seldom explored through the experience of geographically mobile racialized populations Whilst the relationships between the political value of landscape and national memory have previously been written through there has been little mention of postcolonial diasporic racialized citizens Using both visual and material culture this book examines the value of landscape and memory for postcolonial migrants living in Britain It uses memory to examine how postcolonial citizenship in Britain is experienced through remembered citizenships of other geographies abroad

By reflecting on the cultural landscapes of British Asian women the book reveals social historical narratives about migration citizenship and belonging New spaces of memory are presented as mobile and as politically charged with meaning as the more formal spaces of memorialization The book offers a refiguring of race memory as being critical to English heritage and postcolonial politics and makes an important contribution to the writings on memory race and landscape Latin American Peasants Tom Brass, 2004-08-02 The essays in this collection examine agrarian transformation in Latin America and the role in this of peasants with particular reference to Bolivia Peru Chile Brazil and Central America Among the issues covered are the impact of globalization and neo liberal economic policies
