On the left side, there is a vertical strip of a different material, likely cloth or leatherette, in a muted grey-blue color. This strip serves as the spine of the book. In the center of the red cover, there is a decorative, horizontally-oriented label. The label has a thin, gold-colored border with a slightly irregular, hand-drawn appearance. Inside this label, the title 'THE COMPOSITOR' is printed in a bold, gold-colored, serif typeface. Below the main title, the subtitle 'as Artist, Craftsman, and Tradesman' is written in a smaller, gold-colored, italicized serif font.

Ferguson, 2023-01-20 While the stock image of the anarchist as a masked bomber or brick thrower prevails in the public eye a more representative figure should be a printer at a printing press In Letterpress Revolution Kathy E Ferguson explores the importance of printers whose materials galvanized anarchist movements across the United States and Great Britain from the late nineteenth century to the 1940s Ferguson shows how printers whether working at presses in homes offices or community centers arranged text ink images graphic markers and blank space within the architecture of the page Printers extensive correspondence with fellow anarchists and the radical ideas they published created dynamic and entangled networks that brought the decentralized anarchist movements together Printers and presses did more than report on the movement they were constitutive of it and their vitality in anarchist communities helps explain anarchism s remarkable persistence in the face of continuous harassment arrest assault deportation and exile By inquiring into the political material and aesthetic practices of anarchist print culture Ferguson points to possible methods for cultivating contemporary political resistance
