Actions of Their Own to Learn , 2017-01-01 What does it mean to take actions of one's own to learn How do human beings create meaning for themselves and with others How can learners active efforts to build knowledge be encouraged and supported In this edited compilation scholars from a diverse range of academic and professional backgrounds address these questions grounded in the conviction that the ability to take effective action of one's own to learn is itself an essential form of knowledge In an era of dramatic social environmental and political change the need to access vast amounts of information to make decisions demands that learners become active agents in their own knowledge development Educators are transforming ideas about their roles as they strive to provide guidance to help learners take the lead in their own learning. Learners are building new ideas about their capacities to gather and organize information while working with others. No longer simply consumers of information, they are beginning to see themselves as capable and effective researchers. Researchers are also expanding ideas about their knowledge gathering work and identities. No longer simply reporters of information, researchers are seeing themselves as learners as they engage in deeper, more collaborative ways with participants in their research. Chapter authors describe their dedicated and often career-long journeys to show the vital connections between knowledge, acting to learn, identity, and being. To engage in this work means disrupting traditional ideas about how knowledge is most effectively acquired. This book will inspire researchers, educators, and educational planners as they build the kinds of new participative structures needed to support individual and collective actions to learn. Reframing the Emotional Worlds of the Early Childhood Classroom Samara Madrid, David Fernie, Rebecca Kantor, 2014-10-30. This volume examines the emotional world of the early childhood classroom as it affects young children whose emotional wellbeing is crucial to successful learning, educators for whom teaching is never a solely cognitive act, parents, and administrators. In a culture where issues such as bullying and teacher burnout comprise major challenges to student success, this book brings together diverse voices: researchers, practitioners, children, and parents, and multiple perspectives, theoretical and personal, to refocus attention on the pivotal role of emotion in schools. To do so, editors Samara Madrid, David Fernie, and Rebecca Kantor envision emotion as a dynamic, fluid, and negotiated construct performed and produced in the daily lives of children and adults alike. A nuanced yet cohesive analysis, Reframing the Emotional Worlds of the Early Childhood Classroom thus presents a challenge to the overriding concern with quantifiable classroom achievement that increasingly threatens to push the emotional lives of classroom participants to the margins of educational and public discourse.

The Chicago Schools Journal, 1923 The Contemporary Review, 1875 Saffy's Angel Hilary McKay, 2013-02-07. From the winner of the Costa Children's Book Award 2018. Meet Saffy, Indigo, Rose, and Caddy Casson. This colourful and hilarious series will make you wish you were part of the family. After Saffron discovers that she's adopted, life is never quite the same. Her artistic parents and doting siblings adore her, but Saffy wants a piece of her past. So when her grandfather bequeaths a stone angel to her, Saffy knows she has to find it. Realising that her childhood in Siena holds the key, she stows away on a car trip to Italy. The rest of the family are engaged in their own wacky projects: Caddy, a hopeless student, is revising for her A levels and desperately trying to pass her driving test; Indigo, the only boy in the Casson family, is determined to rid himself of his fear of heights; and the youngest, Rose, a budding artist, has a knack for baiting her pompous dad with entertaining results. This book truly is a masterpiece. Guardian. Saffy's Angel won the Whitbread Children's Book Award, and book 3, Permanent Rose, was shortlisted for the same award, celebrating McKay's talent for conveying the anarchic bedlam of family life.
