Architectural History ,2010 Architecture and the After-life Howard Colvin,Emeritus Fellow St John's College Howard Colvin,1991-01-01 The Pyramids and the Taj Mahal are witness to the extravagant architectural tributes that throughout human history the great and the wealthy have paid to their dead In this book a well known architectural historian provides a history of funerary architecture in western Europe from the earliest megalithic tombs of prehistory to the establishment of public cemeteries in the nineteenth century With sensitivity and wit Howard Colvin traces the ways in which these structures represent changing ideas about the after life as well as changes in architectural style Romanticism and the Museum E. Peacocke, Mo Malek, 2014-11-25 Romanticism and the Museum argues that museums were integral to Britain's understanding of itself as a nation in the wake of the French Revolution It features Wordsworth Scott Edgeworth and literary periodicals featuring Byron and Horace Smith The Art Museums of Louis I. Kahn Patricia Cummings Loud, Louis I. Kahn, 1989 Exchanges between Literature and Science from the 1800s to the 2000s Márcia Lemos, 2017-03-07 This collection of essays responds to the intense interest that the relations between the discourses of literature and other cultural practices and those of science have obtained throughout various fields of study Spanning a period between the mid nineteenth century and the twenty first century the work collected here is firmly focused on the cultural significance of scientific discoveries and practices and especially on the manifold representations of science and scientists in literature and the arts Its four sections develop from an initial moment of dwindling indefiniteness of borders between literature and the sciences to the historical perception of an increasing divide between the two cultures to use C P Snow's influential expression as well as calls for a form of convergence or consilience in Edward Wilson's words The final section turns to the medical sciences a porous scientific discipline in relation to the humanities which suggests that consilience can already be found partially in specific areas As such this collection contributes towards critically extending that integration through the discussion of key literary representations of science its promises and its problems Museum Architecture Suzanne MacLeod, 2013-04-12 Recent decades have witnessed an explosion of museum building around the world and the subsequent publication of multiple texts dedicated to the subject Museum Architecture A new biography focuses on the stories we tell of museum buildings in order to explore the nature of museum architecture and the problems of architectural history when applied to the museum and gallery Starting from a discussion of the key issues in contemporary museum design the book explores the role of architectural history in the prioritisation of specific stories of museum building and museum architects and the exclusion of other actors from the history of museum making These omissions have contemporary relevance and impact directly on the ways in which the physical structures of museums are shaped Theoretically the book places a particular emphasis on the work of Pierre Bourdieu and Henri Lefebvre in order to establish an understanding of buildings as social relations the outcome of complex human interactions and relationships The book utilises a micro history an in depth case study of the National Gallery of the North the Walker Art Gallery in Liverpool to expose the myriad ways in which museum architecture is made Coupled with this detailed exploration is an emphasis on contemporary museum design which utilises the understanding of the social realities of museum making to explore ideas for a socially sustainable museum architecture fit for the twenty first century Modern Architecture and Design Bill Risebero,1983 British architect and planner Bill Risebero recreates 200 years of modern architecture and design against a backdrop of class dominance over rising industrialism The lively and opinionated text and more than 1 000 captioned drawings by the author provide a refreshing reinterpretation of architectural developments in the modern period Modern Architecture in Europe Dennis J. De Witt,Elizabeth R. De Witt,1987 Weather Architecture Jonathan Hill,2013-06-17 Weather Architecture further extends Jonathan Hill s investigation of authorship by recognising the creativity of the weather At a time when environmental awareness is of growing relevance the overriding aim is to understand a history of architecture as a history of weather and thus to consider the weather as an architectural author that affects design construction and use in a creative dialogue with other authors such as the architect and user Environmental discussions in architecture tend to focus on the practical or the poetic but here they are considered together Rather than investigate architecture s relations to the weather in isolation they are integrated into a wider discussion of cultural and social influences on architecture The analysis of weather s effects on the design and experience of specific buildings and gardens is interwoven with a historical survey of changing attitudes to the weather in the arts sciences and society leading to a critical re evaluation of contemporary responses to climate change The Collected Works of Gerard Manley Hopkins Gerard Manley Hopkins,2006 Gerard Manley Hopkins was not only one of the most gifted Victorian poets he was a compelling diarist who used his journals for everything from daily to do lists to the most intimate spiritual self assessments This volume represents Hopkins as a man of extremes both emotionally and psychologically There are mundane memoranda about neckties to purchase or letters to write but also exacting revisions of poems There are entries of quiet rapture his attentioncaught by the beauty of the natural world Paintings sculptures and works of literature are stringently assessed his aesthetic principles freely exercised There are also nightmares relived undergraduate sins unsparingly recorded signs of heavenly mercy carefully noted This is the first unexpurgated edition of all extant diaries The entries extend from September 1863 during his second term at Oxford until February 1875 while studying theology as a Jesuit in his beloved Wales and from February 1884 until July 1885 while Hopkins was living at a third remove in Dublin A Short History of British Architecture Simon Jenkins,2024-11-07 Provocative elegant intriguing Jenkins is a bold imaginative writer brilliant at challenging old assumptions and encouraging you to look at British architecture in a new light Rory Stewart The story of Britain is revealed through its buildings and yet the language of architecture is a mystery to all but a few In this enlightening history spanning castles and cathedrals to factories and railway stations Jenkins translates the hidden narratives infused in the facades we walk past every day Britain s history has been formed by its politics religion and society and these influences can be seen in the architectural styles that have shaped its landscape From pre Roman and the Middle Ages to the Renaissance and the Industrial Revolution Classical and Gothic styles surged and retreated from favour only to then be challenged by a new player Modernism a style that reflected the stunning technological advances of the second half of the twentieth century In this narrative history Simon Jenkins the bestselling champion of our national heritage introduces us to the singular eccentric and sometimes rather ordinary characters who shaped Britain Jenkins teaches readers to see the world anew demystifying the elitist language of architecture so that we can all appreciate the buildings around us
