Between Universality and Islamic Legitimacy Mahmoud Bassiouni, 2024 Historically the dynamics underlying contemporary Muslim human rights discourse and the related question of identity can be traced back to the second half of the nineteenth century Faced with European superiority and aware of their own need for reform Muslim intellectuals pondered how to explain the stagnation of Islamic societies and what initiatives were needed to bring about the desired progress Many Muslims were troubled not only by Europe's material superiority but also by the sense of inferiority they felt in the face of Europe's ideological defamation of Islamic societies Any person wrote the French philosopher Ernest Renan in 1883 with a modicum of instruction in the affairs of our time clearly sees the current inferiority of Muslim countries the decadence of the states governed by Islam the intellectual nonentity of the races that derive their culture and education solely from this religion Thus the idea of reform derived its impetus from an ideological challenge that saw the causes of Muslim stagnation as residing in Islam and identified the latter as inhibiting or even blocking the progress of Islamic societies Accordingly the crisis of the Muslim search for identity unfolded in response to the question of how to define oneself in relation to Europe and what role Islam should play in this regard In a broader sense Muslims were confronted with the basic questions of political philosophy What principles should we live by and where do we derive these principles from Can the principles of a modern society be derived from Islam Or is it necessary to refer to the ideas and institutions of Europe To what extent can we then still define ourselves as Muslims in relation to Europe In response to these questions three broad currents of thought can be identified 2 1 Trialogue of Identities Echoing the European position a secularist school of thought believed that Muslims by virtue of their religion were intellectually incapable of developing progressive thought in the European sense According to this view Islam was fundamentally incompatible with science and modern civilization Muslims should therefore accept European modernity as the ultimate frame of reference and assimilate to Europe as much as possible Politically this assimilationist stance became most prominent in Turkey In contrast a second much broader current of thought which might be called traditionalist argued that the plight of Muslims was due to colonization and oppression by the European West According to this view the stagnation of Islamic societies was caused by the exercise of European imperial power to which Muslims had fallen victim so that adopting European ideas would be tantamount to intellectual capitulation

Rather Muslims should seek and rediscover their strength in their own past The only way to express one's true identity according to this argument is to return to one's own tradition The Middle East Today Don Peretz, 1994-04-30 In this completely updated sixth edition Peretz offers a comprehensive introduction to the history politics and contemporary life of the Middle East This is the book for those who have little or no previous academic background to the region Since its initial publication in 1963 this definitive survey has been widely acclaimed and frequently used in history and political science classes As with previous editions this volume offers a basic understanding of the forces that shape life and politics in Israel Egypt Iran Iraq Lebanon Jordan Syria Turkey Saudi Arabia and the Gulf States and is up to date through the September 1993 Israeli P L O accords Church and State in Historical Perspective James E. Wood, 2005-05-30 The subject of church and state is one intimately associated with the history of Christianity and Western civilization However the subject is one that is by no means limited to any one religious tradition civilization or period of history Rather it is a subject that has historical and universal significance to all cultures and religious traditions throughout the world It is simply undeniable that religion has been and remains a powerful force in the making and shaping of cultures civilizations nations and empires For this reason this volume addresses the broader perspectives of religion and the state in the ancient world as well as in the biblical world of Judaism and Christianity and in other religious traditions than Christianity Attention is given to general works on church and state that treat the subject broadly not limited to any particular nation religious tradition or single aspect of church state relations Additionally there is material on major topics integrally related to church and state such as civil disobedience civil religion liberation theology patriotism and nationalism Finally sources are included on religion in international affairs and interfaith relations both necessarily linked to the subject of church and state as well as religion and the economic order religion and human rights and the effect of religion on war and peace Dynamism in the Urban Society of Damascus Toru Miura, 2015-11-16 This book presents a new perspective on Islamic urban society a dynamism of social networking and justice which caused both rapid development and sudden decay in the li iyya quarter Founded in the northern suburbs of Damascus by Hanbali ulama who migrated from Palestine to Syria in the mid 12th century the quarter developed into a city through waqf endowments It has attracted the attention of historians and travelers for its unique location popular movements and religious features Through the study of local chronicles topographies and archival sources and through modern field research Toru Miura explores the history of the li iyya quarter from its foundation to the early 20th century comparing it to European Chinese and Japanese cities Majd al-Dīn al-Fīrūzābādī (1329-1415) Vivian Strotmann, 2015-10-14 In Majd al-Dīn al-Fīrūzābādī 1329-1415 A Polymath on the Eve of the Early Modern Period Vivian Strotmann provides a detailed reconstruction of the famous lexicographer's and travelling scholar's life and works The author of the Qāmūs al-Muḥīṭ is widely known for his Arabic lexicon which overshadows the astounding breadth of his writing This polymathic aspect is elucidated through detailed reconstruction of al-Fīrūzābādī's corpus including examination of works that were considered lost and misapprehensions concerning ascriptions of authorship Through minute analysis of biographical sources the book shows al F r z b d s development as a scholar his central role in the defence of Ibn al Arab s teachings and thereby his importance as a powerful intellectual in Timurid times and for developments during the Early Modern Period

Islamization and Archaeology José C. Carvajal López, 2023-05-04 This fresh approach to the study of Islamization proposes an innovative conceptual framework that treats the subject as a particular case of cultural change The aim of the volume is to make Islamization amenable to archaeological and historical analyses of changes in material conditions of life without forsaking the specific history of Islam Islam and Islamization must be understood in their particular social context but also in relation to the conditions that hold them together over large geographical and chronological expanses Archaeologists and historians have considered Islamization from a range of different perspectives from conversion to cultural change though these studies have tended to be underpinned by a normativist conception of Islam In contrast Jos C Carvajal L pez takes a hermeneutical stance wherein Islam is the result of exploration and adopts a New Materialist theoretical analysis to explore Islamization and its impact on identities communities and their material culture The consequences for the study of Islamization are examined through examples that include some of the author s own experiences This innovative take on Islamization is not exclusively interested in the spread of the religion or of the polity and therefore it overcomes the theoretical limits imposed by the concepts of religious conversion and ideological imposition This book will appeal to scholars interested in associating cultural and religious change and in particular those working on Islam whether within or outside the discipline of archaeology
