Subject To Negotiation Reading Feminist:

Subject to Negotiation Elaine Neil Orr,1997 Challenges the subversive model of feminist criticism and argues for the importance of negotiation for feminist practice within a plurality of critical positions and identities presenting an empirical method for a negotiating feminist criticism and demonstrating the model with analysis of the writing of five American women authors Edith Wharton Zora Neale Hurston Eudora Welty Toni Morrison and Marge Piercy For scholars of feminist literary theory and 20th century American literature Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Skeptical

Feminism Carolyn Dever,2004 In this major work Carolyn Dever considers the ambivalence or outright hostility many feminists feel toward theory arguing that a fundamental skepticism toward abstraction has been vital to the development of the movement Dever analyzes the politics of feminist theory by looking at its popular activist and academic modes from the liberation movements of the 1970s to gender and queer studies now Using key moments in the history of modern feminism consciousness raising best selling books like Sexual Politics by Kate Millett and The Women s Room by Marilyn French and media representations of women s struggle for equality Dever outlines heated debates over psychoanalysis sexuality and activism The abstract and the grounded converge in discussions about the relationship between the feminist mind and the feminist body and in the preoccupation both uneasy and utopian with lesbian sexuality Powerful illuminating and galvanizing Skeptical Feminism traces the strategies the women s movement has used to make theory matter and points toward a new politically engaged approach to feminist thought A clarion call for a new approach to feminist thought Maternal Body and Voice in Toni Morrison, Bobbie Ann Mason, and Lee Smith Paula Gallant Eckard,2002 Feminist Critical Negotiations Alice Parker,Elizabeth A. Meese,1992 This volume is a collection of original contributions in the field of feminist critical theory which reflect upon past practices and suggest new strategies and directions for future work The articles are presented in two non exclusive interactive sections Theorizing Feminist Criticism and The Feminist Writing Subject They offer different points of entry into the familiar debates that have dominated feminist literary criticism for over a decade The contributions stage negotiations with literary critical and feminist theory which are productive of different perspectives and new strategies for reading and writing Negotiating Feminisms Eilidh AB Hall,2021-03-04 Negotiating Feminisms examines intergenerational feminism in Chicana family life It analyses literary representations of the ways that Chicanas negotiate feminisms in the family across generations through the maintenance contestation and adaptation of traditional gender roles Using an original theoretical lens of negotiation to read the works of Ana Castillo and Sandra Cisneros this book unpacks intergenerational resistance to patriarchal oppression This book shows how the works of Cisneros and Castillo articulate a politics of negotiation that critiques the gendered ideologies and roles of the family In doing so the book s discussion not only engages with literary representations but also connects these representations to the contextual experience of Chicana family life This book calls for a rethinking of women characters beyond limited and limiting familial roles and uses the framework of feminist negotiation as a means to explore the empowering possibilities of intergenerational female relationships

Tillie Olsen and a Feminist Spiritual Vision Elaine Neil Orr, 1987 Tillie Olsen's work resonates with the promises and difficulties of mothering and with the immense holiness revealed in every child. Regarding her vision of women's lives and dreams, Olsen's working class background, political activism, and mothering have lent her a different perspective from most American writers, even other women writers and feminist critics.

The Critical Reception of Edith Wharton Helen Killoran, 2001 Ironically now that she is becoming recognized as a Modernist by some and as perhaps the greatest American writer of her generation, the criticism often obfuscates more than it reveals. The reasons reside in critics' loyalties to various theoretical approaches, the objectivity of which are often compromised by political hopes. This volume not only traces and analyzes the development of Whartonian literary criticism in its historical and political contexts but also allows Edith Wharton herself, a literary critic, to respond to various concepts through the author's deductions and extrapolations from Wharton's own words.

Women on the Edge Corinne H. Dale, 2018-10-24 This collection of essays explores the intertwining social conditions of ethnicity and gender as they are represented in short stories by contemporary American women. The introduction to the collection explains the theoretical understanding of gender and ethnicity as social constructions that provide a context for individual experience. The collection brings together analyses of short stories that focus on major ethnic cultures in the United States: Mexican American, Puerto Rican, Japanese American, Asian American, African American, Jewish American, white Protestant American, and Native American. Each essay testifies to the struggles of women within patriarchal cultures in America and each explores how different ethnic identities set the terms of these gender struggles. The essays also reveal the complications of other important social issues such as class, sexual preference, and religion. Individually, each essay contributes a significant new analysis of a short story or collection by an important contemporary American writer. Together, the essays indicate the complexity and significance of this cultural approach to women's fiction; demonstrate the critical theories that are currently developing in the fields of gender and ethnic studies; and suggest that neither ethnicity nor gender can legitimately be considered alone.

A Quest of Her Own Lori M. Campbell, 2014-06-24 This collection of new essays seeks to define the unique qualities of female heroism in literary fantasy from Tolkien's The Lord of the Rings in the 1950s through the present. Building upon traditional definitions of the hero in myth and folklore as the root genres of modern fantasy, the essays provide a multi-faceted view of an important fantasy character type who begins to demonstrate a significant presence only in the latter 20th century. The essays contribute to the empowerment and development of the female hero as an archetype in her own right.

Fantasies of Gender and the Witch in Feminist Theory and Literature Justyna Sempruch, 2008-03-01 In Fantasies of Gender and the Witch in Feminist Theory and Literature, Justyna Sempruch analyzes contemporary representations of the witch as a locus for the cultural negotiation of genders. Sempruch revisits some of the most prominent traits in past and current perceptions in feminist scholarship of exclusion and difference She examines a selection of twentieth century US American Canadian and European narratives to reveal the continued political relevance of metaphors sustained in the archetype of the witch widely thought to belong to pop cultural or folkloristic formulations of the past Through a critical rereading of the feminist texts engaging with these metaphors Sempruch develops a new concept of the witch one that challenges traditional gender biased theories linking it either to a malevolent hag on the margins of culture or to unrestrained feminine sexual desire Sempruch turns instead to the causes for radical feminist critique of feminine sexuality as a fabrication of logocentric thinking and shows that the problematic conversion of the hag into a superwoman can be interpreted today as a therapeutic performance translating fixed identity into a site of continuous negotiation of the subject in process Tracing the development of feminist constructs of the witch from 1970s radical texts to the present Sempruch explores the early psychoanalytical writings of Cixous Kristeva and Irigaray and feminist reformulations of identity by Butler and Braidotti with fictional texts from different political and cultural contexts

The Literary Mother Susan C. Staub, 2007-06-13 The essays in this book examine the ideology of motherhood in British and American literature from the 16th to the 21st centuries This book looks at the institution of motherhood that is at various cultural interpretations and manipulations of maternity Presenting mothers whose roles are often empowering yet confining these essays scrutinize three distinct aspects of motherhood its social and cultural construction the significance of maternal absence and finally its representation as an agent of social change Literary works examined include William Shakespeare's Venus and Adonis Daniel Defoe's Roxana John Steinbeck's The Grapes of Wrath Faulkner's The Sound and the Fury Charles Dickens' Dombey and Son Harriet Jacobs' Incidents in the Life of a Slave Girl Dorothy Leigh's The Mother's Blessing and W S Penn's Killing Time with Strangers among others

Life/Lines Bella Brodzki, Celeste Schenck, 2019-05-15 Autobiography raises a vital issue in feminist critical theory today the imperative need to situate the female subject Life Lines a collection of essays on women's autobiography attempts to meet this need African Women Writers and the Politics of Gender Sadia Zulfiqar, 2016-09-23 This work examines the work of a group of African women writers who have emerged over the last forty years While figures such as Chinua Achebe Ben Okri and Wole Soyinka are likely to be the chief focus of discussions of African writing female authors have been at the forefront of fictional interrogations of identity formation and history In the work of authors such as Mariama B Senegal Buchi Emecheta Nigeria Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie Nigeria Tsitsi Dangarembga Zimbabwe and Leila Aboulela Sudan there is a clear attempt to subvert the tradition of male writing where the female characters are often relegated to the margins of the culture and confined to the domestic private sphere This body of work has already generated a significant number of critical responses including readings that draw on gender politics and colonialism but it is still very much a minor literature and most mainstream western feminism has not sufficiently processed it The purpose of this book is three fold First it draws together some of the most important and influential African women writers of the post war period and looks at their work separately and together in terms of a series of themes and issues including marriage family polygamy religion childhood and education Second it demonstrates how African literature produced by women writers is explicitly and polemically engaged with urgent political issues that have both local and global resonance the veil Islamophobia and a distinctively African brand of feminist critique Third it revisits Fredric Jameson s claim that all third world texts are national allegories and considers these novels by African women in relation to Jameson s claim arguing that their work has complicated Jameson s assumptions

Essentially Speaking Diana Fuss, 2013-01-11 In this brief and powerful book Diana Fuss takes on the debate of pure essence versus social construct engaging with the work of Luce Irigaray and Monique Wittig Henry Louis Gates Jr and Houston Baker and with the politics of gay identity Continental Feminism Reader Ann J. Cahill, Jennifer Hansen, 2004-09-01 In an era of backlash and supposed stagnation feminist philosophers are still providing fresh and challenging perspectives you just have to know where to look Continental feminist theory continues to address pressing questions of equality and difference identity and subjectivity Modern thinkers like Judith Butler Kelly Oliver and Drucilla Cornell give strikingly new perspectives on sex gender sexual politics and the various social reasons for gender inequality Yet their theories are not always well received Continental Feminism Reader responds to the marginalization of these thinkers and others like them In this volume Ann J Cahill and Jennifer Hansen collect the most groundbreaking recent work in Continental Feminist Theory introducing and explaining pieces that are often mystifying to those outside the field and outside academia With these essays Continental Feminism Reader begins the process of reanimating feminist politics through the critical tools of its contributors The Womanist Reader Layli Phillips, 2006 Comprehensive in its coverage The Womanist Reader is the first volume to anthologize the major works of womanist scholarship Charting the course of womanist theory from its genesis as Alice Walker s African American feminism through Chikwenye Okonjo Ogunyemi s African womanism and Clenora Hudson Weems Africana womanism to its present day expression as a global anti oppressionist perspective rooted in the praxis of everyday women of color this interdisciplinary reader traces the rich and diverse history of a quarter century of womanist thought Featuring selections from over a dozen disciplines by top womanist scholars from around the world plus several critiques of womanism an extensive bibliography of womanist sources and the first ever systematic treatment of womanist thought on its own terms Layli Phillips has assembled a unique and groundbreaking compilation Women's Studies Index ,1999 Feminist Auteurs Geetha Ramanathan,2006 Feminist Auteurs examines a rich and diverse body of work that has received insufficient attention both in film studies and in feminist theory on film Looking at individual films within the context of feminist film as a genre Ramanathan examines film from diverse cultural traditions while paying close attention to what might be regarded as feminist in different cultural contexts The films chosen expand our ideas of feminism covering as they do film from Africa Latin America Europe Asia and the US Full length interpretations of twenty four films both older and contemporary including Vagabond India Song Bhaji on the Beach Chocolat and Daughters of the Dust lay out a complete and powerful framework for reading women s film
