

Learning Intentions and Success Criteria

When children understand what they are learning and what is expected of them, they learn best.

The terms 'Learning Intentions' and 'Success Criteria' can be intimidating and confusing but understanding them is vitally important when working in an Early Learning and Childcare setting. Learning intentions and success criteria will help your children understand both what they are learning and how to succeed.

They need both learning intentions and success criteria to develop, consolidate and achieve new knowledge. This guide will help you understand how to create learning intentions and success criteria in order to support your children and maintain best practice.

Learning Intentions

Sometimes known as learning objectives, aims, learning outcomes, goals, 'we are learning to...' statements etc.

Learning intentions should describe what you would like children to learn, not what they should be able to do.

Learning intentions help children focus on the aim of the learning experience, keep the activities relevant to the theme and support their understanding. They are not about what they are doing but what they are learning.

When writing learning intentions, you should use a language that focuses on what you would like the children to know, understand or be able to do.

When writing your learning intentions, ensure that they are written in language that your child can understand.

Learning intentions are about the what,
