Technology Competitiveness And Radical Policy Change The Case Of Brazil:

Technology, Competitiveness and Radical Policy Change Jörg Meyer-Stamer, 2005-07-22 This volume investigates the limited effectiveness of technology policy in the inward oriented industrialization model of the past It looks at the political structures that compromise the transition to the development model and the restructuring effort within Brazilian industrial firms

Third World Multinationals F. Beausang, 2003-07-25 This book evaluates the contribution of third world multinational enterprises to the competitiveness of their home and host countries in the context of Brazilian and Chilean MNE s Third world MNE s can be important agents of growth a fact that until now has been largely ignored in the literature This book fills the gap in the literature by looking at third world MNE s ability to innovate and examining the potential for their innovations to be diffused to other home country firms and thereby improve their home country s competitiveness

Leading Issues in Competition, Regulation, and Development Paul Cook, 2004-01-01 The promotion of liberalized and deregulated markets by bilateral and multilateral aid donors and by global institutions such as the WTO has led to significant attention being paid to competition and regulatory reforms in developing economies The process of reform involves the transfer and diffusion of market models derived from practice and theory in developed countries However in developing countries regulation needs to do more than simply promote competitiveness and consumer interests it also needs to ensure that the market nurtures development By rigorously examining the numerous impacts of regulation this book will help to fill a significant gap in the literature on economic and social development The book now available in paperback draws together contributions from leading experts across a range of disciplines including economics law politics and governance public management and business management The authors begin with an extensive overview of the issues of regulation and competition in developing countries and carefully illustrate the important themes and concepts involved Using a variety of country and sector case studies they move on to focus on the problems of applicability and adaptation that are experienced in the process of transferring best practice policy models from developed to developing countries The book presents a clear agenda for further empirical research and is notable for its rigorous exploration of the links between theory and practice Although there is substantial interest in competition and regulation as yet there has been relatively little investigation of these issues in developing economies This book redresses the balance and will be a valuable resource for researchers academics teachers and students interested in development economics and development studies It will also be of great relevance for practitioners and policymakers working in the fields of competition policy and regulatory reform

Innovative Firms in Emerging Market Countries Edmund Amann, John Cantwell, 2012-07-05 Based on evidence from Asia and Latin America this book explores the role of innovative firms in emerging markets and their contributor to growth development and knowledge transfer

Encyclopedia of Nanoscience and Society David H. Guston, 2010-07-14 Labeled either as the next industrial revolution or as just hype nanoscience and nanotechnologies are controversial touted by some as the likely engines of spectacular transformation of human societies and even human bodies and by others as conceptually flawed. These challenges make an encyclopedia of nanoscience and society an absolute necessity. Providing a guide to what these understandings and challenges are about, the Encyclopedia of Nanoscience and Society offers accessible descriptions of some of the key technical achievements of nanoscience along with its history and prospects. Rather than a technical primer, this encyclopedia instead focuses on the efforts of governments around the world to fund nanoscience research and to tap its potential for economic development as well as to assess how best to regulate a new technology for the environmental, occupational and consumer health and safety issues related to the field. Contributions examine and analyze the cultural significance of nanoscience and nanotechnologies and describe some of the organizations and their products that promise to make nanotechnologies a critical part of the global economy. Written by noted scholars and practitioners from around the globe, these two volumes offer nearly 500 entries describing the societal aspects of nanoscience and nanotechnology. Key Themes: Art Design and Materials; Bionanotechnology; Centers; Context; Economics and Business; Engagement and the Public Environment and Risk; Ethics and Values; Geographies and Distribution; History and Philosophy; Integration and Interdisciplinarity; Nanotechnology Companies; Nanotechnology Organizations. Local Economies in Turmoil Arni Sverrisson, Meine Pieter Van Dijk, 2000-07-14. The main theme is how local economic cultures and economic networks in the South and in Eastern Europe are put under strain by global deregulation and how traditional and not so traditional but locally rooted structures of economic life adjust to deregulation or fail to do so. All the contributions written by different authors combine a flexible specialization in clusters approach with original empirical data. An Introduction and a concluding chapter by the editors brings out the common issues and conclusions. Globalization, Development and The State Jørgen Dige Pedersen, 2008-08-01. In its comparison of two major emerging nations, India and Brazil, this book approaches the subject through an innovative theoretical combination of developmental states theory and theories of the changing nature of global capitalism. The Politics of the Internet in Third World Development Bert Hoffmann, 2004-10-01. This book examines the political and developmental implications of the new information and communication technologies (ICT) in the Third World. Whereas the concept of the digital divide tends to focus on technological and quantitative indicators, this work stresses the crucial role played by the political regime type, the pursued development model and the specific configuration of actors and decision making dynamics. Two starkly contrasting Third World countries, state socialist Cuba and the Latin America showcase democracy Costa Rica, were chosen for two in-depth empirical country studies. Overexploitation or Sustainable Management? Action Patterns of the Tropical Timber Industry Imme Scholz, 2018-10-24. The part played by the Brazilian tropical timber industry in deforesting the Amazon region has not been studied very much. This book describes the expansion of the timber industry in the Brazilian federal state of Pará since the 1960s when Amazon development became an important item on the government's agenda. International Investment Arbitration Mohamed

A.M. Ismail, 2016-04-22 Arbitration is the most common mechanism for disputes settlement in developing countries Following the move to free market economies arbitration will play an increasingly fundamental role in order to protect foreign investors in the Middle East and North African Region MENA This book examines the pulse and dynamics of international investment arbitration and the new era of mediation in state contracts in the region The author explores the harmonization of international arbitration and the sensitive issue of le Contrat Administratif in Middle East civil law countries The volume also discusses the pivotal role of international organizations such as UNCTAD and ICSID in codifying fair and prompt mechanisms for dispute settlement Using Latin American countries as a prime example of how international legislative instruments serve international investment law principles and comparing Latin American experiences where appropriate the book demonstrates how lessons can be learned in respect of alternative dispute resolution international commercial arbitration and investor states arbitration It provides suggestions and recommendations for the future and includes useful appendices detailing recent worldwide trends regional and international instruments in the arbitration world Globalization and New International Public Works Agreements in Developing Countries Mohamed A.M. Ismail, 2016-04-22 This book scrutinizes the new legal nature and stipulations of International Public Works Agreements and provides an in depth analysis of new forms of infrastructure agreements which have been created in developing countries such as PPPs The volume also examines the direct impact of the new legal environment upon infrastructure transactions such as dispute resolutions and ADR mechanisms in particular arbitration It provides an analytical perspective on international public works agreements in developing states in the light of ICC rules of arbitration and FIDIC forms of contracts As globalization significantly influences le contrat administratif in civil law legal culture this book examines the legal cultures of civil and common law from a comparative perspective The author argues that harmonization and integration of the two cultures in infrastructure agreements are the way forward The book will be a fundamental guide for researchers and academics working in this area as well as judges lawyers and international arbitrators in both common law jurisdictions and civil law legal systems

Competitiveness and Development Mehdi Shafaeddin, 2012-09-15 In Competitiveness and Development the author explains the confusion surrounding the concept of competitiveness in the context of developing countries proposes policies for achieving competitiveness at a high level of development examines its possibilities and constraints and suggests policy changes necessary at the national and international levels Shafaeddin illustrates how developed countries impose restrictive policies on developing countries through international financial institutions and the WTO as well as regional and bilateral agreements which limit their policy space for promoting dynamic comparative advantage in order to achieve competitiveness at a high level of development Ultimately such policies lock developing countries that are at early stages of development in specialization based on static comparative advantage and competitiveness at a low level of development Bibliographie
