Technology Gatekeepers for War and Peace M. Matsumoto, 2006-03-15 The technological revolution in shipbuilding in the early twentieth century had a great impact on the military industrial commercial worlds Matsumoto focuses on the relationship between this revolution and the structure and function of technology gatekeepers during the transfer of marine science and technology from Britain to Japan

Technology Gatekeepers for War and Peace Janet Hunter, 2007 Science, Technology, and Medicine in the Modern Japanese Empire David G. Wittner, Philip C Brown, 2016-03-22 Science technology and medicine all contributed to the emerging modern Japanese empire and conditioned key elements of post war development As the only emerging non Western country that was a colonial power in its own right Japan utilized these fields not only to define itself as racially different from other Asian countries and thus justify its imperialist activities but also to position itself within the civilized and enlightened world with the advantages of modern science technologies and medicine This book explores the ways in which scientists engineers and physicians worked directly and indirectly to support the creation of a new Japanese empire focussing on the eve of World War I and linking their efforts to later post war developments By claiming status as a modern internationally engaged country the Japanese government was faced with having to control pathogens that might otherwise not have threatened the nation Through the use of traditional and innovative techniques this volume shows how the government was able to fulfil the state s responsibility to protect society to varying degrees Chapter 14 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license

British Engagement with Japan, 1854-1922 Antony Best, 2020-11-26 This book by a leading authority on Anglo Japanese relations reconsiders the circumstances which led to the unlikely alliance of 1902 to 1922 between Britain the leading world power of the day and Japan an Asian non European nation which had only recently emerged from self imposed isolation Based on extensive original research the book goes beyond existing accounts which concentrate on high politics strategy and simple assertions about the two countries similarities as island empires It brings into the picture cultural factors particularly the ways in which Japan was portrayed in Britain and ambivalent British attitudes to race and supposed European superiority which were overcome but remained difficulties It charts how the relationship developed as events unfolded including Japan s wars against China and Russia and in addition looks at royal diplomacy where the Japanese Court came eventually to be treated as a respected equal Overall the book provides a major reassessment of this important subject

The End of the British Mandate for Palestine, 1948 Motti Golani, 2009-08-21 Henry Gurney was the last Chief Secretary of the Mandate Government of Palestine From mid March to mid May 1948 at his HQ in Jerusalem s King David Hotel he wrote his diary under fire from Jews and Arabs alike with both groups taking aim at the British Administration as the Mandate drew to a close and the country spiralled into violence

Crossing the Bar Anthony Slaven, Hugh Murphy, 2017-10-18 This book is a collection of sixty interviews with key figures in British shipbuilding ship repair and marine engine building industries across the United Kingdom plus government and civil service members in the sector from the 1960s to the 1980s The aim of the project is to understand the economic social and political environment of the shipping industry from the perspective of those who worked in it The interviews place the twentieth century decline of British shipbuilding into a firm context The topics covered include international competition a recurring pertinent theme labour difficulties industry modernisation the attitude of shipowners the strong belief in traditional methods which kept many of those in the industry from recognising the cheaper faster and better quality work taking place overseas and leaving Britain behind ship production and production control the postwar boom shipyard overcrowding the decline of the domestic industry in favour of the international marketing weaknesses trade disputes and trade unions and nationalisation and privatisation concerns Opinions and viewpoints often conflict particularly between the perspectives of those working within the industry and the civil servants working outside of it but the interviews are presented as a unit and the reader is encouraged to draw their own conclusion The result is a unique historical archive that offers a multitude of firsthand perspectives on the British shipping decline open to interpretation by historians and future researchers It includes a preface introduction and select bibliography The interviews are grouped together by location and role

The Price of Victory N A M Rodger, 2024-10-24 The final instalment of N A M Rodger's definitive authoritative trilogy on Britain's naval history At the end of the French and Napoleonic wars British sea power was at its apogee But by 1840 as one contemporary commentator put it the Admiralty was full of intellectuals becalmed in the smoke of Trafalgar How the Royal Navy reformed and reinvigorated itself in the course of the nineteenth century is just one thread in this magnificent book which refuses to accept standard assumptions and analyses All the great actions are here from Navarino in 1827 won by a daringly disobedient Admiral Codrington to Jutland D Day the Battle of the Atlantic and the battles in the Pacific in 1944-45 in concert with the US Navy The development and strategic significance of submarine and navy air forces is superbly described as are the rapid evolution of ships from classic Nelsonic type to hybrid steam sail ships then armour clad and the fully armoured Dreadnoughts and beyond and weapons The social history of officers and men and sometimes women always a key part of the author's work is not neglected Rodger sets all this in the essential context of politics and geo strategy The character and importance of leading admirals Beatty Fisher Cunningham is assessed together with the roles of other less famous but no less consequential figures Based on a lifetime's learning it is the culmination of one of the most significant British historical works in recent decades Naval specialists will find much that is new here and will be invigorated by the originality of Rodger's judgements but everyone who is interested in the one of the central threads in British history will find it rewarding

The Dreadnought and the Edwardian Age Andrew Lambert, 2016-12-05 HMS Dreadnought 1906 is closely associated with the age of empire the Anglo German antagonism and the naval arms race before the First World War Yet it was also linked with a range of other contexts political and cultural national and international that were central to the Edwardian period The chapters in this volume investigate these contexts and their intersection in this symbolically charged icon of the Edwardian age In reassessing the most famous warship of the period this collection not only considers the strategic and operational impact of this all big gun battleship but also explores the many meanings Dreadnought had in politics and culture including national and imperial sentiment gender relations and concepts of masculinity public spectacle and images of technology and ideas about modernity and decline The volume brings together historians from different backgrounds working on naval and technological history politics and international relations as well as culture and gender This diverse approach to the subject ensures that the book offers a timely revision of the Dreadnought and the Edwardian Age      Political Leadership and the Northern Ireland Peace Process C.

Gormley-Heenan,2006-11-14 By providing a critical interpretation of political leadership during the Northern Ireland peace process Gormley Heenan shows the leadership lens offers insights not offered by conventional analyses of peacemaking processes The book discusses the confusions contradictions and chameleonic nature of leadership and its role capacity and effect      Family Life and Individual Welfare in Post-war Europe S. Bernini,2007-11-13 Taking Britain and Italy as comparative cases the author explores the extent to which dominant notions of family life differed in postwar Britain and Italy and the implications this had on the development of family policy in these two countries      Russia as an Aspiring Great Power in East Asia P. Rangsimaporn,2009-08-27 Rangsimaporn argues that Russia aspires to become a great power and tries to achieve this through utilizing its position as a Eurasian country with vast territories in East Asia its economic assets primarily arms and energy and careful management of its role in a multipolar East Asia with a complex balance of power

Turkey's Engagement with Modernity C. Kerslake,K. Öktem,P. Robins,2010-02-25 Turkey's Engagement with Modernity explores how the country has been shaped in the image of the Kemalist project of nationalist modernity and how it has transformed if erratically into a democratic society where tensions between religion state and society continue unabated

Constructing South East Europe Dimitar Bechev,2011-03-15 Regional cooperation has become a distinctive feature of the Balkans an area known for its turbulent politics Exploring the origins and dynamics of this change this book highlights the transformative power of the EU and other international actors      Institutions, Ideas and Leadership in Russian Politics

Julie Newton,William Tompson,2010-06-23 A stimulating and thought provoking collection that challenges some of the emerging conventional wisdom about contemporary Russia It examines the role of leadership institutions and ideas and the interactions among them in shaping Russia's post Soviet transformation      Russian Politics from Lenin to Putin S.

Fortescue,2010-05-13 Seven leading specialists present chapters devoted to key themes in Soviet and post Soviet Russian politics Those themes include the personal versus the institutional in the political process legitimacy and legitimation and change and collapse of a mono organisational society While the book focuses on these major themes individual chapters deal with wide ranging and even unusual cases Graeme Gill analyzes the legitimating functions of Moscow's architecture Sheila

Fitzpatrick uses the archives to draw a picture of Stalin the boss dealing with his closest colleagues Eugene Huskey provides a detailed description of post Soviet Russian pantouflage and Archie Brown and Peter Reddaway present their different takes on Gorbachev and the Soviet collapse Stephen Fortescue provides an overview of policy making processes from Lenin and Putin and Leslie Holmes updates the concept of goal rational legitimacy

Refugees, the State and the Politics of Asylum in Africa J. Milner, 2009-11-06 How do African states respond to the mass arrival and prolonged presence of refugees This book answers this question by drawing on recent case studies and examining the politics behind refugee policy in Africa The implications of this approach are important not only for the study of asylum in Africa but also for the future of refugee protection

Effective Multilateralism Jochen Prantl, 2013-11-06 Existing theories of cooperation assume a stable geo political order led by countries with a shared conception of the modalities of cooperation These assumptions are no longer justified Effective Multilateralism makes the case for a new approach to explaining international cooperation through the lens of East Asian

Meta-Geopolitics of Outer Space N. Al-Rodhan, 2012-05-11 Al Rodhan sheds new light on the debate about the geopolitics of outer space going beyond applying traditional International Relations approaches to space power and security by introducing a multidimensional spatial framework The meta geopolitics framework includes space and expands classical power considerations to cover seven state capacities
